

DE CAPRIO'S GREAT BAND MOSTLY MADE UP OF LOCAL MEN

- A. DE CAPRIO -
- LEADER

By F. W. Goodrich.

MUCH has been written about the bands of Liberati, Innes and Dierke, their constitution, their renditions and their styles of playing, but little or nothing has been said about the one band upon which the heart of Exposition work has fallen. Since the opening day on June 1, when the Administration Band marched in its place in the great inaugural parade, they and their leader have rendered splendidly faithful and efficient service, playing at receptions, banquets and exercises of various kinds, escorting Governors, Senators and other distinguished men to their hotels and places of residence, rendering concert programmes to large and small groups of the various kinds. The work of the band has been uniformly good, and in many instances excellent. In constitution it is a purely military band, suitable for open-air performances, and not too large or heavy for indoor work. Modeled upon the military bands of Germany, Austria and Great Britain, the brass is sonorous without being blatant, the woodwind is sufficiently strong without being piercing and unpleasant.

Composed mostly of local players, the band is a credit to Portland, and it will be a matter of great regret if the close of the fair means the end of the band. It is well balanced, and that it is agreeable to listen to is proved by the large throng of listeners that is always present whenever the band may be playing.

One of the pleasant memories of the Exposition is that of the band playing some beautiful selection under the shadow of the quaint old gables of the California building, surrounded by flowering plants and beautiful trees.

The leader, Signor De Caprio, is a capable musician and an artistic performer on his chosen instrument, the trombone, one of the grandest and yet withal one of the instruments of the brass family capable of soft and rich effects. Witness its use by Schubert in his great symphony in C major. In the hands of Signor De Caprio the instrument loses none of its effect, and he is fully conscious of its capabilities. As a conductor he is watchful and alert, and gets from his players' renditions full of vim and force. The personnel of the band is composed of many well-known local players, and they all, in their respective departments, do their work right well. The music played by the band is good and well arranged, many of the best standard overtures, selections from the best known light operas and many pieces of lighter caliber. Wagner movements are often in evidence, also many selections of the younger Italian school, such as "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Il Pagliacci." There is no straining after effect in the programmes, no pulling down of big compositions which look well on paper, and substituting others of lighter texture when the time comes for performance. To sum up, it is a good band, deserving of more recognition and encouragement from musicians and the people of Portland.

PREST. WHEELER TO SPEAK

"A Young Man's Chances" is the Theme of California Educator.

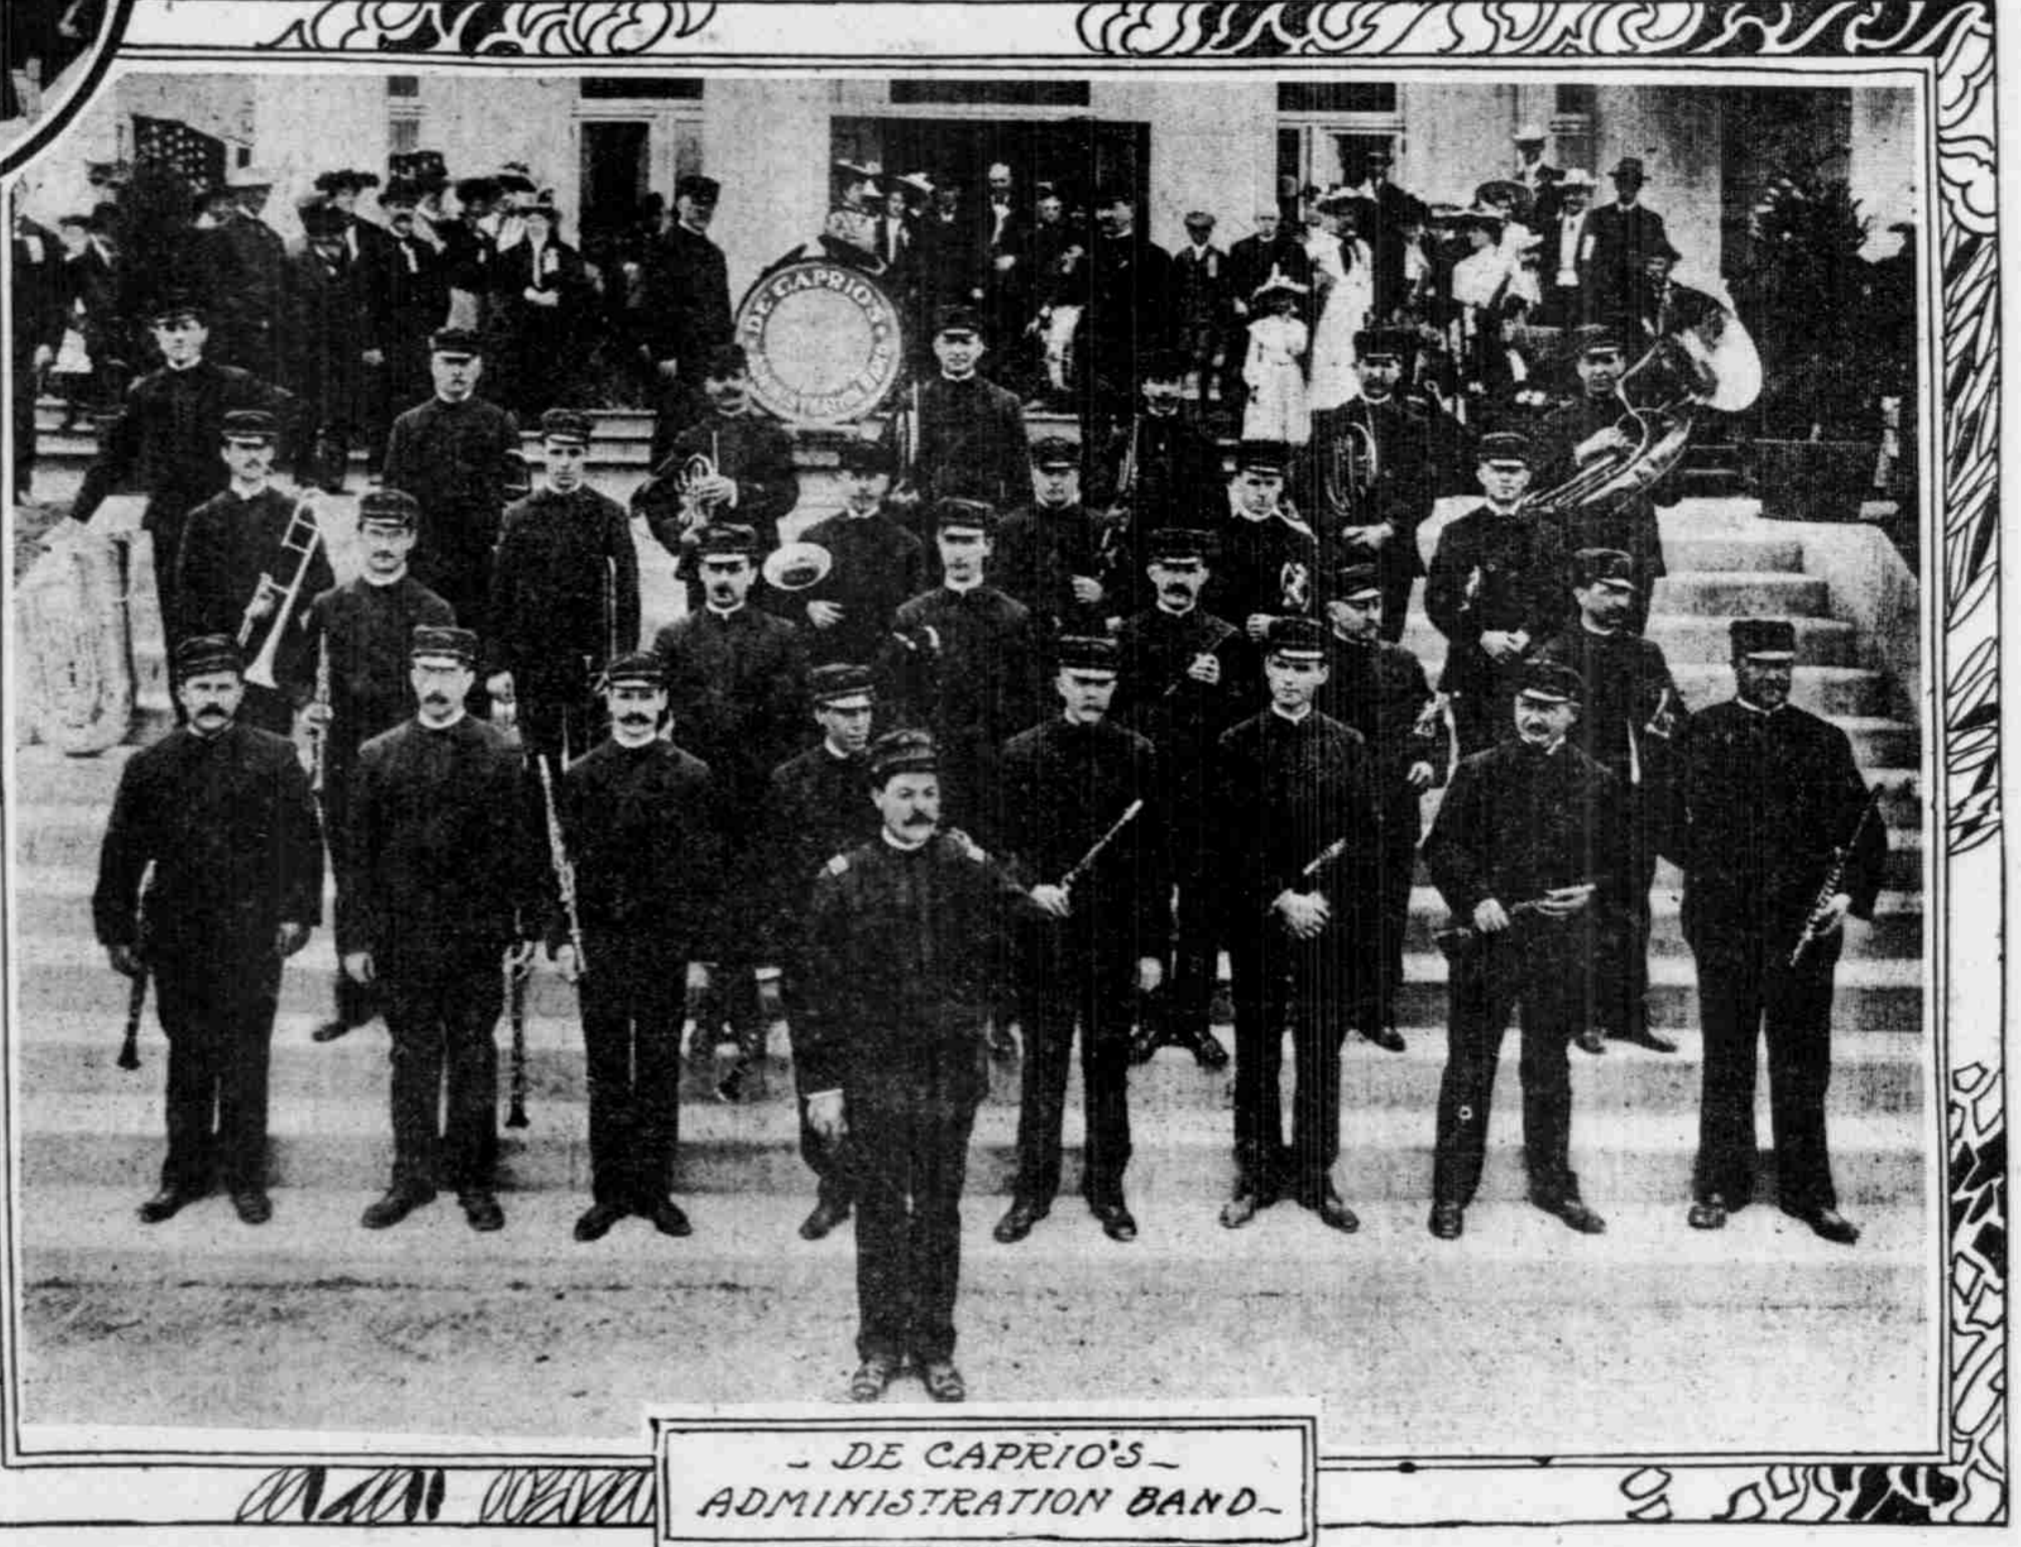

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, will give an address to young men in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association, this afternoon at 3:30. His topic will be "A Young Man's Chances." President Wheeler is in the city as one of the principal speakers at the educational congress to be held at the Exposition next week. He is recognized as a very strong platform speaker, and is in demand in all parts of California for public addresses. His position as president of one of the largest universities of the West enables him to speak with authority on matters concerning young men.

The special music for this occasion will consist of contralto solos by Mrs. Lulu Miller, of this city, and a violin solo by Mr. Earl B. Valentine, of Los Angeles.

The meeting is for men only and is without charge.

Mrs. Stewart Needs Help.
Generous people have responded promptly to assist Mrs. G. W. Stewart, living with her two children in apartments at 114 Union avenue, but investigation by responsible persons shows that more provisions and money are needed. The injured husband and father will be confined to the hospital for an indefinite period, and until he is able to work, assistance is necessary to keep the family, as the mother is unable longer to support herself and children.

Those who wish to contribute may direct letters to Chief Clerk Wright, at the Hotel Portland. Arrangements have been made to turn over sums to Mrs. Stewart, or to other worthy people who need it, if more is given than is needed by Mrs. Stewart.

BLUNT ANSWER

San Francisco, Nov. 21, 1904.

Dear Sir: Shortly after you commenced the treatment of your diabetes with Fulton's Diabetic Compound, you wrote that you could not see results, but would continue it a while longer. Later you wrote it was beginning to yield, and later still that you were nearly well. We have not heard from you now for nearly a year. As you are a druggist and we know that druggists, like physicians, are not to be trusted when they are interested in your case and would like to know how you are getting along, and include postal for reply. Thanking you in advance for same. Yours very truly,

J. J. FULTON CO.,
Caldwell, Idaho, Nov. 23, 1904.

Inc. J. Fulton Company, I am cured, respectively.

H. D. BLATCHLEY.

Comment is unnecessary about nine-tenths of all cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes, heretofore fatal, are now curable by Fulton's Compound. Send for pamphlet, Woodward, Clarke & Co., Agents, Portland.

When to suspect Bright's Disease—weakness or loss of weight; puffiness, hands or eyes; itchy, drooping, kidney trouble after the third month; urine may show sediment; falling vision; drowsiness; one or more of these features. In Diabetes, the most noticeable features are weakness, with thirst, and at times voracious appetite.
