PIONEER'S BIRTHDAY.—The relatives and friends of C. T. Bonnell, a pioneer of 1853, gathered at his home last Wednesday, at Oak Grove, and celebrated his 53rd birthday. Mr. Bonnell drove an ox-team across the plains with a train of Iowa people, and came to Milwaukie when that place was the largest town in Oregon. He helped saw out the lumber which was used in the erection of the old two-story building in which the Bishop Scott Academy was founded. He also helped put up several buildings. Mr. Bonnell spent several years in the mines and drifted about somewhat, but again returned to Milwaukie and now resides at Oak Grove. He is in good health and expects to see many more birthdays.

WET ASPHALT STALLS EIGHT-HORSE TEAM.—An eight-horse team and a heavy load on a slippery pavement were the center of attraction for a crowd that gathered on Seventh street near Alder last evening. The large steam excavator which has been at work preparing the basement for the Corbett building was being transferred to another locality when it struck a spot where the street sprinkler had just passed. They might, the horses could not move their heavy load. Each time they were urged on they would slip and often fall to their knees. At last all the men and boys in the crowd got behind and shoved and the big excavator was taken on its way.

SUMMER VACATION HAS NOT LESSENED THE SALES OF LOTS AT UNIVERSITY PARK. The business-houses are doing an increasing volume of business. There are no saloons in that district to sap the life from the merchants. It is becoming more and more apparent that University Park is destined to become the business center of the great city now building between the rivers. Its strategic mile and a half mile gives it far the biggest payoff on the peninsula. The great Chicago packers have let the contract to build their dock for their Oriental business on the section line due north of University Park, which will add another monthly payroll of $25,000 to the University Park district.

FUNERAL OF ROBERT NELMUS.—The funeral of Robert Nelmus, the 12-year-old son of Peter Nelmus, killed by accident at Long Beach Wednesday evening by being rolling on him, was held yesterday afternoon from the German Catholic Church. Interment was in Riverview Cemetery. The death of this boy was a great loss to his parents.

FUNERAL OF A. A. COOK.—The funeral of A. A. Cook was held at St. Mary's Cathedral, corner East Eleventh and Oak streets, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Father Black officiating. Interment was in the Riverview Cemetery under the auspices of the Travelers' Protective Association. The Elks also marched in a body with the cortege, the deceased having been a member of both orders.

CRITICALLY SICK.—Z. P. Jones, a prominent business man of Goldendale, Wash., and father of Mrs. Elmo Robinson, of Albany, is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. It was feared he might not live through yesterday, but there was some slight improvement in his condition last evening. Mr. Jones has been in failing health for the past year.

ALBERT CASWELL DEAD.—Albert Caswell, aged 51, at one time in the employ of the city, died at his home, 361 Weldier street, yesterday afternoon after a long illness. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the family residence at 1:30 o'clock. The body will be cremated.

Jeff New Kills Deer With .22 Rifle

Elevator Boy in Oregonian Building and His Faithful Dog Follow Quarry Eight Hours in Tillamook Wilds.

TO SHOOT a full-grown, four-pronged buck deer with a .22 rifle is a feat seldom accomplished nowadays. Jeff New, an elevator pilot of The Oregonian building, has just returned from Seaside, where a handsome specimen fell before his little "pop-gun," which he had taken along to shoot squirrels and pigeons.

"Little Jeff" had the time of his life while spending his vacation in the wilds of Tillamook County, and returned home as proud as a peacock over the feat of killing the deer, evidence of the accomplishment of which he brought in the shape of the antlers of the animal. Jeff modestly asserts that he would not have secured his quarry had it not been for the tenacity with which his faithful dog followed the deer for over eight hours and finally brought it to bay in Neatuck Creek, where three well-directed shots from the small bore "cannon" ended its career. Jeff says he is sorry he did not save the entire head of the animal, but he was afraid it would not keep until he reached a place to preserve it properly, and on that account took only the antlers. He reports that big game is scarce in that vicinity, but that the streams are teeming with trout.

WE ARE TAILORS. Correct System, Perfect Equipment, Attractive Prices, Faultless Fit. A tailor shop equipped with every improved labor-saving device, employing the best cutters and tailors, trained to make and work like one man, means the production of better garments at a less cost than can be produced by the old-fashioned methods. Such is our organization, and our reason for stating that we can, for $25 to $35, make for you from the best fabric a suit or overcoat of as good value as you get elsewhere for 50 per cent more. Armstrong the Tailor, rooms 10-11 Raleigh building, Washington and Sixth streets.

$35,000,000.00 Worth of Diamonds

Were imported into the United States in the fiscal year 1906. In 1905 there were $27,000,000 and in 1904 $19,000,000. This means that never in this country's history were so many of these precious gems bought as during the last 12 months gone by, notwithstanding the fact that diamonds have been advancing steadily in price for several years past. Twenty-five years ago only the very wealthy (with a few exceptions) wore them. Now they have become so popular the supply is hardly equal to the demand. We make a specialty of diamonds and the reason we sell so large a proportion of them is due to the fact that our prices are reasonable and our guarantee is one that carries weight with it.

We Never Misrepresent a Stone. We do not handle a badly flawed diamond under any circumstances, and when we do sell one, even with the slightest imperfection we do not hesitate to speak of it. We feel that when a customer is putting his money into a diamond it's his privilege to know just what he is getting, and we make it a point to let him know all about it. That's our way of selling diamonds. We don't have to make all sorts of promises that we do not intend to fulfill, but what we tell you is absolutely true and our customers know this to be so. If you want a diamond, see us before buying.
