Plain Clothes Squad Man Accused by Chinese.

OFFERS THEM PROTECTION

Proposal to Let Fantan Games Run for $40 a Month and Lottery Games for $65 Is Turned Down.

A big sensation was sprung in police circles yesterday when a Chinese merchant doing business on Second street reported to an official that a member of the special plain-clothes squad from police headquarters had made a proposition to extend protection to certain fantan and lottery establishments for stipulated sums monthly. As the amounts demanded were considerably higher than regular fines would aggregate, in cases of arrests, the gamblers declined to enter the agreement.

ments on that thoroughfare where he de clared fantan and lottery games are con stantly run, immune from raids by the Chinatown squad as at present consti-tuted. These places, he declared, are Nos. 87, 81, 84, 85, 85 and 121 Second street. A member of the Police Department, who knows Chinatown, confirmed the sen-sational statement as to alleged propo-altion relative to protection for certain games along Second street. There are 16 Chinese lotteries and 30 fantan games running, according to a member of the Chinatown plain-clothes squad, who also confirmed the statement of the Chinese nerchant regarding the protection propoto a high official of the city, the propo-sition made to the Chinese gamblers was that the lottery games pay $55 and the fanian games $45 each per month. For these sums, it is declared, immunity was

been made by a member of the special plain-clothes squad, whose name he refused to give. The merchant said he had talked with the lottery and fantan men about the proposition and that they had decided the sums asked were too exhorbitant; that they preferred to stand chances of being arrested and fined, and that, if they had to give up money occasionally they would be more willing to pay times

Chinese Give Reception to Moy so the city could have the money to make improvements with, Owing to alleged peculiar actions of the police in Chinatown of late, suspicion has been cast upon the plain-clothes squad, but Chief of Police Gritzmscher and Captain of Detectives Bruin have declared they were satisfied the special detail was doing good work and that the members were honestly endeavoring to suppress games throughout the district. Not only have the members of the plain-clothes squad been criticised, but Captain Bruin, under whom they work, has received his share of censure. He declares that an honest effort is being made to enforce the law in Chinatown, and says he was the one who started the movement to comone who started the movement to com-pel the removal of heavy doors from Chinese establishments, so that easy en-trance may be had whenever the officers wished to make a raid or enter to in Chief Gritzmacher says he does not be-lieve the police have been given proper redit for what has been accomplished in Chinatown. He declares there have been numerous arrests and convictions for

What Is Believed to Be the Tallest Peak in Oregon.

BAKER CITY, Or. Oct. 13 -- A discovery as just beeen made by T. R. Berry, ecating engineer for the Grand Ronde Water Company, who came in today from the mountains suffering from an injury the mountains suffering from an injury received in a mountain slide. In surveying for altitudes, reservoir sites and a ditch line, Mr. Berry has discovered a mountain peak named Eagle Chief, between Inmaha and the head of Minum River, 40 miles northeast of Baker City, that measures higher than Mount Hood, which is IL.25 feet, and thus becomes the highest mountain in Oregon.

Eagle Chief is perpetually snowclad and is surrounded by a chain of 40 lakes.
