FIGHT BY ROUNDS

Nelson Forces Pace and Takes Hard Punishment.

BRITT GAME TO THE LAST

Native Son.

COLMA, Cal., Sept. 2.-Battling Nelson is now lightweight champion of the world. He fought Jimmy Britt to a standstill and dropped him for the count in the 18th round. It was as much from exbaustion as from blows received in this cound that Britt was prevented from rising. The fight was fast and furious, and It was a foregone conclusion after the first round that the contest would never last the specified limit of 45 rounds.

Britt was a bundle of gameness, but the other man was more hardy and stronger. Nelson evidently found out early in the fight that Britt's blows were not hurting him. Then he would get in close, covering his law and stomach, while Britt would swing at him without great effect. It was this method that tired Britt out. Frequently he shook the Dane up with a clean punch, but he never hit him hard mough to put him in danger of going out, It was truly a championship fight.

Given by Rounds.

Round 1-The men came up and sparred carefully for a few seconds. Nelson was the first to lead, sending a stiff left to Britt's head. Jimmy planted two straight lefts on Nelson's nose, which jeft a red mark, a right to the ribs, and a hook on the stomach following by Britt. Nelson forced the pince, but was shaken up by a hard right cross. Britt got a left on the nose that broke the skin, but put two hard lefts to the body. Britt drew back from a left hook and stepped in, delivering a hard left to the face and a right to the ribs. Nelson's nose was bleeding slightly from a left, but the Battler got in a left hook that jarred Jimmy slightly. Round 2-Britt sent in two lefts to the ace after much fiddling. Both were cau-lious. Grancy made the men break with-sut any stalling whenever they clinched. Britt's nose bled from an abrasion. Britt saggered Neison with a left and rained blows to the jaw, sending the Battler back. Nelson came back strong, however, sending Britt back with lefts to the face. Britt sent in a terrific right over the Britt sent in a terrific right over the heart. He mixed a straight left to the face with blows to the body. Britt devoted all his attention to the body, successfully using a right over the heart. Graney kept up a persistent demand to the men to "Get go" whenever they came into a clinch Britt planted a terrible right to the jaw and ducked a left. Britt sent Nelson to his knees with a terrific right cross, which started Neln's nose to bleeding profusely. He went Nelson flercely, Nelson covering up. at Nelson flercely, Nelson Co. right to the head. Nelson's nose bothered him some, a left hook starting the blood. Britt sent in left to the face but took a hard right on the face in return. Britt's nose also showed marks of Nel-son's blows. They came together in a but rally, both landing rights and lefts on the body. Britt shot in a hard right to the jaw and got a left on the face. Eritt pounded Nelson's nose with his left and they fought fiercely. Britt repeatedy sent his left to the stomach with force and the end of the round found both men bleeding from the nose and some-

Britt sent in a left and right to the head, Nelson forcing, but unable to land. Britt sent in an over-land wallop to the head, missing a left, and sending in a left and right in quick succession. Nelson slowed up perceptibly in this round, taking many blows without return, but forcing all the time. He got Britt in a corner and tried with both hands for the jaw, missed. A moment later they got into a fast mix, and siugged with right and left. Britt staggered and dazed Nelson with rights to the Nelson with rights to the jaw, and tried desperately to knock his man out. They stood in the center of the riug and slugged with both hands, Nelson taking a tremendous beating. He was game, however, and never for a moment broke ground before Britt's onslaught.

Bound 6-Britt lost no time in going in, using straight to the face and keeping Nelson off until he got an oppor-tunity to send in his right. Nelson came right on however, forcing Britt around the ring and taking blow after blow in his attempts to get in close quarters. Clever blocking by Britt prevented any damage to himself, and only just before the last of the round did Nelson show to any advantage. He got Britt into a corner and slugged him with both hands until Britt was stag-gering. Britt threw all science to the slugged, taking a terrific wind and slugged, taking a terrine beating. Britt was staggering all around but Nelson was unable to de-liver the knockout blow. During the last 19 seconds Britt rallied and had Nelson staggering. Both were very tired at the end of the round. It was the flercest round ever seen around this vicinity.

Very Tired in the Seventh.

Round 7-Both had recuperated and lost no time setting together. Britt tried to stay away and used his left to Nelson's nose repeatedly. He sent a hard left to Nelson's stomach, but got three jabs in the nose for his trouble. Nelson tried re-peatedly with left for the face, but with-out success. He got Britt in a corner and they exchanged lefts, Britt being the most successful. Both were tired and in-clined to linger whenever they came to a clinch. Nelson shot two rights to the

Britt with a left, but got almost as much as he gave. They were both tired, but alugged without cessation. Britt beat had the Dane very tired and shaky at the

both hands to Neison's face, staggering him. Britt also showed marks of the terrific battle, and Nelson's face was badly cut. At the gong they were standing in the center with heads together and swinging both hands. swinging both hands.

Round 10-Nelson showed a disposition to make the fight faster. He came in quickly, trying with both hands for the head, but missed. Britt pounded his nose with straight left jabs, occa-sionally sending the right to the body. Nelson's wonderful endurance served him in good stead. Britt brought a hard right to the face, but received a left and right in left and right in return that shook him up. Britt drove Nelson back with rights and lefts to the face, but still the Battler came on. This was the sigwest round thus far.

Round 11—There was a good deal of stalling by Britt. Nelson forcing him about the ring. Occasionally Britt ripped his left to the body, but it did not seem to stop Nelson. He came on, taking jabs and trying all the time to get to close quarters. Britt sent his right over to the jaw and took a left on the sore nose in return. They got in close, both trying for the body with-out damage. Britt drove his right to the head, but got two lefts on the stomach. Nelson blocked many of Britt's blows with his elbows and his shoulders. He had the most strength of the two, and whenever he landed it had its effect on the game little Call-

Dane Wades Right In.

Round 12-Nelson walked into sevjabs that started the flow of blood, but came right on without healtation. Britt drove a terrific left to the stomach that hurt Nelson. He fell upon the Battler, and rained blows on the head, but was blocked in his attempts to reach the stomach. Neison could not reach Britt, except at close range, and Jimmy kept him from coming in close whenever he could. He sent the Battler back momentarily with a left on the nose, following it up with a perfect shower of blows on the head and stomach. Nelson covered up and took the blows coming out of the clinch with a rush for more. The remarkable ability of Nelson to take punishment was never more in evidence. Britt wore himself tired trying to knock the Dane out.

Round 13-They wasted no time. Britt followed exactly the same tactics as in preceding rounds. He fought carefully, landing two or three blows to Nelson's one. Britt was forced to do a lot of fan-cy footwork to keep away from Nelson. Both bled from lefts to the head. Nelson sent in a hard right to the body and a left to the jaw that quickly had and a self to the law mixed it, Nel-son having all the better of it. Britt came out of a rally with a terrific right to the law. Nelson was on top of him in a finsh, but could not knock him out Britt, showing the most remarkable ex-hibition of gameness ever seen here, stood up and slugged until neither was more than able to lift his hands. "Out game him, Jimmy," shouted Willie Britt, and Slugging at Close Range.

Round 14-Nelson came up stronger and went at his man. Britt was weak and stalled. Nelson got in close and beat Britt back. There was a great shout from the crowd. Britt staggered about. "Swing!" shouted Willie Britt, and Jimmy sent right and left, which went to Nelson's face. The Battler came on with blow after blow on Britt's head and face but Britt stood in Britt's head and face but Britt stood in Britt's head and face, but Britt stood up. Britt swugg and slugged at close range and there was not much advantage for awhile. They forgot all they know about cleverness and slugged as never men slugged before. Britt sud-denly rallied, staggered Nelson with rights and lefts and forced the Dane to clinch and hold. The gong sounded with the men together and slugging. This was the most remarkable round of a remark-able fight. No such punishment has ever before been seen in this city.

Round 15-Britt sent left to the body, Round 15—Britt sent left to the body, and they clinched. There was not much difference in their condition, both men being tired and slowing up. Britt put left and right to the face, and Nelson a left to the body. Nelson rushed, but got two lefts in the face. Britt drove both hands to the stommach. Again he put his left on Nelson's stomach and ducked a left swing. Nelson did very little leading. They exchanged lefts to the face, Nelson's being stronger. He got Britt in a corner and landed several hard blows on his body. Britt avoided him in and they clinched. on his body. Britt avoided him in most of his attempts to come to close work, and rested in the latter part of the round.

Round 17-Both misses their first attempt. Then Britt stepped in and sent left to the body and head. Nelson uppercut him with right, but a moment later got two blows in the stomach that slowed him up. Nelson missed a left swing and me. left swing and was countered hard on the nose. Britt conserved his strength by cleverly evading Battling's rushes and with wasting no blows. He re-peatedly jabbed Nelson on the nose and staggered him with right to the jaw. Nelson put a terrific right on Brit's roothat sent him back. They came right together again, however, fighting fiercely at close range, until both were ready to clinch at the gong. Britt landed a right a moment after the gong sounded, but are located

Round 18-The sun came out at this stage, much to the relief of the picture men. Britt came in close, driving lefts to the face half a dozen times, but not stopping the Battler. Nelson used every means he could to get in close, taking a dozen blows in order to come to a clinch, and they exchanged lefts. Britt being the most successful. Both were tired and inclined to linger whenever they came to a clinch. Nelson shot two rights to the head putting an uppercut to Britt's nose. At close range Britt put rights to the head and lefts to the body. They wasted some time in stalling, then Britt drove a left into Nelson's stomach that made him double up. He lifted his left quickly to the face, cutting Nelson's right cheek.

Round 5—Both men are tired. Nelson came after Britt, taking half a dozen stiff blows, hoping to get in close. They exchanged lefts to the face and in getting away Britt was tripped by Nelson. To show that it was not intentional, Nelson offered his hand, and they shook. Britt had Nelson in trouble with lefts to the stomach that did the work.

Orderly Crowd at Pight.

Nelson remained inside the ropes several minutes longer before he could break away from the crowd. He walked rapidly out of the arens and then ran to his quarters, 200 yards away. With the disappearance of the fighters the interest waned, and the crowd broke for the elec tric cars, steam trains, automobiles and driving rigs that were waiting by the hundred.

Contrary to general expectations, the crowd of 2000 men and a score of women at the ringside was a most orderly one. The peculiar and stubborn actions of Nelson's manager, which left the public in doubt as to the referee up to the last minute, probably is responsible for the crowd falling below expectations, and made the total receipts about $50,000, instead of $75,-

WRANGLE OVER THE REFEREE

Britt Finally Yields and Grancy Is

RINGSIDE, Colma, Sept. 2.-After a discussion that lasted for fully an hour, during which time Manager Billy Nolan, for Battling Nelson, remained obdurate, Spider Kelly, chief second for Jimmy Britt, announced that his principal would yield and agree to Eddle Graney as ref-eree. The announcement was greeted with great applause. At 2:15 P. M., Jim Jeffries came into the ring. Word came from Nelson that he absolutely refused to come into the ring. Manager Coffroth then instructed Announcer Jordan to make announce-ment to this effect to the crowd.

Jordan then made the following an-nouncement: "Gentlemen-Mr. Nelson nouncement: "Gentlemen-Mr. Nelson refuses to come into this ring unless they select another referee than Jim Jeffries."
There was a great chorus of jeers and groans. "Mr. Britt," resumed Jordan. 'will not stand for any other man than

"Now, gentlemen, three rousing cheers for the undefeated and retired champion of the world, Jim Jeffries." "All I've got to say," said Jeffries, in response to calls for a speech, "is that I thank you, one and all, for this reception," and immediately he jumped down and resumed his seat:

There were loud and persistent cries of demanded attention and said:

"Gentlemen, please sit down. Mr. Nelson now says he will accept either George Siler or Eddie Grancy." "Graney," promptly shouted Spider Keliy, for Jimmy Britt.

"I won't accept," said Graney.
"Oh, come. Eddie," said Jimmy Britt;
and his request was repeated from others
in the Britt corner.

The crowd seemed satisfied with the election when Jordan announced that Britt would accept Graney. Jordan then announced that Siler did not come out to referee a fight, and would not accept if he should have been chosen.

Graney finally came into the ring. Britt was there to shake hands with him. Word was quickly sent to the Nelson camp outside the grounds that Grancy had been cepted, and that he must now be in the ring in short order. The crowd goodnaturedly shouted approval of everything.
With the referee question out of the way, beiting became very lively all around the ring. Sam Berger took the Britt end of $200 against $120. Ten to six was the prevailing odds. At 2:33 Nelson made his appearance in the arena. On his way down the alsie he was greeted with loud and continued jeering and hooting. He was accompanied by Harry Folicy, Martin Murphy, Billy Nolan and Fred Landers.

Announcer Jordan introduced Nelson as to crack in the light

SAN PRANCISCO, Sept. 9.- The scenes just outside the high fence around the arena had all the appearances of the immediate vicinity of a circus. Taking advantage of the fact that they were outside the City and County of Ban Francisco, and across the border line of San Mateo County, gambling sharps operated games of infinite variety.

As is usual at great sporting events, there was a crowd of hangers-on outside as large as that on the inside, and these freely played the games. On roulette and faro tables hundreds of dollars were stacked up in coin, in plain view of the crowds. A number of games were con-ducted by women, who reaped a rich harcest on the percentages the game netted

The pool-room concessions inside the grounds had made elaborate preparations to handle the big crowd of bettors, but no business was done, although odds of 10 to 6 were offered, with Britt the favorite.

At the hour set for the fight, the crowd became restiens and noisy. Half those inside the arena stood upon their seats. A score of women-came in with escorts,

WILL INSPECT THEATERS

Special Committee From Executive Board Will Undertake Work.

Tomorrow morning a special committee from the Executive Board, consisting of Max Fleischner, chairman: John Montag and N. J. Blegen, which was appointed by Mayor Lane a short time ago to study conditions relative to adequate protection from fire in the local theaters, will start out on a tour of inspection of the different playhouses in town, the idea being ultimately to adopt measures that will have a tendency to more fully insure the utmost safety to the theater-going Mr. Fleischner has made a careful study of the situation in this respect, and while he does not anticipate encountering any serious conditions, he is moved to take the present step more as a precaution than through fear of dire consequences in connection with any confiagration, believing that Portland playhouses are unformly safe.

The committee will be accompanied by Chief Campbell and Fire Marshal Rob-ers, of the Underwriters' Association, and expects eventually to inspect every theater in the city.

WOE FOR SCHOOL HAZERS

Made Candidates Dance Barefoot on Broken Rocks.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(Special.)—Hazing, in which the victims were attacked and dragged to a vacant lot in the dark and were made to dance barefooted on broken rocks, was applied to "initiate" the younger pupils at Lake View High School, North Ashland avenue and Irving Park boulevard. As a result, terror among the freshmen, and parents have threatened to withdraw their children from school unless the hazing is abolished, and several pupils, among them Richard Dunne, son of Mayor Dunne, stand in fear of expulsion. Principal B. F. Buck has started an inquisition to de-termine the proper punishment for the leaders of the hazing crew. Meantime leaders of the hazing crew. Meantime word has been sent out to both parents and pupils to help "save the schol from scandal." Buck, who is preparing to report to Superintendent Cooley, encountered stubborn secrecy as soon as he began questioning. To help prevent the spread of talk concerning the hazing, he conducted his investigation behind the locked doors of his office.

U.S. Army Guns $2.75 -- Shoot Shot as Well as Ball

We have discovered that Peters & Co., manufacturers of cartridges, which are carried by all hardware firms, have been making cartridges loaded with shot for these rifles. We find that the shot have been greased, to keep from leading the gun, and after one day's experiment shooting at paper targets 100 feet away, that out of 32 shot loaded in these cartridges over 25 hit a small space, which is equal to any high-priced shotgun. Now, try for yourself. We give you three ball cartridges, also two shot cartridges, and if they do not carry out what we say we will refund your money. It is a rifle for $2.75 that shoots either shot or ball. Show me any other gun that will do the same. You can't get these guns at any price. We close Saturdayyour last chance$2.75 and see us if they were sure that they could get a cure. They, however, have tried so many different remedies without effect that they have become skeptical. We have been telling you for the past 15 years in the Portland papers that if you are doubtful of our ability, you can deposit the price of a cure in the banks, to be returned to you if we were unable to effect a cure. By this method we have reached thousands. Once in a long while we are unable to cure, and then return the fee, as per letter below:

PLAIN TALK TO MEN

Spokane, January 30, '05, Received of Dr. W. Norton Davis & Co. one deposit check, value $50, being placed in the hands of the company for a cure. E. R. VAN LEUVEN.

Then, again, some men are so grateful to us for having cured them that they allow us to publish their names, so that others who have the same trouble may get relief. UNDERSTAND, HOWEVER, THAT THIS IS ONLY DONE BY

YOUR OWN PERMISSION. Although we have cured men in every town and village in Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and British Columbia, still we are unable to use their recommendations, as that would betray confidence. Addy, Wash., April 17, 1905. This certifies that I have had varicocele for many years, which Dr.

W. Norton Davis & Co. cured for me with their local method of treatment, using internal medicine and local applications to the veins. No surgical methods whatever. C. E. BURNSIDE.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS WHERE YOUR HEALTH IS CONCERNED.

A personal interview is desired, but if you cannot call, write us, giving your symptoms in full. Our home treatment is successful, even in complicated cases. Strict-
