SPORTS OF THE AMATEUR AND PROFESSIONA

Women Athletes of the Multnomah Club Show Prowess-Jimmy Britt Writes of the Fighters

BANTAMS BURST

Frankie Neil and Harry Tenny Will Fight for Yankee Title.

BRITT ON COMING BATTLE

Hermann-Herrera Draw and Gans' Acrobatics Do Not Unravel Ring Tangle-Britt Himself Wants One More Fight.

BY JAMES E BRITT. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 17 .- (Spe cial Correspondence.)-After a long period of restful retirement from the limelight of the ring, the very little fellows go to bat next. Frankle Nell and Harry lenny will furnish the next battle for overs of the game on the Coast. The pair of bantams are wn for the Febru-This fight is a sort equel. The two hooked up be-last July, and e meeting result-in a decision for all at the end of the ropes Tenny made occasion easily him to an ther match with Tenny, like Nell and most of the Coast fighters, is a product of the ama-teur tournaments, and has shown consid-erable promise. His fight with Neil was bis first of importance, and he acquitted himself very well in that encounter. He was not used to the long distance, and lacked the experience which a few long fights with hardened warriors gives. He should be better now than he was last July, and the pair will probably make a great fight. Both are now in hard training and though I have seen neither of 'them since the match was made, I am told that Neil will be better than he ever was when he faces Tenny this much, as there will probably be talk of another match with Bowker as soon as the taugled affairs of the bigger di-visions are straightened out. I am told

The Mexican Cyclone has simmered down to a mild Summer breeze, and once more Aurelio Herrera has been given something of a setback in his Tals calls to mind a few thoughts I released some weeks ago on the comparative merits of the slugging and the clever fighter. Herrera is a slugger all right, but he had the same finish that all sluggers run into un-

In his fight with Hermann, the Mexcame out at the end of 20 rounds with a draw decision. He earned the draw by throwing all caution and box-ing to the winds and tearing in like madman in the last five rounds of the fight. If a decision had been ren-dered at the end of the 15th round, Hermann unquestionably would have

This is all a bit in the past, but it is none the less significant. It points a moral for young fighters. Fighters of the type of Herrera and Nelson have no chance to win from really clever men of their own weight in limited bouts. By getting himself into fight with even as clever a man as Hermann. Herrera forfeited much of the prestige that he gained by defeating Young Corbett, This statement, so to speak, has the effect of temporarily eliminating both men from the lightweight man to a certain degree. If either had won decisively he would have been in a po-sition to make claims for a fight ilgher up. As it is, neither has advanced much.

While we are on the subject of the lightweight class, I cannot but feel complimented, and at the same time humiliated, by the easer contest in that division to get challenges into my mail. Lack of definite knowledge as to what motives or reasoning prompts the defis prevents me from letting either pride or humiliation take

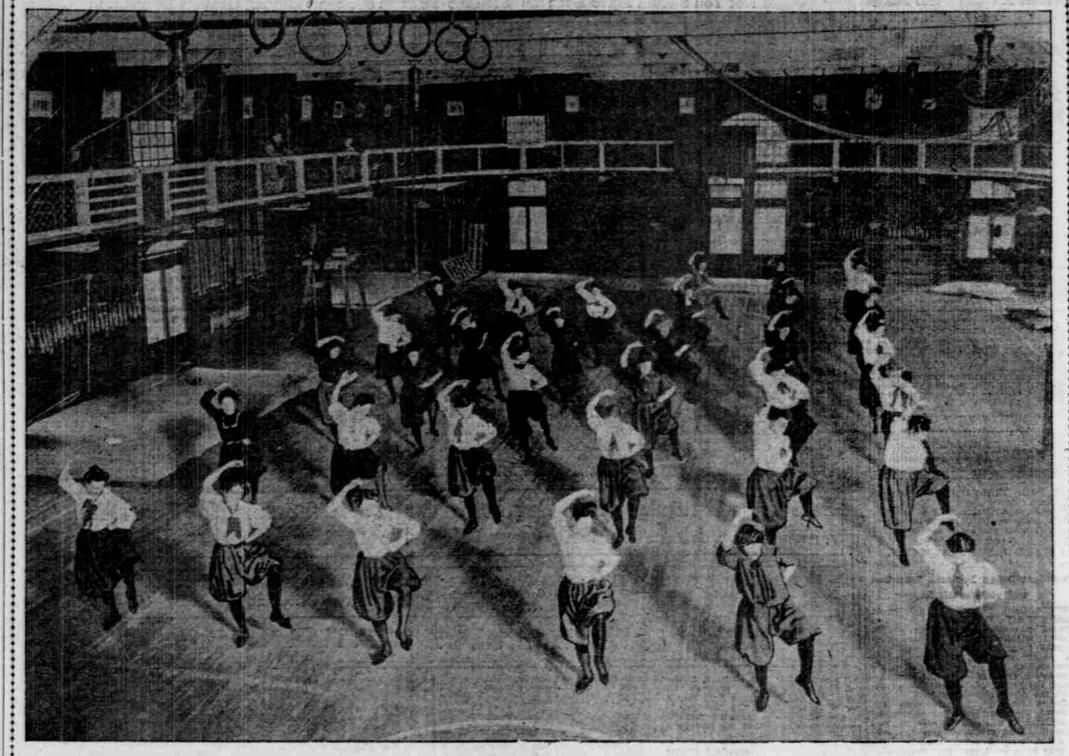

With all modesty, it seems to me that in the light of recent events the tsauing of challenges to Jimmy Britt has become a National sport in the lightweight class. Joe Gans, Mike (Twin) Sullivan, Willie Fitzgerald, Eddle Hanion. Young Corbett and some others have made known their inclination in the direction of a 20-round battle with the writer, and there is a good chance that there will be a few others in before the end of the week.

Some days ago I advanced the idea that I would like to have one more big fight, one more whiri at the cham-pionship, and then, win or lose, quit the ring. I don't know whether there is any connection between that re-merk and the ensuing flood of popu-

It would hurt my pride to think that It these fellows are camping on my trail because they think I am easy money. I am, therefore, compelled to pass up that explanation, though it may be accepted elsewhere. Whatever the source of this indus-trious challenging is, the result will be the same. They are perfectly wel-come to fight it out among themselves. For the present I do not intend to fight anybody. That is the way I feel at the time of writing, and I don't think I will change my mind before these lines find their way into print. Joe Gans' insistence that he is a lightweight leaves the welter-weight division in a worse muddle than it was compelled to announce that I can't throw any light on the situation,

PHOTOGRAPH OF THE MEMBERS OF THE WOMEN'S ANNEX OF THE MULTNOMAH CLUB TAKEN AT THEIR ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

Honey Mellody is writing letters on let-terheads which inform the recipient that he is in communication with the welter weight champ, but Honey's title is rather worse than cloudy. He was defeated by Buddy Ryan, who was defeated by Mike Sullivan, who was defeated by Gans, which would seem to make Mellody about one, two, three, four. He will, however, have an opportunity to readjust the count when he meets Sullivan in their coming battle.

If I may say so without being so If I may say so without being suspected of having evil motives, I would offer the suggestion that the game might be helped some if fighters avoided these fitp-floor from one division to another and back again. Besides being confusing to contemporary historians, it breeds distrust and discouragement in the bosoms of young fighters who have their eyes fixed on the head of the class.

before the Gans-Sullivan fight. I am match, to be held at Los Angeles. The throw any light on the situation, either.

A succession of welterweight battles put the final test up to two men for supremacy of practically the whole divisionacy of practically the strong sent claim to the championship that any fight raining in the best condition.

According to this authority, at the cond of the third round it looked as if Neil would land the finishing punch inside of two more rounds. But he sizeked up badly and Bowker outpointed him to the end. That ought to encourage our little fellows to go after the Englishman and bring the title back where it belongs.

Hency Mellody is writing letters on the situation, either in the winner. Maybe—but one might be forgiven for doubting the same, especially if Burns should be the winner. Maybe—but one might be forgiven for doubting the same, especially if Burns should be the winner. Maybe—but one might be forgiven for doubting the same, especially if Burns should be the winner. Rathe acy of practically the whole division.

A succession of welterweight battles put the final test up to two men for supremacy of the same, especially if if Burns should be the winner. Maybe—but one might be forgiven for doubting the same, especially if if Burns should be the winner. Maybe—but one might be forgiven for doubting the same, especially if if Burns should be the winner. As the same is forgiven for doubting the same, especially if if Burns should be the winner. As the same is the forgiven for doubting the same, especially if if Burns should be the winner. As the same is forgiven for doubting the same in comments and the winner. As the winner. story is also out that Jeffries will meet the winner. Maybe-but one might be ponent, and that position will be engthened in the likely event of the Kentuckian's victory over Burns.

There will certainly be an effort to get the Philadelphian into the ring with the winner of this fight, and as the general interest it would create makes the finan-cial end of the show interesting to all parties actively interested, there is very strong chance that O'Brien will be out trong chance that O'Brien will be end of the year, and probably during the Summer.

PORTLAND HUNT CLUB ADOPTS INNOVATION.

Hares Will Drag Anise Bag. Which Will Give Dogs the Scent and Supplant Trail of Paper. "

Before another six months rolls around members of the Portland Hunt Club will be following the hounds in their crosscountry runs. A. M. Cronin, an enthusi-astic member of the club, has started a kennel. In the first shipment of fox hounds which Mr. Cronin brought to Port-land he was unsuccessful, for they were taken sick and died. Not discouraged, however, he bought others, and now he has four well-bred and well-trained hounds in the pack, but it is Mr. Crouin's of the dogs.

No effort to secure real foxes for the chase will be attempted, because the country in and around Portland is not open enough. There are too many wire fences, and the brush is such that it would be practically impossible to follow either the fox or the hounds. As a starter the dogs will be balted with anise seed bags. The bags will be dragged over the trail by the hares, and when they have been gone a certain length of time, the bounds will be unleashed at a signal from the master of the hounds, with the riders following in close pursuit. Three of the hounds in Mr. Croain's pack are exceedingly fast, and it will take some very fast riding for the riders to keep within sight of them until the club members get used to following the pack. At first it will be necessary to break the trail occasionally so as to slow up the dogs. When the pack gets into perfect training, the club members will go to some near-by point where the country surrounding will give them a chance to hounds, and before many weeks the riders intention of increasing the pack to six and knows what it is to kill.

bers of the Hunt Club, the members wil

Murphy Knocks Out Yanger.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.-Benny Yanger, of Chicago, was knocked out tonight by Tommy Murphy, of New York, in the fourth round of what was to have been a six-round bout, at the National Athletic Club. Yanger was floored at the end of the third round, but was saved by the bell.

Chemawa Wins the Game.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE TO BE SHORTENED AT UNIVERSITY.

Will Begin October 20 and Six Games Will Be Played-Coach is Not Yet Chosen.

the schedule of last year," said Manager-elect Guy Mount, of the University of Oregon eleven, who spent yesterday in the city:

"There is a general demand, not only from members of the faculty, but from the student body and the players themselves, that the schedule be of shorter duration and contain fewer games than that of last year. For the ast two seasons Oregon has played eight games, the first one coming early in October, and the last one on Thanksgiving day. This year's play-ing season will not begin until October 20, and will end as usual, on Thanksgiving day. There will be no California trip and our games will be confined to our rivals in the Pacific Northwest. There will be six games in all-five intercollegiate contests and ne with the Multnomah Club. Be-ides Washington, Willamette and Corvailis we shall meet Idaho and one other Northwest college eleven. The Oregon-idaho game will probably be played in Portland, the games with Washington and Willamette in Eugene and the annual match with O. A. C.

"The comparatively light schedule will enable the players to keep their classroom work above criticism, and the men themselves will be in better condition for the two or three games that they are especially anxious to win. With one exception all of our players of last season are still in cellege. None of them were 'flunked' in the recent mid-year examinations.

"We are undecided as to choice of a coach, but have any number of applicants. There is a general feeling among the students that we should secure the services of a competent coach who can devote his entire time The hounds were raised by a brother of Mr. Cronin's in California, and are especially well bred. Lane, the big dog, is to our athletics-football, baseball, track and all other branches. Members of the faculty favor such a syssplendid hound. He has a fine nose He has tem, which is meeting with success at many colleges of the East and Middle West. Members of our faculty are not killed several coyotes, and is built on lines which show great endurance and speed. Lady Bell and Miss Dolly are two welldisposed to adopt any stringent rules pointed bitches. They are learning very rapidly, and before long will be ready for the field. White is a well-marked bound. for the government of athletics for our record is clean and the Athletic Council is managing our different branches of sport in a satisfactory manner. The changes in the football rules will be welcomed by supporters but he is a little frail and exceedingly timid. It will take a great deal of pa-tience to make a good hunter out of him. The four dogs are worked every day. At first when the anise bag was lifted from the trail, the dogs when they lost the scent would double back instead of making a wide circle in search of the scent again. He has finally broken the pack of this habit, and now, instead of going back, each bound will start in a circle, and when one of them has again struck the scent, he howls a signal to the of the Oregon eleven, for we have al-ways been in favor of an open game. Our prospects for next season are ex-ceptionally good for most all of our old men will be in college again. We expect to turn out a good, strong track team this year, and for the first time in its history the university will recognize baseball as an intercollegistruck the scent, he howls a signal to the others. If the trials behind the hounds are successful and enjoyed by the memate sport. I am told that most of the teams of the Northwest will arrange lighter football schedules this year." increase the pack to about a dozen, and the paper chases will be a thing of the

Mr. Mount came to Portland to meet his brother. Judge Wallace Mount, of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington. He will return to Eu-gene this morning.

Track-Betting Declared Legal.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 17.-The Supreme Court today declared the Rice-Ligon anti-race track betting bill unconsti-tutional. If there are no intervening steps by those favoring the bill the decision means that horse racing will be resumed in Tennessee this Spring

WOODBURN, Or., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—A basket-ball game between the Chemawa and Woodburn High School teams in this city tonight resulted in a victory for the Chemawa team. The score was 3 to 34.

SHOW SKILL IN GYM

Multnomah Women Members Show Advancement.

MANY GRACEFUL ATHLETES

Fancy Dance Steps, Club Swinging and Fencing, High Diving, Fancy Stroke Swimming Are Features of Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of women's ain-letics which took place at the Multnomah Club Friday morning, was a notable one, in that it showed a material advance in amateur sports and athletics by the women members of this popular organization over that of last year. A class of about 50, under the direction of Robert Krohn physical instructor of the club did Krohn, physical instructor of the club, did both themselves and their leader great credit in a drill on the gymnastic apparatus, fancy dance steps, club swinging and fencing. The members of this class are mostly young, and their year's work had hardened them into shape for the strictly first-class work they were able to do.

While the dance steps and grace were most pleasing to the spectators generally, there was deep interest exhibited in the symnasium work proper, the skill and suppleness of muscle exhibited being a surprise to all present. Especially was this true of a series of exercises known as mut work, in which Mr. Krohn was able to show that his pupils have developed great strength of the muscles of the back, abdomen and legs. A drill with wands was both graceful and spectacular, eliciting loud applause from the spectators, and the "rocking step" proved a great favorite with the guests also.

At the conclusion of the gymnasium work an aquatic exhibition was given by the pupils of Instructor W. L. Murray in the swimming-tank, which proved one of the features of the day. The high-diving, fancy-stroke swimming and life-saving exhibition were a revelation to the many who had not before witnessed the Muitnomah giris' work in this line of sports, and the spectacle was thoroughly enjoyed. The class includes several of the best swimmers and divers in Portland, and their graceful, fearless work reflected most satisfactorfly upon Mr. Murray, who is a champion in aquatic sports and ac-knowledged to be the best teacher on the Coast. There is a popular movement on foot to have a night set aside at least once a month when both men and women may enjoy the swimming pool and the game of water polo, which is now

The year, although not nearly over, has been a very successful one with the wom-en's annex, which, under the presidency of Miss Edna Jeffrey, has steadily grown and become popular. The club is at the disposal of the women members two mornings of each week, Tuesday and Friday, and there are also nights set aside for bowling when women are admitted. their skill in this sport often proving superior to that of the men. Handball has been popular this season, and a good deal of tennis was played during the recent clear weather. The swimming and gymnasium work, however, are always in the lead. The gym closes on the first of June, but tennis and swimming are actively engaged in during all the Summer onths, and when parties go to the river of Multpomah pupils are generally the st swimmers there,

FAVOR THE RUGBY GAME.

California Authorities Are Impressed With This Kind of Football.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA: Berkeley, Feb. 17 .- (Special.) - After witnessing a championship Rughy contest between the New Ze and Vancouver teams, which Zealand played on California field on Saturday, local football enthusiasts are unani-mous in their approval of the English sport. The game showed so many points of superiority over the American style of play that in all probability it will be used for one or both of the intercollegiate contests between California and Stanford next Fall. Most of the members of the faculty athletic committees and the players of the California and Stanford teams were on hand to witness the sport, and now many of them have come out openly in favor of Rugby. President David Starr Jordan was one of the spectators, and has announced his opinion of the game as follows:

"I like the game very much, and in a great many ways it is better than our college game, though I think that some of the features of the American game could be incorporated in Rugby. I can see that the game is much better suited for high school players who are immature and have not had the training of college men."

"The Rugby game is a good one to watch," said Captain Roy Ellfott, of the California team, yesterday, "It is full of motion and long runs and kick-ing, so that it is good for the specta-tor. However, I should like to see another game on a dry field before coming to any conclusion on the matter."

"Rugby would serve to bring out hundreds of college men who could hundred to be t hundreds of college men who could not hope to play the present American game," says "Heiney Heitmuller, foot-ball and baseball star. "I think our present game should be changed so as to incorporate the Rugby passing fea-ture, which is very good." Colonel George C. Edwards, chair-man of the California faculty athletic committee is heartily in fayor of the committee, is heartily in favor of the new game. "I think Rugby is a splen-did game," he says. "It seems to me to afford much more enjoyment for the onlookers, and is not so hard on the players. The absence of delays for 'time out' is a feature that I like. The playing of the New Zealanders was a revelation. Their speed and handling of the ball was a treat to witness."

Training on Track and Field.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Berksley. Feb. 17 (Special.)-Training for the Spring track and field contests is now in Spring track and field contests is now in full blast at the University of California. Trainer Walter Christie and Assistant Bill Hayward are busy rounding into shape a squad of nearly 130 men who signed up for training at the athletic raily a week ago. This is the largest squad in the history of the university, and out of it will be developed two teams to uphold California, one for the varsity intercollegiate meet and the other for the freshman meet, which will be held two weeks before the varsity match.

weeks before the varsity match.

At present the trainers are at work principally with the freshmen. Prospects are bright, but freshmen are very uncer-tain, and very little can be relied upon until the day of the meet. The freshmen Cambridge Defeats Oxford.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Cambridge defeated Oxford today by three goals to one in the annual association football match.

FOUR POXHOUNDS OWNED BY A. M. CRONIN, AND LANE, THE KINGPIN OF THE PACK.