CANNOT REDUCE CLAIMS

"Quitters" Will Not Be Allowed to Claim Exemption From Obligations in California by Withdrawing From State.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.-(Special.)-The first suit to be commenced by service compel settlement of fire losses by welching companies was begun at noon today by summons being served at Wolf's office in the case of Charles F. Smith against the Eagle Insurance Company. This radical change of policy toward those com-panies which seek to escape their liabili-ties here by withdrawing from the state is in line with Wolf's own theory contained in a warning to the "quitters" concerns that they did not escape by running away, and he cited the provisions of the code to show that when they entered the California field they ex-pressly agreed to submit to the law which permits the Commissioner to be sued for claim against the company as if he pany. In this way the absence concern can be brought before the local courts and judgment obtained sgainst them ac-cording to the provisions of the Cali-radical clause in the contract. which the insurance companies have all signed, puts the policyholder in an adpany evaded this agreement by going into insolvency, thus throwing their case into the Illinois courts, where individual suits must be brought, thus rendering it impossible to combine in a single suit for many policyholders The California law, on the other hand, permits suit to be brought by an assignee, to whom can be committed the collection of a large number of similar claims. The policyhoiders in the Williamsburg City Company are progressing in this manner. The suit begun by Smith by service of summons on Commissioner Wolf is the first of many which are being prepared against the duzen or more "quitters" who thought to transfer their cases to more favorable jurisdictions by throwing up their California business and repudiating their Babilities here.

Government Loss by Disaster.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Quarter-naster-General Humphrey of the Army has compiled a statement showing that the amount necessary to be expended as a result of the fire in San Francisco under the various titles of appropria-tions for his department aggregates $2,268,478.

WANT UNIFORM FOOD LAW Oregon Men Will Speak at Food Commissioners' Convention.

HARTFORD, Conn., July 14 .- The tenth annual convention of the National Asso. ciation of State Dairy and Food Depart ments (Interstate Pure Food Commission), to be held at Hartford, Conn., July 17-20, it was said here today promises to be the most important conference of its kind ever held in this country, following, as it will immediately upon the passage of the first Federal pure food law. Manufacturers of every class and kind have been invited, and are expected to attend

In New York the impression prevails that a decision will be reached at this meeting as to whether or not the spirit of the Federal law is to be incorporated into the administration of the various state food departments. On this decision, it is said, the real service of the National legislation depends. The packers an wholesalers, as well as the importer; have complained for years of the lack o uniformity in state laws, rules and regulations concerning the sale and distribution of food products, and it is expected their tion uniform in character, which will al-low goods to be sold in all states of the low goods to be sold in all states of the Union without change in labels, size of packages or other minor characteristics.

Among those by whom papers will be read are: L. Davies State Dairy and Pood Commissioner, Washington: Professor A. L. Knisely, State Analyst, Oregon: Dr. Wiley, Chief U. S. Bureau Chemisty: A. F. Hit, Dairy Food Commissioner, Idaho; E. W. Burke, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, Wyoming: H. V. They Bind Him to Shaft as Punishment for Giving Information That Brings Them Reprimands From Foreman.

NEW YORK, July 14 .- (Special.)-Fifty nen, laborers at the King plaster works at New Brighton, Staten Island, were arrested this afternoon, charged with the nurder of a fellow-workman, Frank Getzner, a Russian. Getzner was the victim of one of the foulest crimes perpetrated in the annals of crime in Greater New York, according to the police and Coroner Farrell, who are investigating the case. Desiring to be revenged on Getzner, his companions in the workshop tied the man to a flywheel in the factory and watched him while the twirling machinery hurled his body through the air in great revolutions and beat the life out of it. While the 50 men who, it is alleged, were concerned in the murder of Getzner are now in cus-tody, the officers are looking for another man, who is alleged to have been the leader of the affair. This man, a Pole. leader of the affair. This man, a Pole, has been known at the factory only as No. 23. The police have located his place of residence, however, and have learned enough about him so that they say they will be able to locate him within a short time.

Two weeks ago Getaner reported No. 23

for being delinquent in his work. The man was reprimanded, and the investiga-tion of his case brought to light the fact, that others of the workmen likewise had been neglecting their duties. All came in been neglecting their duties. All came in for a share of the reprimand. From that moment, it is said, the workinen have planned to be revenged upon Getzner. When the men who were employed on the night shift quit work this morning and were cleaning the factory for the day force, one man, according to the police, spliced together several pieces of rope used in tying up bars. Then the 50 reasons. in tying up bags. Then the 50 men over powered Geizner and tied his legs. Th rope was passed over a shaft and allowed to trail and wind by the shafting, and as the rope tightened Getzner was lifted from the floor and the body threshed round and round, striking against the beams and machinery until life was ex-tinct. The body was still hanging when the day shift came to work. The death of Getzner was at first thought accidental.

DEMANDS ENTRY TO PRISON

Banker Anxious to Begin Serving Sentence Without Delay.

CHICAGO, July 14.—A. Gourdain, who was released from the Cook County Jail yesterday on bonds of $10,000, presonted a short time later the unique spectacle of a man trying to break into the penitentionary. Just after he was given his of a man trying to break into the peni-tentionary. Just after he was given his liberty the former banker hurried on an electric car to Joliet and demanded of the chief deputy that he be incarcerated. The deputy denied the strange request and Gourdain started back to Chicago with the avowed intention of instituting mandamus proceedings to compel the au-thorities to put him in prison at once, that he might begin without delay serv-ing the 4½ years' sentence for operating a lottery. Gourdain later explained his aversion to the Cook County Jail, "I propose to ATTEMPT TO ROB BANK Bold Daylight Attack Is Foiled and Robbers Captured.

DENVER, July 14.—Duffield Knox Duncan and John Hastings attempted to rob the bank in the Ernest & Cranmer building, conducted by Edward Eiwell, this afternoon, but were foiled and both were captured.

They entered the bank together and asked to be shown a safety deposit box. Mr. Elwell accompanied them to the vault, where Duncan struck him with short a blackjack. Elwell grappied with his assailant and overpowered him. Hastings fled, but was arrested a short time afterward at his lodgings.

Duncan formerly lived in Syracuse, N.Y., and is said to be a member of a prominent family. Hastings came to Denver from San Francisco. He lived in Cincinnati for a number of years. Prompted by Unscrupulous American. He Starts to Catch Suckers. Discovered by Accident After Two Years' Success.

BY THE COUNTESS OF BLANKSHIRE. (Special Cable to the Central News and The Oregonian.)

PARIS, July 14. - (Special.)-Michel Rougier has just been tried, convicted and sentenced to five years in prison. The details of his somewhat lengthy trial. have delighted Parisians, and there is much applause at the light sentence, for the man's supreme nerve has been greatly admired. Rougier is a mere youth of 19, yet he is a veritable Napoleon swindlers. There is the making of an ina mail-order business.

Some years ago, when Rougier was quite a boy, he was employed at a drug store in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for American visitors. A young theatrical man from New York with the gift of the gab in French and a wonderful imagination told the boy remarkable stories of American swindles and instilled into his mind the good old adage. "A sucker is born every minute." Rougier saved up a born every minute." Rougler saved up a few france, and when he lost his job and while only I7 years old he began his new career. He started a bank with a fictitious capital of $4,000,000. The "bank" was for the purpose of lending money to shopkeepers at the legal rate of interest. Advertisements were inserted in newspa-pers inviting applicants to apply to M. Morin, managing director, 8 Rue de la Harpe. To applicants the youth sent the

It is needless to inform you that the greatest secrecy will be observed." "Sir; The board of management of 'La Rougier kept systematic books which show that he netted over $3000 by this scheme and then stopped because co-plaints were too numerous and busine The next swindle was shown in the young man's books as follows:

"Unique! For one month only the American Watch-Making Company will American watco-making company will offer, as an advertisement, ladies' gold watches (solidly stamped) for eight francs ($1.75) and men's gold watches (solidly stamped) for 15 francs (35). Send postal order to M. Morin, agent, 8 Rue de la Harpe."

This scheme only ran a month, it cost $100 for advertisements and cheap watches, and the receipts were not over "Astounding!" ran his advertisements, "The American Doctor Kinley begs to draw the attention of the French public to his cures. He cures every malady, even those described as incurable. For pamphlet send five francs (31) to M. Kinley, 8 Rue de la Harpe." The "American specialist" treated his patients by correspondence. He, of course, exacted another fee for his remedy, which was put up in gaudy boxes and consisted of cigar ashes. Hundreds of testimonials were received by the swindler, thanking him for his marvelous remedy and telling how splendidly it had cured. These were genuine testimonials, and the swindler's books show that he made several thou-books show that he made several thou books show that he made several thou-and dollars by this scheme.

He either got tired of it or the money did not come in fast enough, for he start-ed another in a few months. In this he became in imagination a newspaper proprietor and tourist agent rolled in one

His advertisements were as follows:

"Free excursions! From Paris to London and New York for $30 by subscribing to the journal, 'New York, London, France,' To Chicago and the Wild West to the journal, "New York, London, France," To Chicago and the Wild West for S extra. Send postal order to M. Morin, S Rue de la Harpe."

He actually had rpund-trip tickets of many colors printed, bearing the names of fictitious steamshp lines and railroads, one of which was the National Railway of America, Department of New York. But suckers did not bite fast enough on this wonderful idea so the how swindler.

this wonderful idea, so the boy swindler went into the quack business again, but this time to treat cattle. This was his nouncement:
"The Treasure of the Farm! Cures all three children at his home. Three posses seases in cattle. Send five francs to M. are still searching with bloodhounds. diseases in cattle. Send five francs to M. Morin. 8 Rue de la Harpe and get the Sovereign Remedy with instructions how

Farmers in the provinces sent some thousands of dollars and got the same old cigar ash remedy, but there were not swindlers. There is the making of all interesting book in his exploits, which were carried out with amazing ingenuity. But his success says little for the postal authorites of Paris, for the youth used the same address for every scheme, and each one was carried through successfully as a mall-order business.

Some years ago, when Rougier was guite a boy, he was employed at a drug store in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for stores and stay one or two days, just in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for stores and stay one or two days, just in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for stores and stay one or two days, just in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for stores and stay one or two days, just in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for stores and stay one or two days, just in the Avenue de l'Opera and delivered many goods at the hotels nearby for stores and stay one or two days, just in the house in the house in the louse in th order to get goods for nothing, would seek employment in various kinds of stores and stay one or two days, just long enough to steal some stationery, cards and rubber stamps. He chose out of town stores and generally found out where the merchant dealt in Paris. Then he would visit this establishment, order what goods he wanted as a secret content of the missage and told where the weap-tention of the missage and told where the condition of their parents and other children, the alarm was quickly given. Late tonight John Graham made a full confession. Implicating all of the negroes under arrest. His father, Mitchell Graham, was the chief conspirator. He worked for one day only at a druggist's at Nogent-sur-Marne. Then properly armed with credentials he went to wholesale heaven in Paris and account. a wholesale house in Paris and ordered about $100 worth of goods, including some poisons. He was to return in an hour, when the goods would be ready for him. Five minutes after he left the store in walked the druggist from Nogent-sur-Marne. When he started to give an order he was told of the one already being packed for him, and the consequences was that when Rougier returned the police were there waiting for him. And only through this arrest and the subsequent overhauling of his room in the Rue de la Harpe did the police discover that the boy swindler was a veritable Napoleon at the game.
