

The Oregonian

Entered at the Postoffice at Portland, Or., as second-class matter. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: IN ADVANCE: (By Mail or Express) Daily and Sunday, per year, $10.00...

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN. (Issued Every Thursday.) Weekly, per year, $3.00. Weekly, six months, $1.75. Weekly, three months, $1.00.

EASTERN BUSINESS OFFICE. The S. C. Beckwith Special Agency—New York, rooms 43-50 Tribune building, Chicago, rooms 10-11 Tribune building.

REPT ON SALE. Chicago—Auditorium Annex, Postoffice News Co., 178 Dearborn street. Dallas, Tex.—Globe News Depot, 200 Main street.

San Antonio, Tex.—Louis Book and Clear Co., 251 East Houston street. Denver—Black, Hamilton & Kendrick, 906-612 Eleventh street; Pratt Book Store, 1214 Fifteenth street.

Goldfield, Nev.—J. Sandstrom; Guy Marsh. Kansas City, Mo.—Hicks-Clear Co., Ninth and Walnut. Los Angeles—Harry Drapkin; B. E. Amos.

St. Louis, Mo.—J. K. Kavanaugh, 90 South Third. Cleveland, O.—James Pugh, 307 Superior street.

Toronto, Ont.—L. Jones & Co., Astor House. Atlantic City, N. J.—E. Taylor, 207 North Illinois ave.

San Francisco, Cal.—W. H. Johnston, Fourteenth and Franklin streets. San Diego, Cal.—F. R. Godard and Meyers & Harwood, D. I. Ferry.

San Antonio, Tex.—Louis Book and Clear Co., 251 East Houston street. Denver—Black, Hamilton & Kendrick, 906-612 Eleventh street; Pratt Book Store, 1214 Fifteenth street.

Portland, Sunday, September 3. No class of intellectual workers in America is, as a whole, so eager for self-improvement as the schoolteachers; and it is the almost unanimous judgment of their leading spokesmen that no class is so much in need of it.

THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS. No class of intellectual workers in America is, as a whole, so eager for self-improvement as the schoolteachers; and it is the almost unanimous judgment of their leading spokesmen that no class is so much in need of it.

THE NAVIES OF THE FUTURE. It is probable that Russia now will give up the scheme to build a great navy—the scheme which called steel experts from the United States to St. Petersburg some months ago; or at least that she will proceed slowly with her project of a new navy.

A HISTORICAL EXPOSITION. On the borders of Hampton Roads, the Jamestown Exposition Company has already begun the real work of preparing for the exposition to be held in 1907 to celebrate in a fitting manner the 200th anniversary of the first permanent settlement effected by English-speaking people in America.

TO EXPLOIT ITS HISTORICAL TREASURES. To exploit its historical treasures and elaborate the incidents in its story which have helped in the making of the Nation, New York State has appropriated $100,000 for her part in the exposition.

TRANSPORTATION COMPANY HAS KEPT 1000 HORSES EMPLOYED IN DRIVING SUMMER TOURISTS THROUGH THE PARK AND EVERY AVAILABLE VEHICLE SUITABLE FOR THE PURPOSE HAS BEEN PURCHASED FOR THEIR ACCOMMODATION.

LOW WATER HAS CAUSED THE SUSPENSION OF NAVIGATION ON THE SNAKE RIVER BETWEEN RIPARIAN AND LEWISTON, AND AS A RESULT THE FRUITGROWERS ALONG THE STREAM WILL LOSE LARGE QUANTITIES OF FRUIT.

THE CENTRAL RAILWAY OF OREGON HAS JUST RECORDED A $2,000,000 MORTGAGE IN UNION CITY IN FAVOR OF THE AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY OF BOSTON.

ONE OF THE NUMEROUS BLIND BEGGARS WHO MAKE NIGHT HIDEOUTS ON OUR MAIN THOROUGHFARES WILL GO INTO COURT FOR THE PURPOSE OF ASKING PERMISSION THAT THE CITY HAS THE RIGHT TO MITIGATE NUISANCES.

ANNOUNCEMENT COMES FROM CHICAGO OF THE ORGANIZATION OF A COMPANY TO OPERATE AN ELECTRIC LINE BETWEEN THAT CITY AND CINCINNATI.

THE HOP CROP OF THE WEST IS GROWN IN MUCH FEWER LOCALITIES THAN THE WHEAT CROP, BUT IT SEEMS TO BE NEARLY AS DIFFICULT TO WORK UP A CORNER ON HOPS AS IT IS ON WHEAT.

THE ANNUAL FOREST FIRES ARE WIPING OUT OF EXISTENCE SOME BIG TRACTS OF FINE TIMBER IN THE WILLAMETTE VALLEY, AND AS USUAL, THE TROUBLE WAS ALL STARTED BY THE BURNING OF A SLASHING BY SOME FARMER.

must be ready to take earliest advantage of every improvement and must be continually repairing the losses inevitable in operation of vessels. It is, in fact, the only business in naval appropriations. Time and again the navies of the world have been reduced to worthless junk by the evolution of naval architecture.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE THEATER. Mr. Sydney Rosenfeld, a playwright, comes to Portland to present for the first time on any stage a brand-new drama, and incidentally to tell us that the commanding need of the times is a National theater, or an endowed theater.

WHO CAUSES THE DELAY? About all we can see in Mr. Wood's letter, printed here, is that the wagon-road company insists, and continues to insist, that the Government shall put up the money for the Malheur project, and the company may put up as much, or as little, land as it pleases.

EXPOSURE OF HYPOCRISY. Says the East Oregonian (Pendleton): Oregonian censures Mayor Lane of Portland for his hypocritical conduct in various places within his power to fill. It is not good politics, how does it come that Mayor Lane on coming into the office makes a point of denouncing Mayor Hanson? On what grounds can the people find fault with Mayor Lane for doing just what every Republican Mayor of Portland has always done?

THE OREGONIAN HAS NOT CENSURED Mayor Lane for appointing Democrats to office. He expected him to appoint Democrats. What it has censured and does censure is the insincerity and hypocrisy of the pretense of "no party in municipal affairs," which was used for election of Mayor Lane. Will the Pendleton Journal be so kind as to read what The Oregonian said last Monday about "party in municipal affairs"?

THE ONLY WAY TO MAKE AN ENDOWED theater of any sort of account would be to have one in every city and town in the United States, to say nothing of the yearning need of such an institution at every crossroads. This is the first essential to success in educating the mass of the public to the higher forms of dramatic art.

ON THE BORDERS OF HAMPTON ROADS, the Jamestown Exposition Company has already begun the real work of preparing for the exposition to be held in 1907 to celebrate in a fitting manner the 200th anniversary of the first permanent settlement effected by English-speaking people in America.

TO EXPLOIT ITS HISTORICAL TREASURES. To exploit its historical treasures and elaborate the incidents in its story which have helped in the making of the Nation, New York State has appropriated $100,000 for her part in the exposition.

TRANSPORTATION COMPANY HAS KEPT 1000 HORSES EMPLOYED IN DRIVING SUMMER TOURISTS THROUGH THE PARK AND EVERY AVAILABLE VEHICLE SUITABLE FOR THE PURPOSE HAS BEEN PURCHASED FOR THEIR ACCOMMODATION.

LOW WATER HAS CAUSED THE SUSPENSION OF NAVIGATION ON THE SNAKE RIVER BETWEEN RIPARIAN AND LEWISTON, AND AS A RESULT THE FRUITGROWERS ALONG THE STREAM WILL LOSE LARGE QUANTITIES OF FRUIT.

THE CENTRAL RAILWAY OF OREGON HAS JUST RECORDED A $2,000,000 MORTGAGE IN UNION CITY IN FAVOR OF THE AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY OF BOSTON.

ONE OF THE NUMEROUS BLIND BEGGARS WHO MAKE NIGHT HIDEOUTS ON OUR MAIN THOROUGHFARES WILL GO INTO COURT FOR THE PURPOSE OF ASKING PERMISSION THAT THE CITY HAS THE RIGHT TO MITIGATE NUISANCES.

ANNOUNCEMENT COMES FROM CHICAGO OF THE ORGANIZATION OF A COMPANY TO OPERATE AN ELECTRIC LINE BETWEEN THAT CITY AND CINCINNATI.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is to be torn down. But it doesn't matter. There are others. This particular house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

THE HOUSE WHERE GEORGE WASHINGTON Slept. The house where George Washington slept is the house where the commander-in-chief of the American army spent the night before Lord Howe took possession of New York. It appears that encroaching commerce needs the site for a cheese factory or something.

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."

SACRED DRAMA FROM OREGON. A decided contribution to the literature of the Pacific Coast has been made by George L. Hutchins, of Portland, Or., in his historical and romantic drama "Judahael," which he cautiously publishes himself, reserving all rights. The drama is built on the Elizabethan model, with frequent shifts of scenes. The author does not offer verse, or a mixture of verse with prose, but uses a lofty poetic prose, with original uses of the English language, which would not be fair to describe the plot, which is based on the same incidents, on Biblical incidents. As the author tells us in a preface: "The beautiful story of Judahael is a Hebrew drama, a classic drama, a dramatic work, and is familiar as a household word to those of Palestinian nationality. The story is told in dramatic figure to give it the strongest accentuation of its dramatic character. It is an interesting chronological fact necessary to the understanding of the play. 'The Babylonian captivity' covers a period of 70 years. As the year of the American war was a third as long as the year of latter days, Judahael at the end of his captivity was in the flower of vigorous manhood."