A Little Talk on the Fall Fashions From

The Lipman-Wolfe "School of Style"

From now until Fall fashions have ceased to be a matter of feminine interest, women will find our second floor an authoritative and leading school of style.

Its lessons in art in dress will be given by practical illustration, guided by the most expert taste to be found in New York. It will have little to do with fads, and nothing at all to do with foolishness in dress, but it will have everything to do with novelty, originality, good taste, good judgment and all the factors that go to make up "that exquisite thing called Style."

Its lessons, besides being interesting and enjoyable, are free. It costs you nothing to look and learn, and if you buy you save money.

The Lipman-Wolfe School of Style Store aids you to style decisions by the elaborate displays of ready-made costumes, produced by the best skill and genius of this continent. They not alone tempt you to put an end to all worry by securing the finished garment, but they are beautiful in ideas for the making up of your own goods.

This season is going to be a season of individuality. All lengths of coats are going to be fashionable—from the jaunty Eton to the sweeping 36-inch models.

In this showing we are displaying hundreds of exquisite new models—not dozens of a style, but scores of styles, thus broadening the scope of selection for the most critical and stylish dresser.

The prices range from $15 to $75. The individual pricings are very attractive.

Beautiful Styles in New Fall Waists

This is the first showing of advanced Autumn styles in waists. There is a subtle charm, a tonic freshness about the sheer, soft, white and daintily colored silk waists that will appeal to every woman who loves dainty blouses—what woman does not? Their remarkable beauty lies in the exquisite fabrics of which they are made; in the various laces, filmy, fine, heavy, that trim them—the latter arranged in new and effective combinations as well as in the cut. They all radiate beauty and newness—the messaline, chiffon, taffeta, the nets, plaids and silk dot chiffon waists. Both elbow and 3/4 sleeves. Prices $10.00 to $25.00

STRIPS OFF MASK OF HIS OWN PARTY

Walsh Resigns From Democratic Committee With Stinging Words.

CONTROLLED BY CAPITAL

Iowa Leader Denounces Executive Committee of 1904 Campaign and Analyzes Members' Antecedents.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Sept. 1.—Charles A. Walsh, the Iowa member of the Democratic National Committee, who was secretary of the National Committee during the two Bryan campaigns, has tendered his resignation as a member of the National Committee, giving his reasons for so doing in the following letter to Chairman Tom Taggart, which was mailed today:

"Permit me to herewith hand you, as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, my resignation as a member thereof, representing the State of Iowa thereon. For the future I intend to be an influential supporter, or not support, as I may see fit, the candidates of the Democratic party. "While I have heretofore always been known as a partisan Democrat, and who always been a staunch supporter of Democratic principles as I understand them, it has been steadily borne in upon me for a long time, as I come closer and closer to a knowledge of the inner workings of the party system, that, from the standpoint of true Democracy, there can be nothing worse or more injurious to the country than the 'yellow dog' party feeling that impels good men to support a ticket of unit nominees merely because they bear the party label.

Corporate Control of Party.

"Within the Democratic party, as within the Republican, there are two contending factions, the vastly more numerous but disingenuous times the influential but powerful and usually the rank and file which believes in the principles of Jefferson. The other faction, numerically insignificant, but representing the predatory forces of special privilege and those who seek to use all Government as an asset to their private business interests, by reason of wealth and lack of conscience in using it, usually more powerful and usually controls the party plan, its organization and its nominees.

"As an instance of how important the corporation element believes control of machinery to be, I might mention the flagrant violation of all party precedent in the appointment of the present Democratic National Executive Committee. The executive committee had always, prior to the campaign of 1904, been appointed chiefly (and so far as my recollection goes, wholly) from the regularly-elected members of the National Committee, usually being made up of those members from the most doubtful states, which it was necessary to carry in order to elect.

Sheehan's Record in Brief.

"How was the real campaign organization formed in 1904? An executive committee was made up, carefully limited to seven members, and those seven members were William F. Sheehan, chairman, of New York City; August Belmont, of New York City; James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey; Thomas F. Martin, of Virginia; James M. Coffey, of Pennsylvania; John R. McLean, of Ohio and the City of Wisconsin, and Timothy E. Ryan, of Wisconsin. The four mentioned were not and are not members of the National Committee.

"Sheehan, formerly a discredited Buffalo politician, builder of the most vicious political machine ever known in Erie County, arrested for flagrant violation of the civil service law, his machine finally routed and he practically driven from Buffalo, is now, with his partner, Judge Parker, one of the chief corporation lawyers of New York, representing among others the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, and has represented in legislative halls and the courts Consolidated Gas, Edison Electric and many others. He is a discredited politician, a developer, a promoter, the company lately caught stealing the city's water on Long Island, and in many other corporations.

Belmont Franchise-Grabber.

"Belmont is the head of the American branch of the famous European banking house of the Rothschilds. He organized the company that captured the New York subway. He is a director in about 30 special privilege-seeking corporations. He maintains a legislative bureau with a press annex, and is notorious for his lobbying methods. He is the leading promoter of horseracing and race-track gambling.

"Smith was formerly the iron-fisted boss of the Essex County machine, the friend and tool of William C. Stickney, reputed friend of Governor Robert B. Ingham, but betrayed him in his Senatorial fight in 1905 and had himself elected to the United States Senate while in the saddle as boss of the State of New Jersey. The graves frauds were revealed in that state, and in a whirlwind of public reprobation he and the party were driven from power in 1894 and the party power has never been regained in New Jersey. In the Senate he was the same corporation lawyer, cowkeeper, Gorman and Brice. His last appearance in the limelight was as receiver of the International Shipbuilding Company, when he asked a $200,000 fee, although the work was largely done by attorneys, his bond was only $100,000, and the total sum which passed through his hands was only $1,250,000 in the aggregate. The Attorney-General opposed this and the fee was cut down.

Guffey, Standard Oil Man.

"Martin, prior to election to the United States Senate, was the attorney for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, while Guffey is looked upon as the field agent of Standard Oil.

"Indeed, the only member of the Democratic National executive committee not known as a special representative of that corporation class which is constantly seeking special privileges of city, state or National Government is the late-named member, Mr. Ryan. And the only reason for the selection of the latter over Roger C. Sullivan, the undoubted political representative of the gas, traction and other corporations of Chicago, was a family row then on between two Illinois factions.

UNIQUE CAREER OF NOTED CROOK

Former Chicago Boy Has a World-Wide Record as Robber and Convict.

ESCAPES FROM PRISON

Sent to Spend Life at Devil's Island He is Rescued by Relatives and Friends After Being Reported Dead.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Chicago relatives and friends of "Eddie" Guerin, the ill-famous bank sneak and criminal, are engaged in an endeavor to save him from the fate of a life sentence on Devil's Island. Solicitor Stimmis, of the British Treasury Department, is making an investigation which will decide whether Guerin will spend the rest of his life on the scene of Dreyfus' imprisonment or be allowed his stolen freedom under the flag of England. On this France and England are engaged in an inquiry into Guerin's citizenship.

Robs Express Company.

Guerin continued a picturesque criminal career by the daring robbery of the American Express Co. in its office, Rue Scribe, Paris, in 1901. With a companion he entered the office and lay concealed until night. The two men attacked and overpowered the attendant, blew the safe and escaped with $30,000 francs, but was finally arrested. He had previously served an eight-year sentence in the prison of Marseilles for the theft of 250,000 francs from the Bank of Lyons. His sentence was life on Devil's Island.

Makes Unique Get-Away.

Spectacular as had been Guerin's career, his rescue from the island was more spectacular. His brother, "Paddy" Guerin, reformed safebreaker and hand-book-maker, now living in Chicago, "Pat" Guerin and friends who knew the Guerin family of the West Side, were always credited with the rescue. A purse of several thousand dollars was raised. Guards at the Devil's Island prison were said to have been bought. One night "Eddie" Guerin was reported dead to the prison authorities and orders were given for his burial in the sea. It was another man who died. Guerin escaped to a secluded part of the island, where a schooner picked him up. Guerin was carried to Dutch Guiana, where he took another boat and fled to London, England. From London he came to Chicago and the report of his arrival here started the investigation for the prison records of Devil's Island showed him dead.

Takes Things Easy.

Guerin lived in ease in Chicago for a while, but later drifted to England again and was picked up on the streets of London by a Scotland Yard man as a suspect. The French authorities took measures to secure his extradition. That was six months ago, and so strenuous a fight has Guerin put up that the British government has gone to the extreme of sending a special solicitor to investigate the records of Guerin's birth and facts concerning his father's citizenship.

Chicago West Side Training.

Guerin is 45 years old. He is dressy and well spoken. On the West Side he had the advantage of a good home and careful training. He chose a life of reckless crime before he was 18 years old. Associating with thieves and suspected of many robberies, the Chicago police had to fasten a crime upon him or to drive him out of the city. At last he got into a fight with Detective Tom Trehorn. The contest was a desperate one and the result was an exchange of shots, in which the detective was seriously wounded. Guerin fled from the city, and was next heard from in Allegheny City, Pa., where he robbed a bank. He escaped to New York the day he was arrested, but was recaptured in Chicago, where he was again tried and sent to the penitentiary.

Robbery of the Bank of Lyons.

The robbery of the Bank of Lyons, which netted $50,000 to the thieves, happened soon after Guerin's release from his American cell. The robbers were N. C. Goodwin, Mrs. L. Beutives of Scotland Yard, London, had a fierce fight before they captured Guerin, but he was taken back to France in irons.

Fairbanks Entertained at Denver.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 1.—Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks arrived in Denver today en route to Boise, Idaho, where he will attend the irrigation congress next week. About 70 prominent business and professional men were in the city to greet him. A luncheon given in his honor by Thomas F. Walsh, and later the Vice-President held a reception at the Republican Club.

MUST WEAR THEIR HATS

PRIEST MAKES OBJECTION TO BAREHEADED WOMEN. Says It Is All Right at Washtou, but Not to Be Tolerated When Attending Church.

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Another blow has been dealt to a prejudice among women here. Priests and preachers have condemned the "peek-a-boo" and short sleeves but the Rev. Father Arthur J. Teeling, rector of St. Mary's Catholic Church, has gone one step farther and has declared the highly-fashionable custom of women going bareheaded is immoral. Father Teeling has issued an edict in the Monthly Calendar of the church that women with heads uncovered will not be permitted to enter the church.

Rev. Peter M. Manning.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—Rev. Peter M. Manning, of St. Andrew's Church, state chaplain of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in which organization he was very prominent, died today of paralysis, aged 33 years.

Young Men Will Keep House.

Sixteen young men of the Young Men's Christian Association have formed a club to be known as the Association Club and they are keeping house at 355 Third Street. The place will be a boon to young men away from home and who are dependent on the traditional boarding-house. The club members propose to give an at home to their friends September 15, when a fine musical and literary programme will be presented.
