"Fighting Fred" Funston, now Brigadier-General, who won his spurs in Cuba and the Philippines, is on his way here tonight from Tacoma under orders to join Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon in Cuba. It was learned that during last night's conference at Oyster Bay the discussion turned upon the question of who should command in Cuba in case of armed intervention. Funston, who captured Aguinaldo, was the favorite.

While it is said no positive selection was made it was decided to summon Funston to begin a campaign of conciliation. His long service in Cuba and his wide and strong personal friendship with the patriots in the Palma government and with the insurrectionary leaders, combined with his dash and daring and his knowledge of guerrilla warfare and his

BAILEY ON OIL JOB

Hired by H. Clay Pierce for Work in Tennessee.

DID INVESTIGATION WORK

While Thus Employed Is Given Charge of John P. Gruet, Who Now Is Suing for $25,000 Back Salary.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—The hearing of witnesses in the suit of John P. Gruet, former secretary of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, against H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the board of directors, for $25,000 which Gruet claims due him as back salary, was continued today until next week in order to secure additional witnesses.

On the witness stand Mr. Pierce testified that he had obtained Gruet from the Standard Oil office in New York over 16 years ago and that Gruet had renounced the opinion that Gruet's examination at Nashville had been without value; that he had sought the accounts, instead of investigating and checking them up as he was sent to do, and that the reports were of no value. He had simply repeated the statements he had copied from the books, and the work of subsequent auditors put upon the work proved that Senator Bailey's impressions were correct and that Gruet had simply gone to Nashville and copied the books.

On cross-examination Pierce estimated his own interests in the properties at $12,000,000.

A Polluted Reservoir.

Mr. S. A. Doolittle, 253 East 2nd street, Corning, N. Y., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, as a tonic and cathartic cure in whatever form, or wherever located."

During the month of September the drinking water, especially of cities, is apt to be polluted. To supply water to a large number of people, rivers and lakes must necessarily be drawn upon.

These places become more or less stagnant during the summer. Hence the water is impure. The result is a prevalence of Typhoid fever and bowel diseases.

This cannot always be done, however. Many people are, especially in cities, upon such drinking water as the city may furnish.

Their systems are therefore contaminated with disease germs. Some of the people so contaminated fall easy prey to disease. Such people are those who happen to be in a weakened condition, or who are suffering from slight diarrhea, or other conditions of the mucous membranes of the bowels.

Therefore it follows that in cases where the use of such polluted water is unavoidable, the next best thing is to put the system in such a condition as to resist the action of disease germs.

friends regard President Roosevelt's letter and the coming of Secretary Taft and Bacon as an indication that Cuban sovereignty already is practically at an end. The consensus of opinion of this class seems to be that there will be no intervention if it is possible to continue Senor Palma as President. If this is impossible, then intervention by all means.

President Roosevelt's appeal to the patriotism of the Cuban people is not expected to have much effect here, where the people are so ready to accept and even repudiate the established government.

The Associated Press correspondent has information that some of the government officials who are closest to President Palma privately welcome the idea, and that the President himself desires intervention, though not permanent.

The only fear among Cuban business men today is that the intervention may be only temporary.

There is a somewhat marked feeling of disappointment among the veterans of the revolution who are in Cuba for reasons, would regret to see Cuba sacrifice her sovereignty in even a small degree. This feeling, however, is offset by the universal desire for a permanent settlement of the trouble and for a government which can be relied on to preserve peace under all circumstances.

Senator Sanguliv, Independent, said: "The general opinion of the Senate is a notable document. It shows the depth of his feeling for Cuba in the dual character of friend and chief of the American Republic."

The general similarity between the speech delivered by Senor Sanguliv in the Senate here yesterday and President Roosevelt's letter has been commented upon.

REBELS DODGE LIKE FLEAS. Suppression of Revolt Impossible.

The suggestion that he send a commission to Cuba, it was stated, came
