DIVORCED FOR LOVE

Seattle Woman Saves Husband From Penitentiary.

HE MUST MARRY AT ONCE

Bride of 14 Days Finds There Is Another Claimant on Robert E. J. Collins, and So She Sacrifices Herself.

SEATTLE, July 28.—(Special.)—To save her husband of two weeks from being compelied to serve a penitentiary term for seducing 18-year-old Lottle Conrad, Margaret L. Collins, nes Hopmann, this morning secured a divorce from Robert E. J. Collins so as to permit him to marry the woman for whose ruination he is now in Jall. To help out the 14-day bride in her effort to save Collins from a felon's fate, the Prosecuting Attorney's office will act in collusion with the prisoner in a violation of the court's decree, made this morning, that neither party to the divorce can contract a marriage within six months.

The Prosecuting Attorney's office is willing that Collins, in charge of a deposit of the court of the court.

Lottle Conrad is willing to marry the cast-off husband of Margaret L. Collins, and the man, now in a cell in the county jell, is willing to marry her. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John F. Miller, who has charge of the case, is racking his brain this afternoon for some cer-tain method by which Collins can be made to validate the terms of the diorce decree. All that prevented Collins being sent forth to a second marriage this morning was the fear that when he left the confines of the state he might laugh at the officers of the law and refuse to marry the Conrad girl.

He cannot furnish bonds, and the only He cannot furnish bonds, and the only solution that now remains is for a deputy Sheriff to escort him. If he refuses to marry then, he can be extradited for seduction; the deputy Sheriff keeping watch of him in the meantime.

July 15 Judge Griffin married Margaret L. Hopmann to Robert E. J. Collins. Ten days after the wedding Lottle Control of the C rad appeared before Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Miller and asked for a war-rant for Collins on the ground of se-duction. It was issued, and he was taken from his newly wedded bride and placed in the county jail.

Collins' wife deciares that despite his faults she loves him, and that she consented to a divorce only to save him from incarceration in the penitentiary. The woman whom he will marry to escape imprisonment admits that she has no love or respect for him, but simply wishes to give the child yet unborn the right to the name of Collins. The man that will escape a convict's garb through the divorce and the second marriage does not concest the fact that there is no love between him and the Conrad girl. The divorce this morning was a bit-ter experience for the bride of two weeks. She went through it only to save Col-lins. The divorce was obtained before Judge Gilliam upon the ground of fraud. The wife testified to the truthfulness of the allegation in the complaint that Col-lins had kept from her the fact of his relationship with Lottle Conrad. His rea-

Disobeyed Orders in Running a Logging Train on Coal Creek.

KELSO, Wash., July 29.—(Special.)— Charles Black, conductor on one of the trains on the Coal Creek Ratiroad Comtrains on the Coal Creek Railroad Com-pany, lost his left leg in a collision this morning near the log roll of Rue & Clydes, on Coal Creek. Train No. 1, with engine and four cars, had proceeded from a switch-at the top of a steep winding grade of several hundred feet long, leav-ing orders for train No. 2, in charge of Black, to wait on the siding until No. 1 train returned.

Orders were not heeded and Black cut off the engine from the two cars of his train, loaded with large logs, and started down the grade, meeting the other train coming up, which Black apparently did not discover until too late to jump, and was caught between the logs of the two cars and his left leg was fairly mashed and torn from his body at the thigh. He was sent to Portland, but his recovery is Mediums' Influence Invoked.

BELLINGHAM, Wash, July 28.—A sen-sation was created here today when let-ters were opened in court, alleged to have been written by Hugh Eddidge, prominent collitician, office-boider and son of the iate pioneer, Edward Eidridge, addressed to spiritualist mediums in San Francisco and invoking their aid in influencing the late Erastus Bartlett, of Oakland, to validate a deed to valuable property in this city to Eidridge and his mother.

The letters were introduced by the prosecution in a suit brought by the Bartlett heirs against Eidridge, charging fraud in employing the mediums to take advantage of Bartlett's belief in spiritualism. The correspondence autributed to Eidridge gives directions as to how to play upon Eartlett's friendship for the late Edward Eidridge, father of the alleged writer, who wished to have the property retained by Mrs. Teresa Eidridge, the mediums were supposed to transmit from the spirit of the dead.

EDWIN SWITZLER THEN LEAVES TOWN IN AUTOMOBILE.

Complaint Has Been Filed by District Attorney Against Prominent Pendleton Young Man.

PENDLETON, Or., July 29 .- (Special) -Edwin Switzler, a well-to-do young man of this city, this morning pulled his wife out of bed and beat her shamefully. The wife sought refuge on the street, but Switzler followed her up and began to best her and pull her hair out, Neighbors finally came to the rescue of the woman and Switzler narrowly escaped being mobbed. The husband had been drinking the past three days.

This afternoon complaint was filed by the District Attorney against Switzler for wife-heating and the case was set for Monday morning. Switzler had been in hiding all day, and when he learned of the Disirict Attorney's action he se-cured an automobile tonight and made

Miss E. W. Christian.

EUGENE, Or., July 29.—(Special.)—Miss Etha W. Christian, aged 36, died this morning at the home of her brother, J. W. Christian, after a long period of suffering. She was born in Mount Carroli, lil., in 1849, and came across the plains with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Christian, in 1852. At the age of 15 she suffered from a severe illness, which left her lower limbs paralyzed, and from that time until her death she was never able to walk. She looked on the bright side of life, however, and had hosts of friends who admired her for her cheerful disposition and constant efforts to make life pleasant for those around her.

Boy Drowned at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., July 29.—(Special.)—Gar-ner Kesler, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kesler, of this city, was accidentally drowned about 4 o'clock. The boy, with a younger brother and one of his playmates, had been bathing in the river off the old Trullinger wharf. Garner was standing on the wharf, when a plank broke, letting him fall into the river. It is supposed be struck something in failing, as he sank immediately. The body was recovered about half an hour later.

ONE TITLE IS IN DISPUTE

American Princess Whose Marriage Nearly Led to Duel.

NEW YORK, July B.—The Prince and Princess Henry Galard de Bearn et de Chalais arrived here today on the steamer La Touraine. The Prince is secretary of the French Embassy to Russia and the Princess was Mies Beatrice Winans, daughter of Ross Winans, of Baltimore.

This is the first visit made by the Princess to her native land since her marriage, which was preceded by a series of sensational incidents browing out of a dispute as to the validity of the Prince's title. The engagement of the Prince to Miss Winans had been announced, but just before the time set for the marriage in June of this year the Prince de Bearn et de Chalais was almost drawn into a duel with the Prince de Sagan. The latter objected to the use at the wedding of the second haif of the Prince de Bearn's title, claiming that this title belonged to himself.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, held on June M, and the threats were dropped. The former Miss Winans, however, never uses the title Princess de Chalais.
