The concluding open tennis handlcap tournament of the season opened at the Irvington Tennis Club yesterday afterirvington Tennis Club yesterday after-noon and will continue for two weeks. The greatest number of entries ever made in any tennis tournament in the Northwest marks this as the most im-portant tennis event this section of the country has known, and it also gives the Irvington Club the distinction of Deing the greatest promoter of this popular sport of any organization on the coast. The number of names entered is 100, 52 being for men's singles over 25 entries for this event at the last tournament.

The number of names entered is 100, 52 being for men's singles over 25 entries for this event at the last tournament. The two weeks' play will really include three tourneys in one, one being an open handicap and the other two for the men's club championship and the ladies' club championship, open to club members only. The open handleap includes five events, men's singles, ladies' singles, men's doubles, ladies' doubles, and mixed doubles, these being open to everybody. The tennis and handleap committee, which has churge of all tournament ar-rangements, is composed of W. K. Scott, A. B. McAlpin, F. H. V. Andrews, C. F. Fisher and C. H. Leadbetter. Everything is in readiness for a complete and per-fectly-arranged tournament and the so-cial side of the affair promises to be fully as enjoyable as the sport. Inter-est in tennis is now at its height at irvington, and the competition for club championships promises to be the key-note to the entire situation. There was a good gallery present yea-terday, the convenient little grandstand which has been erected by the club for the comfort of spectators being filled with tennis enthusiasts. MARTIN JASPER RECITES TALE OF FEARFUL INJURIES.

Skull Fractured, Nose Broken, Brain Laid Bare, Left Eye Blinded and Paralyzed.

Suit for $40,000 damages because of arious personal injuries was filed in he State Circuit Court yesterday by Martin Jasper against the Bunker Hill Martin Jasper against the Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining & Concentrating Company. On April 20, 1905, Jasper was attending to a jig used in concentrat-ing ores and in separating quartz. He alleges the line shaft was operated by water power, and that water used in flushing ore was carelessily allowed to fall una balls consisted the booms fail upon belts, causing them to become unsafe and to slip from the pulleys. Jusper alleges that a belt slipped from a line-shaft pulley and that the fore-man directed him to assist him in pulling it back in place by means of a rope while the machinery continued to run at full speed. He says that his arm was caught in the rope and that he was thrown between the eccentrics of the jig, striking upon his head, shoul-ders, back and arm and crushing and breaking his skull over his left eye, breaking his nose, exposing his brain, knocking a part of the bone of his skull from the head, and otherwise in-juring him. His left eye, he says, is to-tally blind and the vision of his right eye so impaired that he cannot see a movement of a functor event at close movement of a finger except at close range; that he has lost the feeling of his left tample and is para-lysed in his left arm and side. Jasper is 43 years old and has a wife and five children. His attorneys are Robertson & Rosenhaupt, of Spokane, and Thomas O'Day.

Will Modify Plans of City Hall.

City Engineer Goodrich, of St. Johns, will&modify the plans he prepared for the St. Johns City Hail so that the cost will come within the appropriation made for the structure. It was proposed to put up a $10,000 building, but the city has $11,100 in its building fund. There were no bids a show outcome, out the city may show of in its building fund. There were no bids submitted in response to the call two weeks ago. Contractors, so it is claimed, would not bid for the reason the plans were for a building that could not be built for $10,000. Some assert that the struc-ture ended not be built for less than $15.000. ture could not be built for less than $15,000. City Engineer Goodrich says contractors did not bid because they are arraid of the Council. He has been instructed to mod-J.
