

ADMIT THEIR GUILT

Bandits Who Held up Automobiles Confess Crime.

ONE A BOLD, BAD MAN

Jeff Hall, Alias Howard, Armed With Automatic Pistol Loaded With Poisoned Dum-dum Bullets—Pal a Youth.

Jeff Hall, alias Howard, and his accomplice, Tim Bernard, local pioneers in the crime of holding up automobiles, confessed their guilt yesterday and were removed from the City Jail to the County Jail to await trial.

That Hall was provided with this style of ammunition is taken as conclusive evidence that he is a dangerous and murderous criminal.

The promptness with which they were nabbed after holding up two automobiles on the Linton road Friday night no doubt relieved them of any such impression as that, Captain Bruin and Officer Price had Hall and his pal in custody before their crimes were an hour old.

Not only did the men confess yesterday but letters taken from C. D. Robertson, one of the occupants of the auto which were held up, were found on them.

BOUNDARY HEARING ENDS

When Transcribed Testimony Will Be Forwarded to Washington, D. C.

Taking of testimony by the Interstate Boundary Commission relative to the dispute between Oregon and Washington over the boundary question as applicable to the Columbia River seining grounds, was concluded at the Portland Hotel yesterday afternoon.

for Washington, and J. H. Reynolds, of Salem, for Oregon, and thereafter transmitted to Washington, D. C.

Only two witnesses were examined at the hearing yesterday, Captain William H. Patterson, a local river pilot of deep-sea vessels, testified as to the main ship channel being on the north side of the Columbia River and that it was the channel pursued by ocean-going vessels.

Captain Cleveland Rockwell, who has been connected with the coast Geodetic Survey since 1858, with the exception of his term of service in the Civil War as a member of the staff of General Sherman, was equally as positive that the main ship channel, concerning which the controversy hinges as to the boundary between the two states, was in exact accordance with the Washington contention.

Captain Rockwell, who is a resident of this city, bears the distinction of being the only surviving member of General Sherman's staff. He was first assigned to the Columbia River in connection with the survey and charting of the Columbia River in 1858, and is the official compiler of all the Government charts offered in evidence by the State of Washington.

COL. GANTENBEIN RESIGNS

SEVERES CONNECTION WITH OREGON NATIONAL GUARD.

Military Affairs Interfere With His New Duties as State Circuit Court Judge.

Colonel C. U. Gantenbein, commanding officer of the Third Infantry, Oregon National Guard, forwarded his resignation to Adjutant-General Pitzer yesterday, to take effect at the end of the present month.

His resignation will cause much regret, but no great amount of surprise in National Guard circles, as the Colonel's intention in this regard has been known for some time.

Just whose shoulder straps will gain the eagle is a question not yet settled. Colonel John Poorman, of Woodburn, an excellent soldier, is next in rank but it is his intention to retire from service shortly.

The two other candidates are comparatively young men, Major John L. May and Charles E. McDonnell, of the Third Oregon. Both officers are popular with officers and men and both are competent soldiers, having been company commanders in the Philippines, where they did excellent work with the famous 6th Second Oregon Infantry.

The military record of the retiring Colonel is long and meritorious. He has brought the regiment up to a high state of efficiency and it is regarded as being at this time on a war basis.

In emergency it could be massed and ready for service in a day. Colonel Gantenbein has seen 15 years of service. He was a private in the Guard for one year, Captain of Company H for three years, three years Major, one year Lieutenant-Colonel, a year and a half Senior Major in the Second Oregon volunteers in the Philippines, Adjutant-General after returning from the Orient for four years, and during the past three years Colonel of the Third Regiment.

While in the Philippines he was a member of the first military commission, which was the highest military court there and he held other important positions in the islands. Before returning he was offered a place as Justice of the Supreme Court of the islands, but declined the offer and returned to Oregon with the regiment.

A year ago he passed a regular Army examination entitling him to the command of a volunteer regiment in event of war. This commission is good until 1910 without further examinations. But three other civilians in the United States passed a similar examination.
