The POPULAR —QUAINT— FURNITURE

The "craftsman" or "quaint" designs in furniture are the result of an endeavor to make furniture which should be at the same time simple, structural and practical, to meet all requirements as regards comfort, appearance and durability. The designs of today are reproductions of the original old handicrafts—devoid of all ornamentation—a natural outgrowth of the needs of the people. The most characteristic feature of the craftsman furniture is the finish, of which many have, at different times, been applied to complete its simplicity, the most popular of which have been the "fumed" and the "weathered," the former especially so. This beautiful finish, like its name, is of a soft and pleasing tone of brown, which adds to the oak a homelike attractiveness that cannot be impaired by wear. The "quaint designs" are well adapted to those rooms in the home that demand furniture that is durable and practical. Our showing of "quaint furniture" in the fumed oak includes the most characteristic and the truest reproductions of the foremost designers and builders of "craftsman furniture" and includes pieces for the library, the living-room, the dining-room, the hall and the den. We are exclusive Portland agents for the Stickley Bros.' productions of "quaint furniture" in the fumed oak.

Chemists Mix "Dope" of Prodigious Power

Intended as a Deodorant, It Smells to High Heaven, and Even Puts Huts to Flight.

FOR several days a fearful odor has pervaded the intersection of East Burnside street and Grand avenue; so fearful, in fact, that even rats which lived in the basements were compelled to seek other quarters, and a valuable dog belonging to "Billy" Mall dropped dead while passing that way. Nobody could tell where the odor came from, but the secret finally leaked out. Architect Otto Kleemann and W. S. Love, a druggist, were responsible. Mr. Kleemann recently received from Alaska a valuable fur rug, that had been perfumed with seven kinds of fish oil, to make it acceptable to the nostrils of the savage maiden who was the first owner. The combined flavors were unpleasant to the civilized nose, so Kleemann and Love conspired together to produce a perfume that would outdistance the fish oil, and they succeeded beyond their expectations. Both being expert chemists, they concluded that the fish oil could not stand a combination of carbolic acid and chloride of lime. The result was unexpected. A fearful gas was generated that filled the Burkhard building and permeated the entire neighborhood. It was too vigorous for use on the rug, and the latter still smells as it did of yore.

Official quarters here believe that beyond any doubt the general relations of the powers composing the triple alliance and the best means of consolidating the alliance and rendering it more effective in the interests of peace were subjects on which exchanges of views took place. Later in the day Signor Tittoni returned the visit of Herr von Tschirsky at the German Embassy, where they remained in conference alone for about an hour.

CAPTURED IN A SHACK.

Five Suspects Are Held For Japanese Bank Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—In a raid made by the police at an early hour this morning five persons were arrested on suspicion that they may have been connected with the robbery and murder at the Kimmon Ginko, or Japanese bank, a few weeks ago. The five placed in jail are John, Richard, William and Edna Meyers, brothers and sisters, and Richard Doyle. The Meyers were captured after the officers had surrounded during the night the shack in which they lived on Rincon Hill. Doyle was arrested a short time later at Seventh and Harrison streets. The information against the Meyers and Doyle was brought to police headquarters by Mrs. John Maynard, who gave the Meyers family shelter after the fire. She based her allegations on an alleged conversation by the Meyers which she is said to have overheard just before the robbery at the Japanese bank. The police allege that the Meyers have been harboring ex-convicts, one of whom was Doyle.

Will Combine to Help Shah.
LONDON, Oct. 20.—The British and Russian governments have agreed to make a joint loan to Persia of $2,000,000 to enable the Persian government to meet some of its most pressing needs. The transaction is regarded as very significant of the improvement in the relations between Russia and Great Britain and an indicative of a probable friendly arrangement in the future by which each country will undertake not to interfere with the others claimed sphere of interest in Persia.

Edith M. May Drops Suit for Divorce

Strangled Husband and Wife Reunited Through Love for Their Children.

BECAUSE of their love for their two children, aged 4 and 8 years, Edith M. May and Charles D. May decided to forget the past and again take up the journey along life's highway as lovers. The divorce proceedings that were instituted in the Circuit Court last Friday by Mrs. May were withdrawn yesterday by her attorney, W. S. Hufford. The Mays were married at Vancouver, Wash., about 11 years ago. In the complaint filed asking for the divorce, Mrs. May declared that her husband sometimes looked too long upon the beer when it foamed, that he would come home and proceed to act in a way that would frighten to death any nearby dove of peace, and that once upon a time he allowed her to feel that his hand was not an elderdown sofa cushion. When May was presented with a copy of the complaint he was surprised. Soon afterward the two families brought the warring husband and wife together. The babies were at the meeting, and their love for their children caused peace to come over the troubled household, and Attorney Hufford was informed that he could not withdraw the suit any too soon to suit everybody concerned.

Famous Selby Abbey Burns.
SELBY, England, Oct. 20.—The famous old Abbey Church here, known as Selby Abbey, is a total ruin, the result of a fire which broke out in the organ chamber at midnight. The local fire brigade was unable to quell the flames and the brigades from York and Leeds were unable to save the historic building, only the bare walls being left. Selby Abbey was considered to be one of the finest monastic edifices in England. It was founded in the Twelfth Century by the Benedictines and part of the original nave and transepts survived. The Abbey possessed some interesting sculptures and tombs of the Abbots who presided over its destinies during the rule of the Normans.

MANY FROM THIS CITY

Portland Will Send Big Delegation to Kansas City.

A large and representative delegation from Portland and other Oregon cities will attend the convention of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which will be held in Kansas City November 20-22. Delegates appointed by Governor Chamberlain and Mayor Lane will attend. Among the speakers already secured are Secretary of State Root, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Congressman Joseph E. Ransdell, who was recently in Portland; James J. Hill and E. H. Laughman. Half a dozen or more Governors will attend the convention, as will 20 or 30 United States Senators and Representatives.

Bishop's Silk Hose Not Taxed.
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Right Rev. Thomas J. Conaty, Bishop of Los Angeles, won a tariff appeal yesterday when the Board of United States General Appraisers decided that rich silk hose imported for the use of the papate at solemn religious functions are regalia and not dutiable. While the bishop was in Rome some months ago, he bought red and purple hose to conform with the colors of his vestments worn at certain ceremonies.

Wife's Legacy Leads to Divorce Suit

Husband Is Served With Papers in the Poorhouse—Will Contest the Case.

WHILE Alfred B. Wilcox was wending his way to the County Hospital, Mrs. Wilcox was hunting up a lawyer in order to bring a suit for a divorce. And thereby hangs a tale of a father-in-law's devotion to the woman in the case. Wilcox was yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Kelly. Married 18 years ago at Davis, Ill., the Wilcoxs are said to have lived happily together until a short time ago. The husband and defendant in the case is suffering from a peculiar affliction, having no control of the muscles of his face and head when he attempts to speak, but he declares that he had no disease at the time of his marriage. A short time ago Wilcox's father died Cornelius, Or. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilcox, had been taking care of him for months, and after the old man had passed away, it was discovered that he had willed nearly everything to her.
