

MANY Portlanders sought the beautiful Willamette the night of the Fourth as a fitting and restful culmination after a noisy day with the irrepressible small boy, with effervescent animal spirits and his string of firecrackers.

At sunset myriads of multicolored fireworks illuminating an already brilliant sky, the dazzling electrical display at the Oaks and Golf Links, picturesque launches and canoes gliding to and fro, and the groups of gaily-colored Chinese lanterns swinging merrily on the trees, made a picture to be stored in one's memory.

The Waverly Golf Club was the scene of several informal dinners the night of the Fourth, followed by a brilliant display of fireworks, and at 9 o'clock dancing, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Nichols entertained a dinner party, also Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alvord. In another party were Miss Inez Barrett, Miss Amy Heitshu, Mr. and Mrs. George Durham, Miss Bradford, Miss Rachel Joseph, Mr. Webb, George and Richard Wilder and Mr. Morton.

A charming musical afternoon was given by Mrs. W. S. Ladd and Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Pratt, of New York. The rooms were delightfully cool, and the guests enjoyed the splendid program which Miss Yilla Whitney White and Miss Josephine Large gave with rare artistic taste. Piano numbers from Bach and Chopin and songs from Brahms, Schubert, Schumann and Mendelssohn formed the programme, after which delicious ices were served in the drawing room. Among those present were Mrs. Henrietta Mallins, Mrs. Frederick Bykes, Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Mrs. W. L. Brewster, Mrs. Richard Nunn, Miss Nan Wood, Miss Emma Felling, Mrs. H. D. Green, Mrs. E. H. Rood, Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mrs. James McI. Wood, Mrs. B. C. Ball, Mrs. E. T. Tucker, Mrs. Hewitt, Miss May Montgomery, Miss Maud Ainsworth, Mrs. R. L. Barnes, Miss Miriam Strong, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. E. H. Brooke, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. E. B. Linticum, the Misses Wilson, Mrs. Parke and many others.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery is visiting in the East.

One of the most beautiful garden parties of the season was given on Saturday, June 23, by Miss Sallie Lewis, in honor of her guest, Miss Nina Adams, who returned lately from Honolulu. The beautiful lawn of the U. H. Lewis residence, which is one of the handsomest in the city, was artistically arranged with Turkish rugs, rustic seats and dainty card tables, where bridge was played from 2:30 to 4:30. A handsome mahogany table, placed under the shade of the trees, was presided over by Miss C. L. Wilson, Miss Winnie Myrick, Mrs. A. C. Tucker, Mrs. L. A. Brewster. The table decorations were white lace mats, and a floral centerpiece of Japanese iris in the delicate pastel tones. The Spanish Students, hidden by green boughs, played during the afternoon. Bridge was followed from 4:30 to 6 by a large reception, which consisted of many of Miss Adams' old friends. Those present were: Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. E. B. Wilson, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. H. E. Jones, Mrs. G. H. Flanders, Mrs. E. T. Pratt, Mrs. C. F. Beebe, Mrs. Robert Hewitt, Mrs. Henry Hewitt, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens, Miss Minnie Russell, Mrs. A. C. Niblack, Miss Large (from Chicago), Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Mrs. Holt Wilson, Miss Kathleen Burns and others. Handsome gowns were in evidence.

Miss Lewis wore a gown of black grenadine, combined with handsome lace.

Miss Adams was gowned in an attractive white costume.

Mrs. H. C. Wilson in a handsome gown of white, combined with lace and embroidery.

Mrs. A. P. Niblack, white net and a stylish blue girde. With this costume was worn a white picture hat and blue ostrich plumes; ornaments, turquoise.

Mrs. C. F. Beebe, white linen, with trimmings of Mexican drawn work.

Miss Martha Hoyt, a dainty frock of figured organdie, combined with blue, a picture hat with pale blue plumes, completed this pretty costume.

Mrs. Fred Pratt, of New York, a handsome white linen, combined with Mexican drawn work.

Dr. Philip Johnson, of New York City, is visiting his cousin, Mrs. William C. Alvord.

Miss Isabella Gauld, who returned recently from college, gave a pretty tea last week at the Gault residence on King street. The affair was in honor of several members of the younger set who are leaving the city for summer vacations, and for Mr. Gauld's college friends who have been attending Smith.

Notable among the interesting events of the late summer season was the musical given on Monday evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hoyt on King's Heights. All the prominent singers—Mrs. Rood, Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. Cousen, Ralph Hoyt and Arthur Alexander. The Boyer Quartet, which consists of Harry Hoque, Dom Zan, W. H. Boyer and W. A. Montgomery, sang some attractive numbers. Mrs. Vincent and Miss Bertine Armstrong played brilliant piano selections. Mrs. Bauer and Mr. Alexander sang a beautiful duet from Verdi's "Il Trovatore." Miss Glanty, a new singer from Australia with a beautiful voice, charmed her listeners. Miss Glanty is a handsome brunette with a most pleasing personality. Punch was served on the piazza by Mrs. H. C. Wortman. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wortman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A.

Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey, Miss Mosa, Miss Bauer, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Nichey, Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Miss Susan and Blossom Ericz, prominent society girls of San Francisco, are the guests of Miss Fannie Brown.

Mrs. George Gerlinger and Mrs. Louis Gerlinger, Jr., of Dallas, entertained a merry house party from Portland over the Fourth. The George Gerlingers have recently moved into their attractive new residence, where an informal dance as a house-warming was given the night of the Fourth. Bridge, picnics and motor-ing served to pass the time most pleasantly during the brief stay. Among those who composed the house party besides the hosts and hostesses were: Mr. and Mrs. G. Dalton, the Misses Susan and Blossom Ericz, of San Francisco; Louis Gerlinger, Sr., Clifford McArthur, C. B. Rhodes and Harry Elden.

Miss Von Destimon and Miss Olga Von Destimon called this week for a three weeks' trip to Alaska.

A pleasant form of diversion on the Fourth of July was planned by Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett at her beautiful suburban home, which adjoins the Charles Ladd residence on the Whitehouse road. Supper was served at 7:30 on the gallery, followed by a display of fireworks. The guests then divided, half viewing the fireworks along the river from a launch and the rest from motors.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Miss Iiss Koehler, Miss Henrietta Felling, Mrs. Pratt, Miss May Felling, J. Wesley Ladd, Miss Effie Houghton, Miss Helen Ladd, Harry Corbett, Hamilton Corbett and Kurt Koehler.
