COMPLETING THE LONG TUNNEL -- Five COMPLETING THE LONG TUNNEL.-Five hundred feet of the tunnel for the Irving-ton sewer is completed, and the remaining 200 feet are being excavated, while mate-rial is being gathered for the remaining 12:000 feet of open sewer construction. This tunnel, 800 feet long, begins practi-cally at the river, although the first shaft was sunk on the west side of Lar-rabee street at the intersection of Hanrabec street at the intersection of Hancock. From this shaft the tunnel for the server was completed to the river and cock street. At the deepest point this tunnel is 72 feet below the surface. As the excavating has gone forward the dirit is brought on a transway to the shafts where it is lifted to the surface. The main shaft for removing the dirt is just cast of Larrabee street. The inside of the tunnel resembles a mine, and it is lighted by electric jets strung along the top. To prevent caving in the sides and top are supported by heavy timbers and lighted by electric jets strung along the top, To prevent caving in the sides and plank. No accidents have occurred. The contractors are proceeding carefully. It is announced that this big sewer will be completed in the Fail. It will cost $135,609. completed in the Fail. It will cost $135,000.

LOCAL FIRE PROTECTION .- The Portland Mills, at St. Johns, which stalled a local fire appurstus at that gate at the spot mentioned, plant, has had several practical demon- For RENT.-Fine large room in the plant, has had several practical demon-strations of its efficiency. When the fire occurred on the Regulator the volunteers from the woolen mills had a good stream turned on the boat even before the town apparatus could reach the court of building, room 201, * When the Cone Bros. and Douglass mills burned down the local fire company saved the Jobes flour mills. E. L. Thompson, manager for the woolen mills, says that the apparatus cost the company $500. It consists of two powerful pumps, with a canceling of 6000 calling of water which capacity of $0,000 gallons of water, which sland on towers separate from the main INVESTIGATING RICHARDS CASE .-- The mmittee appointed by the People's orum to investigate the Richards case is still at work. It is understood that much damaging evidence has been se-cured by the committee and that the report it will make some time this week will be of a very startling nature. At the meeting of the People's Forum tonight at the Elks' Hall the committee will submit a tentative report of the in-vestigation it has been conducting. The committee is composed of Dr. Stephen S. Wise, H. D. Wagnon and Mrs. Millie R.

WANT NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT .- At a meeting of residents in the south end of the Arleta district Friday night a commit-tee was appointed to ascertain if a new district could not be formed out of Nash-ville and Woodmere. This committee will wait on the county boundary committee walt on the county boundary committee to ascertain what the chance for a new district is. These places are located so far from the Arleta schoolhouse that it is hard for the small children to reach the building.

vestigation has developed that the man who has been selling cans of water, al-loging it to be fruit, is probably sincere in his belief. It is said that the cans in his belief. It is said that the cans wore used in the California exhibit, the labels being those of various fruits rrown in that state, and after the Fair they were thrown out and later picked up by the man who has been selling them.

DO YOU SEE

Just as well as you would like to? In a great many cases poor eye sight has been caused by glasses not fitting properly; perhaps a little too strong or you may be wearing a near-sighted glass when you really should be wearing a far-sighted glass.

The Frames may not fit your nose as they should, and instead of looking exactly through the center of the lens you may be looking through one side, which often will produce a headache

Our Optician is a graduate from one of the finest Eastern colleges, also a member of the firm, who has had years of experience and will be only too pleased to have you consult him, whether you buy glasses or not. He uses no medicine or drops at all, but by the aid of the very latest instruments is able to detect the slightest error of the eve.

We charge nothing for testing your eyes. You may only need new frame, or perhaps the lenses need a slight change, and as we carry a very complete line of frames and lenses would be able to fit you out immediately.
