Many Corporations Otherwise Cannot Do Business.

MONDAY IS THE LAST DAY

Fully a Fourth of the Companies Doing Business in Oregon, Including Some Large Ones, Owe the State Money.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 12 - (Special.) - According to the strict interpretation of the corporation tax law, several hundred corporations will find their corpo-rate powers suspended next Tuesday unless they pay their annual Boense fees by that time. Only about inree-fourths of the companies doing busitouring of the companies done basis mess in this state have paid their tax this year, and the last day of the time specified for payment will be Monday, August 14. It is possible that all will pay before that time but not very probable. A number of important corpora-tions are among those that have not yet paid. Section 5 of the corporation tax law requires that the Secretary of State file requires that the Secretary of State hie with the State Treasurer on or before July 15, a statement of the amount of license fors due from each corporation. "Within 30 days thereafter every such corporation shall pay or cause to be paid, to the State Treasurer the license fee hereinbefore mentioned." Failure of any corporation to make its annual encore or nas its annual fee for 20 days report or pay its annual fee for 20 days after the time specified renders the corporation liable to a fine of $100.

Section 9 of the law provides that "no lomestic corporation, and no foreign corporation, joint stock company or association, which shall have failed to pay the annual license fee, or any sociation has not paid any tax or fee required by any law of this state, and which is then due and payable, may be interposed at any time before trial upon the merits in any action, suit or proceeding, and if issue be joined upon are suspended whenever a tax is due and unpaid, but the concern is not liable to a fine until it has been delin-quent 20 days. The suspension of pow-ers operates as well in the case of the ordinary property tax as in the case of the license tax, for the statule says "any tax required by any law of this be explained.

Mrs. Jack Chesterfield Pleads Not Guilty to Carrying Dynamite.

SEATTLE, Aug. 12.-(Special.)-Jack Chesterfield's wife, who confessed to Sher-iff Smith that she carried dynamite and dangerous weapons to her husband in the County Jail, entered a plea of not guilty to the information that charged her with the offense this morning. Upon the ad-vice of her attorney, she will stand trial. The crime with which she is charged carries with it as a maximum penalty 'our years' imprisonment in the peniten tiary. Chesterfield is still in the Wayside Emergency Hospital, and is recovering rapidly from the self-inflicted wound in his head made with the revolver brought to him by his wife. Sheriff Smith will Monday remove him to the County Jall to prevent any attempt that he might make to escape. He will be attended by the doctors in jail until he is fully recovered

Big Crop Off Beet Sugar Land.

LA GRANDE, Or., Aug. 12 -- (Special.)-Al Good, a farmer who lives two miles north of La Grande, has threshed two acres of oats which yielded 202 bushels. The seed for this ground was less than a sack of oats. It was also sown in alfalfa this Spring, and Mr. Good expects to get a couple of tons of hay from this same ground besides the rop of oats. Previous to this season the ground was planted in sugar beets, and the above result shows how much beet-raising injures the soll for other crops.

pay the annual license fee, or any other tax or fee which shall have be-come due and payable against it, as provided in this act or any law of fhis state, shall be permitted to maintain any suit, action or proceeding in any court of justice within this state while such delinquency shall continue." Section 10 provides that "a plea that any domestic corporation or foreign corporation, joint stock company or as-sociation has not paid any tax or fee had gone under the main building where the shafting is located and after loosening the tension of the belt, were moving it along by hand examining it for defects.

such plea, the same shall be first tried. Such plea cannot be made at any time by the delinquent corporation." It thus appears from the language of the statute that a corporation's powers stantly wound around the shaft, and his body torn and mangled in a horrible manner.

The unfortunate man's body was torn into fragments. Death was instantaneous and the accident happening in the semi-darkness under the mill cannot be explained. The position of McReynolds was con-sidered perfectly safe as every precau-tion had been taken by the company and the arrangement of the machinery inspected a few days ago by the State Labor-Commissioner. The deceased had been in the employ of the company less than a week and was working tempo-arily at the Red Crown MUI before asrarily at the Red Crowwoor Mill before as-suming a place at another warehouse operated by the company here. He was suppored to be an experienced man. McReynolds was 25 years of age and unmarried. He is said to have a brother

New Arrivals for Fall

We have laid our Fall arrivals on the tables ready for your inspection.

When you see the garments, note the new patterns especially designed for us-their manifest superiority over other readyto-wear clothes-you cannot fail to share our enthusiasm.

They are clothes with character-individual, distinguished -reflecting the treatment of the master tailor in every line and curve-in the graceful turn of the close-fitting collar, in the fashioning of the lapels, in the broad modeling of the concave shoulders.

All these niceties of tailoring are embodied in the clothes in such a way that they will be retained during the life of the garments.

We present some distinctive new models at prices ranging from The City Electrician, C. A. Bisbey, wants to install a new system, which he says can be put in for $4000, with an allowance of about $2000 on the old machinery, making the total cost of the new system at $2000. The new lights, Mr. Bisbey says, will pay for themselves in three years, as they will use less power and will only need trimming every week instead of every When the question came up in day. the Council rooms, Mayor Galvin want-ed the firms that wished to put in the new dynamo to guarantee to take the old machine off the city's hands. This the men refused to do. If the electric houses do not find a place to sell the old machine before the next Council meeting, the old dynamo will probably be rewound and made to do service a while longer, if possible. Mr. Bisbey is now in Tacoma, looking the matter up. In the meantime the city will be in the dark for street lights until the matter is settled, which may take six weeks or two months.

SHORT CROP IN THE PALOUSE

Inland Empire Expected to Produce

More Than Last Year.

COLFAX, Wash., Aug. 12-(Special.) -The hot weather continues, but is doing no damage to grain, which is now too far advanced to suffer any in-jury. Harvest work is well under way, and fully one-half of the crop has been cut. But little threshing has been done, excepting in the western part of the county, where the season is much earlier than here.

As the harvest work advances becomen more evident that the crop is much smaller than was estimated early in the season and will fall considerably below the yield of last year. There are some fields which are yielding big crops, but in many others, which have the appearance of yielding from 30 to 35 bushels, the grain has yielded but 15 to 20 bushels per acre. Near Endicott a crop of 47 bushels per acre is reported. But within a short distance of where this was har-vested another field yielded but 11 busheis. This is the record low yield thus far this season.

There seems to be a general impression that the "Inland Empire," which includes Eastern Washington, North-ern Idaho and Northeastern Oregon, will yield more grain than last year, but the Palouse country yield will be less than in 1904.

Collecting Delinquent Taxes.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Aug. 11-(Spe cial)-City Attorney Taggart IF just now engaged in attempting the collection of assessments to the delinquent street amount of about $25,000. These assessments have been the bugaboo of City Attorney for the past ten years, but the present attorney has taken hold of the matter in earnest and last month collected $1000 and brought suit on a large amount of property. The assessments run back 12 and 15 years, and the city simply stands between the property-owner and the contractor for their collection. The city will recover only the 2 per cent interest above the 8 per cent which the contractor will get for interest and a small penalty. Most of the assessments come from the hard ies days, which prevailed on the harbor from 1890

Commissioner Ariand, who is a rancher and believes in taxing luxuries. voted for a reduction of Mr. Coates' assessment but succeeded in adding $250 to his personal property list, the diamond and the Panama hat not having been registered.

Gordon Provides His Own Bail.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 12-(Special.)-William Gordon, the watchman of the Wood Lumber Company, who was ar-rested some weeks ago on the charge of burglary, having been detected stealing goods from the company's store, has been released from custody on his giving per-sonal bond in the sum of $250. Gordon, who is well off, got a power of attorney from his wife, who resides in Canada.

Desirable Rooms for Young Men.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 12.--(Special.)--The new Y. M. C. A. building, dedicated some time ago, is now complete, the dor-mitories having been finished this week. The rooms are well furnished, tighted and heated, and are planned to furnish young men of the city a desirable rooming place. The building is the only one of the kind on the harbor, and cost $12,000.

Will Open Montesano Hatchery.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Aug. 11-(Spe al)-State Superintendent of Hatcheries

TACOMA Wash, Aug. 12-(Special)-Well-dressed, but weary and worn, Mrs. Ganz, of Portland, called upon the police this morning to see if they could not in duce her husband, who she says is employed in the Wheeler Osgood mills, to do something toward her keep, or, failing in that, give her money enough to return to Portland.

It was a pitiful story she told. After 27 years of married life and after bearing 11 children for her husband, she says he deerted her almost a year ago. She then running a boarding-house in Portland. She says that on two or three oc-casions he had left her, but he always came home again.

Since Mr. Ganz left home last, according to the wife, he has not communicated with the family nor contributed to their support. The boarding-house ran behind and the woman was forced to give it up. She used her last money to follow her husband to Tacoma. Mrs. Ganz has seen her husband and she says he refuses help her.

The police have no jurisdiction in the case. The woman was referred to a law-ver. She seems to be about @ years old, case. and is a comely, motherly-looking body She gained the sympathy of all who heard her story.

DISPLEASED AT THE DECISION

the decision of the State Supreme Court, which recently declared that the migrawhich recently declared that the migra-tory livestock law, passed by the last Legislature, is void. Heretofore it had been the custom of noneresident owners of stock, whether residing in other countice or in the State of Washington, to drive their sheep or cattle through Uma-tilla County to the ranges in the Biue

Mountains Frequently much difficulty was experienced over rights claimed on the public ranges and clashing between stockmen was nothing uncommon. Local stock-growers, who have been using the ranges for many years, have had certain sections for grazing, and those on friendly terms would be careful not to encroach upon each other's territory. But the bone of contention has been with nonresident stockmen who, local stockmen declare, have been aften discourteous and seifish in using the public ranges.
