PRaise FOR Sweeney

WAS CAPTAIN AND SHORTSTOP FOR ROCK ISLAND.

President Sexton Speaks Highly of Portland's New Third Baseman. He is only 20 Years Old.

Portland's third baseman comes highly recommended. President Sexton of the Three-I League, says he is a most promising player and the Rock Island Argus has the following to say of Sweeney: W. J. Sweeney, for two seasons shortstop of the Rock Island team and this year captain, has been sold to the Portland team of the Pacific League and will report for duty September 1.

Sweeney is one of those players who is in the game for the love of it and to see the country. When he signed for this year he made the request that if he was ready by the end of the season to graduate into faster company, that a place be found for him on the Coast, as he wished to play ball there for a time, preferring that to a berth in one of the major leagues. Several opportunities have been offered this season to part with him to one of the big league teams, but while he assured the management that he would cheerfully go wherever he was sent, he still preferred a position on the Coast, so, in view of the player's good record, and the fact that he had made some sacrifices to remain here in the face of a much larger salary offered him early this year to jump to the Pennsylvania outlay league through Rock Island, he was given the chance to dispose of Sweeney to the Portland team for a snug sum was accepted.

On the Coast there are two pennant seasons each year, the season beginning September 1 and closing December 1. In order to guard against the importation by wholesale of big league players after their season has closed, the Pacific League has adopted a rule that no players may be brought in from outside leagues after September 1. Therefore, it is necessary for Sweeney to leave before the Three-I season begins through Rock Island, and he is expected to return here Monday morning and leaving Monday evening for the West. President Sexton today stated that in all his baseball experience he never had dealings with a more consistent and gentlemanly player than Sweeney. He is but 20 years of age, and it is believed that there is a great future in store for him in baseball if he chooses to follow it as a career. Since he has been with Rock Island he has not missed a game in which the team participated, a fact that forms an index to his character. Rock Island will unite in wishing him success wherever he goes.

WORLD'S SHOP CROPS

Former Estimates Now Being Lowered.

ENGLAND BUYS IN OREGON

Circular Issued to Growers of Washington and Oregon Producers Argument of "Eastern Brewer."

PORTLAND, Sept. 2.—As the picking of the 1905 hop crop has already begun in several sections of the world today, reports now begin to come in from nearly all sections of hop crops, and all former estimates are now being lowered. This is especially so in England and New York State, where picking has generally begun.

Wine reports from New York today say picking has begun, crops coming down much lighter than expected, all former estimates being reduced some as low as 25,000 bales for the state. English cables report bad weather, plenty of vermin and mold, heavy growth of vine, crop coming down unexpectedly light. I am sorry to impress upon the growers of the Coast that the statistical position of the hop outlook today is stronger than a year ago, and there is no reason why the 1905 hope of the Pacific Coast should not bring 25 cents per pound.

The quality of the New York hops will be poor; the result will be that the exporters will turn their attention entirely to the Coast for supplies, and it is a well-known fact that England will probably not have to export 400,000 to 425,000 hundredweight, as thought some of the bears who are heavily on the short side of the 1905 market, and who are sending out circulars from here signed by "the Eastern Brewer," will look you in the eye and still persist in telling you, in the face of all late information coming in, that England will have 500,000 to 600,000 hundredweight, and even 700,000 hundredweight. Some of these bears from whom Washington growers have received so much advice of late to sell their hops, that the market would surely go to 30 cents, are becoming very desperate, and I assure you that if we had some of the short sales that some of these bears, we would be some desperate, too.

In my opinion, England will take 60,000 to 70,000 bales from the Pacific Coast this year. While the market is so strong, and the average crop, England will, as she always does, take the surplus from these countries, as well as a large stock from America. You must remember that for the past two years we have been exporting to England more than 25,000 to 30,000 bales of old hops each year. Now for the first time in years this surplus is being absorbed by the market. It is not that we shall see very high prices before hops go again. The market is so strong, and the average crop, as you do not think it will create a stampede, which is the only hope for them to cover.

Take my humble advice and do not offer your hops before the first part of November or the first of December. Every man that is short this year has got to deliver a No. 1 grade, or most of them have sales for a term of years, and this is their first year's delivery—they dare not skip.

The result will be that there will be a scramble for this class of goods. Many small lots unless you want to take the low price of the season. No grower need worry about 15-cent prices, as we shall not see them for three or four years at least, and remember

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 2.—The attendance at today's hearing of the Taggart divorce case was the smallest since the trial began. Odds and ends of testimony were gathered up. Mr. Wertz took the witness stand and read the deposition of Nora Murphy. This was finished quickly, and related to the alleged slumming trip to San Francisco, as told by this witness, but denied by Mrs. Taggart. The story of the Filipino boy, Andres des Gane, was taken up and read, and was also a part of the testimony of Colonel Van Hoff. No facts of importance were brought out. Just before noon, the matter of holding court on Labor day was discussed, and as the attorneys did not care to observe the day, Judge Mason decided to adjourn for today and hold court Monday, when arguments are to start.

TOM BURNS' PLAN

Wants to Meet McCormick at Vancouver.

WIRES TO MAKE THE MATCH

Declares that Barry was Easy to Beat and Hopes to Have a Bout With John L.'s Sparring Partner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Sporting Editor, Oregonian, Portland, Or. Leaving for Portland tonight. Match me with Jim McCormick, Vancouver. Beat Barry very easy. TOMMY BURNS.

This telegram was shown to Tommy Burns last night, and he at once set the wires in motion to bring Burns and McCormick together. In meeting McCormick Burns will be going out of his class. Gus Ruhlman trimmed McCormick, who because he was John L. Sullivan's sparring partner, was touted as a coming wonder. A 15-round bout between these two men ought to be worth seeing.

Burns, since he left Portland, has practically won two fights. Accounts of his battle with Hugo Kelly all say that he won from the start. A foolish agreement made before the fight robbed him of the verdict. Barry, Burns twice licked. He got a decision over him in 20 rounds at Tacoma, and the other night knocked the Californian out in the 20th round.

It is believed they received outside help. Jones left a note behind for the press in which he said: "In order to save myself and my reputation, I have to go to a place not far off, where I may soon be able to satisfy and protect those who were the cause of my being in jail. If I am given my liberty for a few months, in less than a year from this time, I will be able to return and make good the claims against me."
