Italian Warship Comes for a Visit Before Going to Puget Sound.

WILL NOT REMAIN LONG

Prominent Local Italians Arrange to Fete Officers and Crew Before Departure of the Vessel Next Tuesday.

Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Italian cruiser Dogali dropped anchor between Burnside and Steel bridges. The craft is about the same size as the cruiser Umbria which visited the local port during the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The Dogali is a new steel ship Company's new liner Arctio due to reach this city on her first voyage on her new route some time today. The vessel is a large carrier and will be able to handle more freight than any of the other vessels the company has on the run at present. She is bringing about 3000 tons of general freight from the Bay City, and when she sails on the return trip September 8 will have the largest cargo aboard that has ever been sent from here to San Francisco by one steamer. Her outward cargo will be considerably more than 5000 tons.

The work of discharging and loading the vessel will not be commenced before Tuesday, on account of the longshoremen's decision to observe Labor Day, but extra gangs will be put on then and no delay is anticipated on account of the loss of 24 hours.

Buoys for Northern Waters.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 1.—(Special).—The lighthouse tender Columbine will leave tomorrow morning with a number of United States Engineers on board to visit the light stations in Alaska. She will go as far as Valdez, which is farther north than any tender has ever been before. Besides delivering supplies at the light stations, the Columbine will set some buoys in the northern waters and will also select the site for a proposed new lighthouse.

To Take Manchuria's Passengers.

HONOLULU, Aug. 31 (S. P. M.).—The Toyoko-Kisun Oriental Company's steamer Hongkong will take 62 passengers of the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, stranded on the north end of Oahu, to the Orient.

He Finds Companion in Portland and Sets Out on Career of Crime That Captain Bruin Chances By to Nip.

Abused by his father so that he had to run away from home last October, then turning thief, pickpocket, hobo, burglar and purse-snatcher—this is the story, told last night by Alfred Hanson, a 13-year-old boy, when arrested by Captain Bruin after he had with another boy made an unsuccessful attempt to snatch a woman's purse in the O. W. P. & Ry. waiting room on Alder street.

The career of the boy, his admission of crimes committed in nearly ten cities on the coast, and his acknowledgment vessel and is equipped with the latest type of armament, having been thoroughly overhauled previous to being sent to the Pacific Station. She is commanded by Marquis Capomazza, whose naval rank is that of commander. Her complement consists of 15 officers and 250 men.

The warship arrived at Astoria last Wednesday, and was to have come direct to Portland, but at the urgent solicitation of United States Senator Fulton, which was seconded by Italian Consul C. F. Candiani and many prominent citizens of Astoria, Marquis Capomazza decided to remain there for the Regatta ceremonies. The sailors from the cruiser participated in the parade in honor of the queen and other exercises attending the annual festival at the city by the sea. On account of the delay at the mouth of the river, the vessel will not remain in Portland very long, as her time in these waters is limited, and by Tuesday next she will probably be on her way to Puget Sound. In the meantime the local Italian Societies are preparing to treat the officers and crew to numerous entertainments, which will have to be shortened to fit the stay of the ship.

A committee consisting of Dr. C. F. Candiani, Albert Ferrera, Frank Tozzi and John Cordano spent most of last evening in completing arrangements. Unless plans are altered today, there will be a dance given in honor of the officers and crew of the warship tomorrow evening.

The Dogali consumed a little over 12 hours in coming up the river, which was due to the smoky conditions prevailing along the river. Pilot W. H. Patterson was in charge of the vessel, and says that the thick haze hanging over the water makes necessary to use extreme caution coming up.

The Dogali will be open to visitors from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon, and all those desiring to visit the foreign fighting machine should avail themselves of the opportunity today, as this will probably be the only chance to see the ship on account of her limited stay. The various boathouses have arranged to run extra launches to and from the cruiser this afternoon.

BRABLOCH BREAKS LOOSE

Big Swells From Cruiser Dogali Causes Ship's Cables to Part.

While the Italian cruiser Dogali was proceeding through the local harbor on her way to the anchorage above the steel bridge, her wash caused the British ship Brabloch to break loose from her moorings at the Oceanic Dock, and had the current been running very strong a serious accident might have resulted before a tow boat could be secured to bring the vessel back to her berth. As it was, the ship did not get away from the dock and was again moored before any damage resulted outside of the breaking of the cables.

The first officer of the Brabloch notified Harbormaster Biglin of the occurrence, and that official expressed his intention of investigating the affair, for the complainants allege that the warship was proceeding up stream too rapidly. Pilot Patterson was in charge of the Dogali.

STRATHNAIRN IS CHARTERED

Kerr, Gifford & Co. Secure Another Large Steamship for Grain.

Kerr, Gifford & Co., which concern chartered the large British tramp steamship Knight of St. George on the arrival of this vessel, has added another large vessel to carry grain to the United Kingdom. The new charter is the British steamship Strathnairn, 2700 tons net register, which is at present on her way from London to San Francisco with a cargo of cement, and is expected to reach her destination in a few days. In addition to these two vessels there are the British steamships Sheik and Imogen, and all four of the vessels carry from 3000 to 6000 tons each.

AZTEC DUE ON FIRST VOYAGE

New San Francisco Liner Expected to Reach Her Dock This Morning.

The San Francisco & Portland Steam-

8 o'clock last evening with a miscellaneous cargo of 1200 tons for San Francisco.

The steamer Nome City will shortly be sent to this city for a cargo of railroad ties, which were received by Agent F. P. Baumgartner, of the California & Oregon Coast Steamship Company.

The British bark Jordan Hill, 217 tons, has been chartered to bring a general cargo from Rotterdam to this city, and will probably be engaged to carry a cargo of grain on the outward voyage. She will sail about October 1.

The river steamer Charles R. Spencer will be ready to resume her run to the Dulles tomorrow, as the repairs to her damaged shaft have been completed, and she was launched yesterday from the ways of the Portland Shipbuilding Company.

SHIPS GATHER FOR REVIEW

Naval Fleet to Pass Before President in Long Island Sound.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The great fleet of war vessels, torpedo boat destroyers and auxiliaries which are to participate in the splendid naval review to be held in Long Island Sound, off Oyster Bay, on Monday, when they will be reviewed by President Roosevelt, began to assemble in the harbors near Oyster Bay and across the Sound in New Haven today.

British Organize Rough Rider Legion

LONDON, Sept. 1.—An interesting test was made today to settle the rival merits of the Western American and Queensland (Australia) methods of manning animal pack trains. Two teams, one from the Legion of Frontiersmen made up of men who gained experience on Western ranches and in mining camps, and the other composed of Queensland rangers, started this morning from London for Brighton, after having attached a hundred-pound load to each of their pack horses. The distance from this city to Brighton is 50 miles. The teams will return from Brighton to London tomorrow. It is not so much a question of time as the condition of the horses and packs on their return. The Legion of Frontiersmen is being organized throughout the empire, being the first introduction of the Rough Rider element into the British militia.

OSTRICH PLUMES

that he knew he was doing wrong revealed a story like that of the familiar character of "Artful Dodger," described by Dickens. Harristown, Portland, Walla Walla, Tacoma, Spokane, Bellingham, Seattle, Centralia and Portland were visited by the boy, who reaped a harvest in each one.

According to his own story, Hanson began when he was 6 years old by stealing some candy and gum from a store near his father's ranch, on the Silverton road, about six miles from Salem. After that he went further and further down.

Back for More Plunder.

Mrs. F. J. Shelton, who lives at Arieta, informed Captain Bruin yesterday afternoon that two small boys snatched her purse late yesterday afternoon at the O. W. P. & Ry. waiting room. In the evening Captain Bruin suspecting that the boys would make other attempts to snatch purses or pick pockets in the crowded waiting room made a trip there. After a few minutes he noticed two boys, whose descriptions agreed with those furnished by Mrs. Shelton, dodging between the crowds. Presently he saw one of the boys approach a woman who was at that time using her shoes and attempting to snatch the bag she had laid on the bench alongside. The other boy also attempted to take the purse, but the woman suspecting something grabbed her bag and laid it on her knees. The boys then left, going up on First street. Captain Bruin followed them closely behind and soon saw one of the boys make an attempt to steal some bananas from a fruit stand. Then the Captain grabbed the youthful thieves and brought them to the station.

All Work and No Play.

"My father was very cruel. He made us work all day long and we never got a rest," said young Hanson, "and I ran away. I left home in October last year and went to Haristown. There Dr. Dale took me in and sent me to school. I stayed with him about six months, when my father wanted me to come back and I decided to run away again. I took $20 of Dr. Dale's money and beat my way to Albany. I began by selling papers but shortly the Norris & Rowe circus came along and I and another boy, Earl Hight, went to Pendleton with the circus.
