

A. W. Reinhard, pastor of the German Presbyterian Church, was married to Miss Rosa Schulz, daughter of the late Daniel Schulz. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian Church by Rev. Dr. Hill, assisted by Rev. Mr. Haener. Miss Alice Sprague was maid of honor and the Misses Eva Sprague, Frieda Wilmer, Emma Winkler and Miss Bertha Schulz—the last a sister of the bride—acted as bridesmaids. The bride was gowned in white chiffon done over white silk. She carried bride roses. The maids all carried white carnations. They wore white gowns with the exception of Miss Waldmiller, who wore delicate pink, and Miss Bertha Schulz, who wore white over pink. Herman Gantenben was best man, and the groom's best assistants were Edward Bohman, Adolph Hirt, Rev. J. H. Hopp and Rev. A. D. Soper. Adolph Schulz, brother of the bride, gave her away. The church was decorated with palms, and the home of the bride's mother, to which the wedding party repaired, with Oregon grape and white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard left for a wedding trip. They will be at home on November 1, at 47 East Ash street. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received.

PORTLAND WOMAN WHO IS A SUCCESSFUL EDITOR

MRS. ELIZABETH TOWNE.

Portland is entertaining for a short time one of her daughters, who has achieved distinction as a teacher and writer. This is Mrs. Elizabeth Towne, who is visiting her father, John H. Jones, at 315 East Sixth street north. Mrs. Towne first published here her very successful new thought magazine, The Nautilus, then a little four-page paper now a standard-size magazine with perhaps 100,000 monthly readers.

About six years ago she established her publishing business in Holyoke, Mass., where she works in collaboration with her husband, William E. Towne, co-editor of The Nautilus, who accompanies her on her present visit. Mrs. Towne is a pioneer in certain lines of thought, as her father was in the settlement of the Oregon Country. Through her magazine and her many books she has gained a very wide circle of readers in every part of this country and in many foreign lands.
