of the mountain just toppled in and filled up the hole. The small island in Crater Lake is undoubtedly the remnants of the peak.

"More persons swear off from smoking the first of the year than you would imagine," said a cigar clerk in one of the leading hotels yesterday.

"It is an actual fact that on January 1 the cigar stands do not have so many sales as they had a few days before."

"You see that man sitting there," said the clerk, pointing to a miserable, discontented-looking mortal who had his mouth full of gum, which he was chewing with such force that his whole body rocked from the motion.

GEORGE J. WHELAN, president, and Edward Wise, treasurer, of the United Cigar Store Company, who have been guests at the Hotel Portland, left last night for San Francisco.

Years ago the City Council voted $500 for a fugitive fund, and the state agreed to reimburse it when used, so as to keep it intact.

Portland's fugitive fund is exhausted, the state has failed to reimburse it and there is no money at the command of Acting Chief of Police Gritzmacher with which to dispatch an officer to Goldfield, Nev., to bring back to this city B. E. Vickery on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

DISPUTE INSPECTOR'S PAY

Why Ways and Means Committee Refuses Warrant.

A well-informed member of the ways and means committee of the Council makes the following statement with reference to the salary warrants of the plumbing inspector and his deputy:

"In the controversy over the appointment of the plumbing inspector between the Council and Mayor Lane, the Executive Officer of the city, to make the appointment, and under this contention named William Hey, Thomas E. Hume had been plumbing inspector under the Williams administration, and also under that of Mayor Rowe. In looking up the matter the Council found that Mr. Hume had not been regularly appointed since the adoption of the new charter. An ordinance was accordingly passed appointing him plumbing inspector and fixing his salary at $3 a month. The controversy was in this condition when it was taken into the court, and the attorneys for the respective parties stipulated a statement of facts to be submitted to the court subsequently in accordance with the foregoing. When the matter came up for argument before Judge Cleland, the attorney for Mr. Hey raised the question that the Mayor had a right under the state laws to appoint the plumbing inspector. Up to this time it had been generally conceded that the state law was invalid, and that Judge George had so held; but on the question being raised by Mr. Hey's attorney, Judge George was of the opinion that he had not passed on this particular question, and consequently it was argued
