

W. C. NOON APPEALS

Asks Supreme Court's View on Handling Estate.

STILL FIGHTING MOTHER

Son Wants Father's Realty Held for Prospective Increase in Value—Widow Wants Living Income Now.

W. C. Noon, Jr., one of the executors of the will of his father, W. C. Noon, yesterday filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of Judge Webster, which was affirmed in the State Circuit Court, ordering certain profits earned by the W. C. Noon Bag Company distributed to Emily C. Noon, the widow, and the children and grandchildren.

The court ordered real estate sold to pay the debts of the estate, instead of using the profits of the W. C. Noon Bag Company for that purpose. Executor Noon and others desire to hold the real estate because they say it will increase greatly in value. Mrs. Noon and the legal heirs say if the latter course is pursued and the profits of the company used to pay the debts of the estate, they will be deprived of any income for a long time.

The estate is a large one, and the controversy from a legal standpoint is interesting.

LET'S WIFE GO FOR VISIT

Now She Won't Come Back, and Arnsperger Wants Divorce.

John A. Arnsperger, a sawyer employed at the Standard Box Factory, alleges that his wife, Dora J. Arnsperger, in September, 1905, went to Southern California, taking their son, 6 years old, and that she has refused to return to him, so yesterday he filed suit for a divorce. He says she went away with his consent on the understanding that her absence was to be only temporary. He says he has sent her $15 per month for support, but that she has written to him that she does not intend to live with him any longer. They were married in Portland April 18, 1890.

George I. Green, a cigar dealer, whom Maude A. Green is suing for divorce, has been enjoined by Judge Frazer from disposing of his property. Mrs. Green demands temporary alimony and also $10,000 permanent alimony. Recently she filed an affidavit that Green had arranged to convert his property into cash so as to prevent her from obtaining alimony.

Mary E. Payne caused an execution in the State Circuit Court yesterday against her husband, Edward Payne, to collect $15 per month alimony. Payne once worked for Inman, Poulsen & Co., but the deputy sheriff was unable to find him to serve the papers. He is reported to have left the city.

Because of desertion from June, 1904, Joetta La Barr has sued Everett E. La Barr for a divorce in the State Circuit Court. They were married at Spokane May 3, 1904.

Probate Court Affairs.

The Anaconda Copper Company, through Emmons & Emmons, attorneys, filed suit in the State Circuit Court yesterday against A. R. Diamond to recover $25 on notes executed in November, 1905. D. Germanus, guardian of Joseph Brandt, insane, filed a report in the County Court yesterday, showing $230 on hand. Mr. Germanus says he endeavored to locate friends or relatives of Brandt in his native country, Hungary, without success. The guardian says he thinks Brandt is not the correct name of his ward.

Inventory and appraisement of the estate of Joseph Clunio, deceased, showing property valued at $5,149, was filed in the County Court yesterday.

New Advertising Company.

W. H. Chapin, H. C. Griesel and Mabel Griesel yesterday filed articles of incorporation of the Commercial Advertising Company, capital stock, $200. The business of the company is to produce all kinds of typewriting and imitation typewriting, the addressing and mailing of all kinds of mail matter, acting as public stenographers, and general advertising, printing and publishing.

Loses Hand; Goes to Poorhouse.

Louis Atkinson, a Swedish laborer, was brought to the city from Bridal Veil yesterday morning with a left hand gone. The man is said to have sprained his hand under an O. R. & N. train while drunk Friday night. His hand was amputated by the company's doctor at Bridal Veil. Having no funds, Atkinson was turned over to the county almshouse.

Holmes Case Dismissed.

Having secured a return of money which they accused J. A. Holmes, an employment agent, of illegally withholding from them, Walter and Paul Freitag, laborers, failed to enter a formal complaint against Holmes in the Municipal Court, and Judge Cameron dismissed the complaint. Holmes denies he attempted to defraud the workmen.

$5000 Damage Suit in Prospect.

Clara M. Pelton was appointed in the County Court yesterday administratrix of the estate of her husband, Frank P. Pelton, deceased. She recites that the estate and heirs have a claim for $5000 damages against C. D. Stansell, F. F. La Lent and the Portland Rendering Company, for causing Pelton's death.

To Exploit Pigeon Springs.

Articles of incorporation of the Pigeon Springs Mineral Water Company were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday by L. W. Wynkoop, S. Lee and J. V. Beach; capital stock, $50,000. The object is to sell Pigeon Springs mineral water.

THE PEEK-A-BOO WAISTS

Member of W. C. T. U. Says It Is a Fine Thing.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 4.—(To the Editor.)—I am a woman past 50, the mother of a large family of children, and inclined to stoutness. For years I have dressed in black, but when the present fashion came in I decided to make a change. I could not make up my mind to wear décolleté, but the open lace neck covering met an actual need during the recent hot spell. Suffering as I have for years from the heat, it was a positive joy to feel the cooling effect of an openwork neck screen and of short sleeves. Now I can go into the kitchen and cook a big dinner, wash up the dishes—for most of us women are perforce kitchen maids—and, presently, retire to the parlor, cool and unsweated even with the whitest waist. The saving in laundry work alone is enough to commend the
