Shooting by Negro at Macon
Makes Blood of Georgians Boil.

MOB SURROUNDING JAIL

Innocence of Colored Man Provokes
Remonstrance, Which Is Met
With Bullets—Stampede
From Fair Grounds.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 6.—About 10 o'clock tonight Charles Adams and William Solomon, prominent white men, were shot by a negro and seriously injured at the fair grounds, where night shows were being given. The midway was thronged with hundreds of people. Two young women, when a negro in a very offensive manner forced his way between the couples, separating them. A remonstrance from the young men led to an encounter, when the negro whipped out a revolver and opened fire on Adams and Solomon, both receiving wounds in the stomach. The negro was promptly arrested and placed in jail.

A general stampede ensued among blacks and whites, as friends of the wounded men made threats of vengeance. Young women scrambled into cars and hacks and sought home at once. A mob of 200 strong formed and half of them went to the jail and the others to the barracks. The barracks were so well guarded that no effort was made to storm them, and this contingent of enraged citizens joined those at the jail, which was vigorously stormed. Strenuous efforts are being made to prevent trouble, the Mayor exercising all power at his command.

During the excitement at the park Pierce Bronson, a negro, fired a 38-caliber pistol at Luther Howard (colored), the ball passing through his heart.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 7, 2 A. M.—The mob at the jail is becoming less demonstrative, as the negro they seek has been placed in the barracks, which is well guarded.

This fact becoming known, had a quieting effect.

TWO LYNCHINGS NEAR MOBILE

Mob Holds Up Sheriff and Takes Prisoners From Him.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 6.—Two hundred masked men, armed with shotguns, with two negroes, charged with assault, at Pritchard switch, three miles north of Mobile on the Southern Railway, took his prisoners from him and held them on the spot. No others were hurt. The negroes had been taken to Birmingham for safekeeping and were being brought to Mobile for trial.

A tremendous crowd surrounded the railroad station during the morning, and when the report of the lynching of the negroes was received, the greatest excitement prevailed. The crowd was apparently dissatisfied with the method of execution, hanging, and a mob departed for the scene with the declared intention of burning the bodies.

Mob of Avengers Goes Out

A committee of 60 men left on the Southern Railroad at 5 o'clock this morning to meet Sheriff Powers. Two thousand men met the Louisville & Nashville train this morning, but were disappointed at the nonarrival of the Sheriff and prisoners, who had been taken to Birmingham.

Crimes have been recently committed upon Ema May Fowler, Lillian May Savell, Ruth Seraman, and attempts have been made on others whose names are not given.

Forty-five men avenged them in a lonely place just off the Holt road. The leaders ordered the mob to fire, and first with revolvers, shotguns and rifles, not to fire a shot, and the orders were carried out.

Robinson First to Die

Robinson, who committed the first crime that startled the people of Mobile and worked them into a fury, was first strung up. A long half-inch rope was thrown over the limb of a live oak tree. According to the statements of the leaders, Robinson confessed and then swung up. He slowly strangled to death. He was jerked up a distance of about 15 feet and the rope fastened. Another report is that Robinson said that he was not the man.

Thompson was hanged as soon as the body of Robinson had been strung up. The hanging was conducted in a very quiet manner.

The negro Thompson was very sullen from the time he was taken off the train until the rope was placed around his neck. Neither of the men showed signs of fear, Robinson saying all the time that he was going to heaven.

Sheriff Looks Into Revolver

When Mount Vernon was reached on the trip from Birmingham, eight men wearing white masks boarded the train. Five of them covered Sheriff Powers and Deputy Charles Green with revolvers and told them that they had come for the prisoners. The revolvers of the Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff were then taken from them. The conductor was asked to move all the people in the first-class coach to the rear seats, as more of the crowd were going to get on at Plateau. The conductor complied with the request and some of the passengers were placed in the sleeper.

One of the leaders who stood on the platform of the train, heavily masked, said that the crowd which had just boarded the train were all business men of Mobile, and that their action had been decided upon only after careful consideration. He said that, if the negroes were taken into Mobile by the Sheriff and tried under military protection, there would certainly be bloodshed and their method was the best.

Hanged on Big Oak Tree

When the train reached Creole, 13 miles from Mobile, a large number of men wearing masks and one of them carrying a bag which contained straps and ropes came on board and were given their orders. At Pritchard station the masked mob with the prisoners closely guarded got off the train and started down the road. About 100 yards from the tree on which the hanging took place the cry was given to "hurry" and the mob and prisoners broke into a run. After they had run 25 yards a big oak tree was reached and the mob stopped and ropes were produced. Fearing trouble with the neighborhood negroes, scouts armed with rifles guarded the main road. The negroes were then strung up. Nearly everybody in the crowd took part of the rope.

While the negroes were being hanged strict orders from the leader rang out: "Boys, do not fire a shot. We are carrying out the will of the people."

ANGLO-RUSSIAN FRIENDSHIP TO BE CEMENTED BY ROYAL MARRIAGE

PRINCESS
VICTORIA PATRICIA

NEGRO'S HOUSE BLOWN UP

Barricade and Resist Arrest, but Escape Finally.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 6.—As a result of ill-feelings following the recent shooting of Robert Colum, a negro, who conducted an undertaking establishment in Argenta, a city across the Arkansas River from Little Rock, John Lindsey, a white man, father of a man who was suspected by the negroes of having been implicated in the killing of Colum, was shot and killed tonight, and his son, Milton Lindsey, was wounded. The shooting, Milton Lindsey alleges, was done by Garrett and Charles Colum, brothers of Robert Colum.

The shooting took place in the undertaking establishment conducted by the Colum brothers. Following the shooting officers went to the scene, but were fired upon by the negroes, who barricaded themselves in the place. They then turned out the lights in the place and afterward made their escape through a door in the rear of the building. A crowd of several hundred armed men gathered and before it was known that the negroes had escaped all the houses in the neighborhood were searched, and as a final attempt the place was dynamited. A posse searched the home of the Colums, but they were not found there and it is supposed they escaped. The affair was not a race riot, but was caused through ill feeling of the Colums toward the Lindseys over the killing of Colum.

The grocery and undertaking establishment belonging to the Colums in Argenta is now burning. It is supposed that the fire is of incendiary origin and a call has just been sent to Little Rock asking for the fire department.

PROPOSES PASSPORT SYSTEM

Tillman's Preventive for Inevitable
Blood Race War.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—In a speech on the race problem, delivered here tonight, Senator B. Tillman declared the time had come when the South must act, and he suggested the adoption of the British passport system, by which each person must have a certificate of good character before moving from a residence or home or before being received into a new section, and that any person without such certificate be imprisoned. This, he admitted, would be placing great inconvenience on the whites, who would have to be included in the law because of the 15th amendment, but he declared that, if this plan or some peaceable one was not adopted immediately, the country surely was rushing toward the brink of an abyss which meant a horrible and bloody race war of extermination.

WHITE BY MARRIAGE

British Princess Betrothed to Czar's Brother.

SIGN OF NATIONAL AMITY

Grand Duke Michael Will Wed
Princess Patricia of Connaught,
Most Popular of British Royal Family.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—A marriage has been arranged between the Grand Duke Michael, only brother of Emperor Nicholas, and Princess Patricia of Connaught, niece of King Edward. The betrothal occurred during the Grand Duke's recent trip to Copenhagen and Scotland, from which he has just returned.

From Copenhagen Grand Duke Michael went directly to join the Imperial family in Finnish waters and received his brother's formal approval of the engagement.

He was heartily congratulated by all the members of the Imperial family. He will leave Russia in a day or two for London, where, after securing the consent of King Edward, the betrothal will be formally announced.

Michael Eligible Bachelor.

The last visit of Grand Duke Michael to London was during the Boer War, when feeling ran high and he was received with some hostility, but his approaching marriage with the most popular of the English Princesses will, it is expected, inspire a different welcome.

Though until the birth of the infant heir to the Russian throne, the Grand Duke was one of the most eligible of the royal bachelors of Europe, he never figured prominently in matrimonial gossip, except that there was some talk several years ago of his engagement to his cousin, the Grand Duchess Helene, daughter of Grand Duke Vladimir, now the wife of Prince Nicholas of Greece. The Princess Patricia, and Grand Duke Michael have been acquainted since childhood, and frequently met at the reunions of the Danish royal family.

According to the Russian custom it will be necessary for Princess Patricia to embrace the orthodox Russian faith, but the difference from the Anglican church is so small as to present no insuperable obstacle. Though the Dowager Empress of Russia and Queen Alexandra are sisters, a direct marriage between the English and Russian reigning houses is almost unprecedented. Of late years members of the Russian Imperial family have sought consorts principally in Germany.

Helps Anglo-Russian Amity

The new departure is significant of the altered relations which have been springing up since the Russo-Japanese War, though a formal understanding between Great Britain and Russia still rests on future negotiations. These have not even reached the stage of an agreement being enacted, but the pourparlers are making excellent progress in the fact that the British Ambassador, Sir Arthur Nicolson, and the Russian Foreign Minister, M. Tsvetkov, who held almost daily conferences at the end of last year.

It is reported that a marriage is being arranged between the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, widow of the Grand Duke Sergei, and Grand Duke Nicholas, Nicholas, commander of the troops in St. Petersburg. The Grand Duchess Elizabeth is a sister of the Empress, and though in the 40s, has a very attractive personality.

Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, brother of the Russian Emperor, was born November 22, 1878, and from the date of the accession of Nicholas until the birth of the latter's son, was the heir presumptive to the Russian throne.

POPULAR BRITISH PRINCESS

Patricia Vivacious Woman, Lover of Sport and Strong-Minded.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Princess Patricia of Connaught, whose engagement to Grand Duke Michael is announced from St. Petersburg, is one of the most popular and probably the best looking of the younger generation of the British princesses. She is in her 21st year. The news of her engagement has not yet been given out in London, but the friendly feeling toward Russia has made such great strides of recent months that there is every prospect that the proposed alliance will prove very popular.

The princess is of a bright, happy disposition. During the past two years she has been mixing in society and has made herself a great favorite. She is an enthusiastic sportswoman, is especially fond of boating and fishing and has killed many salmon both in Ireland and Scotland.

Princess Patricia has opinions of her own and strength of character enough to stick to them, as demonstrated some time ago when her marriage to King Alfonso was mooted. Despite persuasion she resolutely declined to entertain the suggestion, declaring she would never marry any one she did not love, even to become a queen.

The princess has traveled a great deal, having accompanied her father to India and South Africa. In Ireland, after whose patron saint she is named, the princess did much to popularize the royal family by her social and charitable activities.

POPE TRUSTS IN LOYALTY

Despite Fears of Queen, He Says,
Crown Is Safe.

ROME, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The attempt through Spain to gag the bishops and to punish those who uphold religion is already reaching the end-climax. So strong is the sentiment in favor of the Vatican that the early fall of the Cabinet is predicted. The Pope is calmly waiting developments, refusing to interfere, and counting on the attachment of the crown, clergy and common people. To a recent letter from the Queen master expressing fear of the Carlists, His Holiness replied that the friendship of the church safeguards the Spanish throne.

SCOTS OPPOSE SOCIALISTS

Movement Among Northern Liberals to Combine Forces.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Socialism suffered one of the most serious defeats in Britain this week that it has ever sustained. The determination of the Scottish Liberal members of Parliament to oppose all parliamentary candidates who refuse to disassociate themselves from the Socialists also sounds the death knell of the party divisions that have been the papers as a warning of the dangers threatening England with the result that socialism is now ostracized by both leading parties.

EVIDENCE OF TRAGIC END

Japanese Engage Russians in Bloody
Encounter, in Which Many Lives
Are Snuffed Out on Bleak
Kamchatka.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 6.—A shocking sealing raiding tragedy is reported by Japanese newspapers received by the steamer Athenian today, clearing up the mystery of the sealing steamer Shinome Maru, which left Hakata in June and was never heard of until September 13, when the shipowner Kiyasu was moved at Otaru and reported that at a place called Zobaroff on the east coast of Kamchatka the charred remains of a vessel were observed ashore and a boat's crew was sent to investigate. They found charred remains of the lost sealing vessel and skeletons of her crew, presumably all murdered.

Evidence of Crime Found.

On the shore was part of the vessel's mast with the remains of her flag, a notebook, some cards and clothes of sailors, as well as other evidences of a tragedy. Nearby were seen skeletons and bones, obviously dragged from shallow waters by wild beasts. The Kiyasu Maru's crew believe the schooner was surprised while at anchor near the river mouth by Russians and the crew all murdered.

Patrol Ship Attacks Poachers.

Japanese papers also publish news of a seal raiding episode at Copper Island. A Japanese ship was a Russian patrol ship surprised six Japanese sealing vessels in the act of poaching on the shores of Kamchatka. A desperate fight ensued, in the course of which seven Japanese and many Japanese were killed. The Japanese regained their ships, which escaped after a running fight in which 19 Russians and 12 Japanese were killed. A Russian naval officer was among the killed.

Japanese Kill Russian Officer.

Some papers state the report has probably been confused with the reported affray at Taborotka, Kamchatka, in which the Putana Maru's crew had a dispute with Russian officials about the permission to poach. A bribe of $4750 was paid to the Russian, and Sasaki, an interpreter, drew a sword and cut down the Russian officer. Four other sailors were involved in the affair, and when the interpreter drew his sword, Japanese fell upon the Russians, 17 of whom were killed, including one officer, and one Japanese was reported killed. Reports of armed raids by Japanese sealers, orders have been issued by the Japanese Government forbidding vessels to leave Japan with weapons in the future.

General News From Island

The subsidies given Japanese shipping, fishing and sealing vessels expired on September 30 and it is uncertain whether they will be renewed with the exception of those to the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Toyo Kisen Kaisha. A project is being agitated by the Tokyo Yomiori for Japanese expedition to seek the North Pole.

The Japanese army is considering the establishment of a motor-car detachment. A Japanese labor party has just been launched at Tokyo and is agitating the workers among other things "general increase of wages and diminution of the difference in rate of wages paid men and women respectively; decrease in hours of labor and grant of suffrage to all adults, both men and women." The party also opposes the present monopolization of productive industries.
