

SHE BECOMES WIFE

Miss Roosevelt Married to Nicholas Longworth.

BRILLIANT WEDDING SCENE

Thousands of Guests Witness Twelfth Wedding in White House. Distinguished Men and Beautiful Women.

Theodore, Jr., descended the main staircase and entered the East room by the west doors. She was preceded by Major Charles McCawley and other military aids...

Mrs. Roosevelt's Dress. She wore a superb gown of cream-colored brocade, heavy and richly designed, on which were figures of blue and brown interlaced with threads of gold...

Enter the Bridegroom. Following her almost immediately came the bridegroom, the Hon. Nicholas Longworth, accompanied by his best man, Thomas Nelson Perkins, of Boston...

Scarcely had the bridegroom entered the East room when the doors of the state dining-room at the west entrance of the main corridor were flung open and the bridal procession started for the extemporized altar.

Bridal Party Enters. The bride and Miss Roosevelt had descended from the upper apartments of the White House by the elevator. They had passed into the private dining-room and thence into the state dining-room...

As the procession moved through the main corridor and into the East room, the Marine Band orchestra rendered effectively the grand march from Wagner's "Tannhauser."

BRIDE NEVER LOOKED BETTER. Wedding Gown Splendid Creation of Specially-Made Material.

Miss Roosevelt never appeared to better advantage. Perfectly self-possessed and thoroughly appreciative of the situation, she graciously recognized and bowed to personal friends who lined the way to the altar.

Her wedding gown was an exquisite creation. It was of heavy white broadcloth satin, point lace, chiffon, filmy tulle and silver brocade. The material from which the gown was created was manufactured expressly for Miss Roosevelt.

A voluminous tulle veil practically completely enveloped the graceful figure of the charming bride. In her hair it was caught and held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. Her dainty slippers, in perfect harmony with her gown, were fastened with silver brocade and tulle bows caught with orange flowers instead of buckles.

The bride wore no jewels except the magnificent diamond necklace which was the gift of the groom. She carried a lovely shower bouquet of the rarest and daintiest white orchids which the groom was able to procure. The fragile blossoms were arranged in a cascade effect, falling over her right arm nearly to the foot of her gown. The bouquet was tied with chiffon satin ribbon in long bows.

THEY ARE MADE MAN AND WIFE. Beautiful Episcopal Service Ends With Giving of Ring.

As the ushers reached the platform they separated, and the President and the bride passed through the two lines. Mr. Longworth stepped forward and received Miss Roosevelt from the arm of the Presdent, and together the bride and the bridegroom ascended the two steps of the platform. Miss Ethel Roosevelt relieved the bride of her bouquet and held it throughout the ceremony. As Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth faced Bishop Satterlee, a hush fell over the assemblage. Every one of the thousand present wished to catch every syllable of the ceremony which was to follow. In a distinct, resonant voice the bishop began the beautiful marriage service of the Episcopal Church. The responses of both the bride and the bridegroom were audible distinctly throughout the great apartment. Particularly clear were those of the bride, whose voice was as natural and distinct as in ordinary conversation. While her face was a shade paler than usual, her self-possession was perfect, and she went through the ceremony without a symptom of nervousness. When the venerable Bishop Satterlee asked the question prescribed in the ritual, "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" President Roosevelt ascended the platform and bowed to the distinguished prelate. Taking, then, his daughter's hand, he placed it in that of the bridegroom. Having performed this function, the President resumed his place at the right of Mrs. Roosevelt. The best man, Mr. Perkins, then produced from a pocket of his waistcoat the gold circlet with which the couple were wedded, and handed it to Mr. Longworth. When he had placed it on the fourth finger of his bride's left hand, the bishop pronounced that they were "man and wife."

RECEPTION AND BREAKFAST. Happy Couple Receives Congratulations and All Enjoy Feast.

At the conclusion of the service, which occupied less than 15 minutes, Mr. and Mrs. Longworth held an informal reception of the guests attendant on the ceremony. President Roosevelt was the first to greet and to offer his best wishes to the bride and groom. He was followed by Mrs. Roosevelt and then by the bride's brothers and sister in the order of their age. Mrs. Longworth and the sisters of the bridegroom then extended their congratulations. They were followed by the distinguished personages present, the Austrian Ambassador and Mme. Hengelmuller leading the diplomatic contingent as the acting dean of the corps. Immediately after extending their greetings to the bride and the bridegroom, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt passed through the main corridor into the Blue room. There they received the guests at the wedding after they had offered their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Longworth.

Passing from the Blue room, the guests entered through the Red room and main corridor into the state dining-room, where an elaborate buffet wedding breakfast was served. No attempt was made to seat any of the guests, but attentive waiters saw to it that no guest was left unattended. The reception and the serving of the breakfast continued until shortly after 2 o'clock. By that time the greater number of the guests had left the White House and the bride had retired to the upper apartment to prepare for her going away.

A photograph of the bride in the wedding gown was taken before her departure from the White House. President and Harvard Friends Spend Jolly Half Hour.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—The Harvard flavor which permeated the Longworth wedding ceremony crystallized in an out-and-out Harvard celebration later. After the departure of many of the guests President Roosevelt, the blushing Nicholas and the ushers and numerous members of the Decillion Club, the undergraduate organization of that institution, entered the private dining-room, where for half an hour the bride and groom were toasted in true club style, with many toasts of wine, merry jests and joyous song. The doors were locked to prevent interruption, and the only outsider present was the steward of the club, brought here to officiate at the celebration.

The wedding cake proper is reported to have been three feet across and a foot thick, with icing between its layers and sugar cups on top. The name of the lucky finder of the ring has not been disclosed.

GROSVENOR IS DEFEATED. Veteran Ohio Congressman's Delegation Shut Out of Convention.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 17.—General Charles H. Grosvenor was practically defeated for re-nomination for Congress when his forces at Pomeroy were defeated and had to hold a rump convention. Meigs County will therefore send two delegates to the Congressional convention at Lancaster. The Grosvenor and anti-Grosvenor forces came to blows today preceding the withdrawal of the former. It is believed that the delegate of the rump convention will not be seated, making Grosvenor's defeat certain. Grosvenor has served 29 years as Congressman.

handkerchiefs to them until they were out of sight. Just as the automobile drew away from the White House an old shoe groom, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt wedding alighted on the top of the machine and it remained there as long as the car was in sight. It soon became noised about that the bride and bridegroom had left the White House, but not until that fact became known definitely did the throng about the White House grounds disperse.

BRISTOL EXPLAINS LETTER. Action by President Expected Early This Week.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 17.—District Attorney Bristol's explanation of his famous letter to the Cooe Bay Land & Improvement Company was received in Washington today, but as all official business was practically suspended on account of the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding, no consideration was given to it. The letter will be laid before the President on Monday, and it is expected that final action will soon thereafter be taken. Inasmuch as Mr. Bristol's answer has not yet been submitted to the President, to whom it is addressed, no statement is made as to its contents, and it is not likely that any official announcement will be made before Monday. It is believed, however, that Mr. Bristol admits having written the letter in question, though offering an explanation of his motive, which, he claims, justifies his action. What his explanation is cannot be learned. Mr. Bristol's letter will probably be referred to the Attorney-General for report. His recommendation will go back to the White House with the letter, and the President will take such action as the facts justify. Senator Fulton has not yet been requested to amend any one else for the place. The matter is expected to be disposed of by Monday or Tuesday at the very latest.

MISBRANDING OF SALMON. Special Law Introduced, Heyburn Bill Not Covering Evil.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 17.—Senator Heyburn's misbranding of salmon, nor is it believed that any provision of the bill will cure this evil. The Heyburn bill is aimed primarily at the misbranding of salmon in the State of Oregon, and is not regarded in this light. It is the belief of Pacific Coast Senators that specific legislation will be necessary to put a stop to that practice, and a bill to that effect is now pending, though it has not been acted upon.

JOHN D. BUYS RAILROAD. Acquires Wisconsin Central to Haul Ore From Iron Mines.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—It was reported today that John D. McCall, the former president of the New York Life Insurance Company today, announced that almost all hope for his recovery had been abandoned. Mr. McCall was much weaker today than at any previous time during his illness, this condition being due largely to the fact that for several days he has been unable to take only small quantities of liquid nourishment. McCall grew weaker this afternoon, and the end appeared to be near. The Rev. Matthew Taylor, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church of the Blessed Sacrament, in New York City, which Mr. McCall's family attends, was summoned to go at once to the patient's bedside. Members of the family gathered in rooms adjoining the sick chamber. Late tonight Mr. McCall was reported as being very low, but it is believed that he will live through the night. All the members of the family are present tonight and they expect to be summoned to Mr. McCall's bedside at any moment.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP-- RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

La Grippe Is Epidemic Catarrh.

LA GRIPPE spares no class of nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the masses and the classes are all subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

La grippe is well-named. The original term, la grippe, is French, but it has been shortened by the busy American to one word, "grip."

Without any intention of doing so, a new word has been coined which describes the disease exactly. The ailment clings to the patient as tenaciously as if some terrible giant had clutched him in a fatal clasp.

Men, women and children—whole towns and cities—are caught in the baneful grip of this terrible monster.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip caught you? If so, read the following letters.

These testimonials will show you the quickest and best means of ridding yourself of this tenacious disease and its after-effects.

Suffered Twelve Years From After-Effects of La Grippe. Mr. Victor Patneaud, 238 Madison street, Topeka, Kan., a well-known carpenter and member of Knights and Ladies of Security, writes:

"Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and I never really recovered my health, strength, but grew weaker every year until I was unable to work."

"Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again."

"This Winter I had another attack of la grippe, but Peruna soon drove it out of my system."

"My wife and I consider Peruna a household remedy."

Pneumonia Followed La Grippe—Pe-ru-na, the Remedy That Brought Relief. Mr. T. Barnecott, West Aylmer, Ontario, Can., writes:

"Last Winter I was ill with pneumonia after having had la grippe. I took Peruna for two months, when I became quite well, and I can say that any one can be cured by it in a reasonable time and at little expense."

"Every time I take a cold I take some Peruna, which makes me well again."

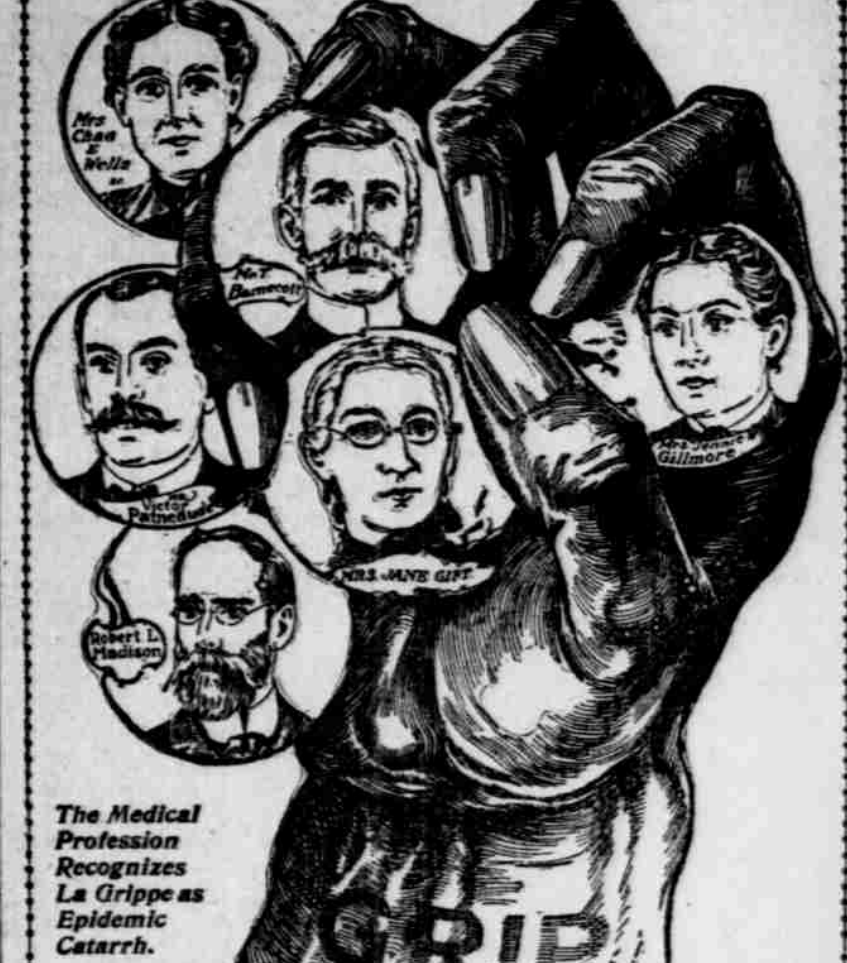

"I also advised it for my daughter, who was so ill with prostration that she could not follow her trade of dressmaking."

"A bottle of Peruna made such a change in her that she has been able to follow her trade ever since."

"I also induced a young lady who was all run down and confined to the house to take Peruna, and after taking Peruna for three months she is able to follow her trade of tailoring."

"I can recommend Peruna for all such who are ill and require a tonic."

Mrs. Jane Gift, Athens, O., writes: "Six years ago I had la grippe very bad. I read a testimonial of a woman who had been cured of grip by Peruna. My husband bought me a bottle of Peruna. I was soon able to do my work. I continued using it until I was cured."

The Medical Profession Recognizes La Grippe as Epidemic Catarrh.

Systemic Catarrh, the Result of La Grippe. Pe-ru-na Receives Credit for Present Good Health.

Mrs. Jennie W. Gilmore, box 44, White Oak, I. T., formerly housekeeper for Indiana Reform School for Boys, writes:

"Six years ago I had la grippe, which was followed by systemic catarrh."

"The only thing I used was Peruna and Manalyn and I have been in better health the last three years than for years before."

"I give Peruna all the credit for my good health."

Pe-ru-na—A Tonic After La Grippe.

Mrs. Charles E. Wells, Sr., Delaware, O., writes: "After a severe attack of la grippe I took Peruna and found it a very good tonic."

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes: "I had a severe spell of la grippe, which left me with systemic catarrh. A friend advised me to try Peruna. The third bottle completed the cure."

'Most Effective Medicine Ever Tried for La Grippe.'

Robert L. Madison, A. M., principal of Cullohex High School, Painter, N. C., is chairman of the Jackson County Board of Education. He has for nearly six years been teaching in Painter.

He is a writer of occasional verse and has contributed to a number of leading papers and magazines—religious, educational and secular.

In speaking of Peruna, Mr. Madison says: "I am hardly ever without Peruna in my home. It is the most effective medicine that I have ever tried for la grippe."

"It also cured my wife of nasal catarrh. Her condition at one time was such that she could not at night breathe through her nostrils."

"In consequence, an inflamed condition of the throat was brought about, getting worse and worse, and yielding to no remedy until Peruna was tried."

For special instructions, address Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

DIVIDED AS USUAL

Many Democratic Senators for Philippine Bill.

WILL INSURE ITS PASSAGE

Two Democrats on Committee Will Vote for Favorable Report, While Three Republican Members Will Oppose It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The Philippine tariff bill, which has been held up in the Senate committee ever since it passed the House, is soon to be reported. The Democrats of the committee, who were supposed to be solidly arrayed against the bill, held a conference today, and two out of the five declared their intention to vote to report the bill—Carmack of Tennessee and McCrea of Kentucky.

Three Republicans, however—Hale of Minnesota, Burrows of Michigan and Brandegee of Connecticut—are opposed to the bill, but even with this line-up the bill will have a majority of one, and will be reported in substantially the shape in which it passed the House.

This favorable report foreshadows its ultimate passage, for it demonstrates what was not known before, that the Democrats in the Senate will divide, some favoring and others opposing the bill. An attempt had been made to induce the Democrats to stand out solidly against the bill on the ground that it was not an absolute free trade measure.
