LONDON, Oct. 27.—The afternoon papers here quote the Manchester Guardian as saying that a deed of separation between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough has been signed...

The report of the separation of the Duke and Duchess hardly comes as a surprise. Rumors of their disagreements have been circulating for several years.

Duke's Attention to Another Woman.

People intimately acquainted with the Marlborough household intimate that the friction became more acute owing to the slighting, unsympathetic attitude of the Duke since the Duchess' deafness became more pronounced.

London Sides With Duchess.

The Duchess has the warmest sympathy of everyone in London conversant with the situation. Since her arrival here as a bride 11 years ago she has made herself most popular.

dence to New York City, and the jury taking that view found him guilty and gave him five years in the penitentiary. The Supreme Court overruled this decision and remanded the case, on the ground that the change of residence had not been proven and that the Circuit Attorney, in his closing argument, had indirectly commented on the fact that the defendant had not taken the witness-stand, such comments being prohibited by statute.

The case was to have been retried the 18th of last month, but Circuit Attorney Sager could not get his principal witnesses, two of whom had removed to Colorado, here and as the court refused to grant a further continuance, the case was nolle prossed. A few days later a new indictment was found, which is still pending.

STRONG AFFECTION FOR SON

Snyder, Sr., Made Good Impression on Washington Sheriff.

HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special)—Sheriff Connell expressed much regret tonight upon hearing of the death of Robert M. Snyder, of Kansas City. Speaking of the incident, Sheriff Connell said:

"I met Robert M. Snyder when he was here last winter making inquiries about his son Carey. The father then believed that the boy had been murdered and would listen to no other theory of his disappearance. His love for the boy was genuine, and he impressed me as a man who possessed a strong parental affection, no matter what his faults may have been. He appeared to me to be a very shrewd observer, and he was of rather a retiring disposition—just the kind of a man who would be considered as a beneficiary turn of mind.

The court officials here now believe that the last barrier has been removed from getting all the evidence there is regarding the mysterious murder of Carey D. Snyder, if there is anything in the theory that R. M. Snyder was the cause of Mrs. Snyder's reticence.

of savings of many into funds which can be used to build railroads or other great enterprises, is so important to our prosperity that nothing should be done to discourage it. The policy of President Roosevelt is to prevent abuse and misuse of corporate wealth.

Abuses Wrought by Trusts.

He then described abuses first in industrial corporations by combinations in restraint of trade, and second in the form of immense corporations so large as to embrace so very great part of the producing capacity of the country in certain commodities. He then took up railroad discrimination to show that discrimination in rates granted the trusts is one of the main instruments by which independent competitors had been driven to the wall.

Time to Revise Tariff.

He said that, speaking for himself alone, he thought the time which had elapsed since the passage of the Dingley bill had so changed conditions as to require a revision of the tariff, and he saw a crystallization of sentiment in favor of this in the Republic, but that the tariff affects so many industries that it is impossible to touch it without affecting legitimate business interests in which capital had been invested in the maintenance of the tariff.

Empathic Declaration of Attitude

Read at Great Meeting in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The first public utterance by President Roosevelt touching on the campaign in this state was conveyed in a public mass meeting at Cooper Union tonight in the form of an endorsement of the gubernatorial candidacy of Charles E. Hughes.

Marcus Braun, chairman of the gathering, read the message as follows: "Anyone who believes or who tries to convey the impression that I am not heart and soul for Mr. Hughes is either wilfully or inadvertently laboring under a delusion. I am first, last and all the time for Mr. Hughes, because I know and feel that he stands precisely for the same principle that I stand for."

SWITCHMEN TURNED DOWN

Railroads Refuse to Grant Them an Eight-Hour Day.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The railroads refused the demands of the switchmen for an eight-hour day and an increase in wages. An increase of 2 cents an hour, already offered the switchmen, was rejected, but the men were told that this would be all that could be obtained. The refusal also applies to all other organizations of employees who seek more wages. The switchmen will meet here tonight, but there will be no strike action until a referendum vote is taken.

NET TO CATCH BIG BOSSES.

Nonpartisan League Finds Wholesale Colonizing in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—(Special)—Big politicians are reported to be in the net spread by the Nonpartisan League for the perpetrators of registration frauds in anticipation of the coming election. Examination of the 19 Republican returns to have been "colonized" indicted today is counted on to expose the "big bosses" in whose interest the smaller fry are acting.

Whole lodging-houses, according to information furnished to the grand jury, have been packed with illegal voters, 350 out of 400 guests at one such establishment proving to have been "colonized" for election purposes. The prevailing price for registration was 10 cents, with the promise that "there would be more in it on election day."

PULL HAIR TO SEE ALICE

INDIANA WOMEN FIGHT TO GREET MRS. LONGWORTH.

Shows She's President's Daughter by Shaking Hands With More Than 3000 People.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 27.—(Special)—Fighting for a chance to get near Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, who accompanied her husband here on a campaigning tour in behalf of Congressman Landis, hundreds of frantic and hysterical women pulled at one another's hair and tore each other's clothing at the meeting where Congressman Longworth was the star performer today.

In anticipation of some such trouble as that which occurred at Columbus, O., recently, the city police had been reinforced by a squad of Pennsylvania Road and officers, but the combined force was powerless to prevent the open fighting among the eager women. Hundreds of persons, women for the most part, had assembled at the station, and when Mrs. Longworth appeared, accompanied by her husband, there was a great rush forward to see and get near her. She seemed to rebuff the experience.

At the meeting another large crowd gathered, hoping for a chance to see the President's daughter. Longworth, to satisfy her admirers, held an informal reception after the meeting and shook hands with the persons who had gathered. It was at this time that the worst crush happened. While the women who wanted to "meet" her, fearing she might tire of the performance, were struggling to get near to the young matron, who stood upon the platform, many of the women were wrecks by the time they reached her side.

Mrs. Longworth proved that she, her father's own daughter, stood bravely by her task until she had greeted everyone who wanted to shake her hand.

Congressman Longworth came to Indiana to support the bill which has been for re-election to reciprocity for the work Landis devoted to his Ohio campaign. Some of the party went to Marion.

Charcoal Kills Bad Breath

Bad Odor of Indigestion, Smoking, Drinking or Eating Can Be Instantly Stopped

Sample Package Mailed Free. Other people notice your bad breath where you would not notice it at all. It is nauseating to other people, and before them and while you are talking, give them a whiff or two of your bad breath. It usually comes from food fermenting on your stomach. Sometimes you have it in the morning—that awful sour, bilious, bad breath. You can stop that at once by swallowing one or two Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful gas and odor absorbers ever prepared.

Sometimes your meals will reveal themselves in your breath to those who talk with you. "You've had onions," "You've been eating cabbage," and all of a sudden you belch in the face of your friend. Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of odors, even the most offensive. That is why Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are so quick to stop all gases and odors of odorous foods, or gas from indigestion.

Don't use breath fresheners. They never conceal the odor, and never absorb the gas that causes the odor. Besides, the very fact of using them reveals the reason for their use. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges in the first place stop for good all sour breath and belching of gas, and make your breath pure, fresh and sweet, just after you've eaten. Then an odor will turn his face away from you when you breathe or talk, your breath will be pure and fresh, and besides your food will taste so much better to you at your next meal. Just try it.

Charcoal does other wonderful things, too. It carries away from your stomach and intestines, all the impurities there massed together and which cause the bad breath. Charcoal is a purifier as well as an absorber.

Charcoal is now by far the best, most easy, mild laxative known. A whole bowlful will do no harm; in fact, the more you take the better. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal and mixed with just a faint flavor of honey to make them palatable for you but not too sweet. You just chew them like candy. They are absolutely harmless.

Get a new, pure, sweet breath, freshen your stomach for your next meal, and keep the intestines in good working order. These two things are the basis of good health and long life. You can get all the charcoal necessary to do these wonderful and simple things by getting Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. We want you to test these little wonder workers yourself before you buy them. So send us your full name and address for a free sample of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Then after you have tried the sample, and been convinced, go to your druggist and get a 25c box of them. You'll feel better all over, more comfortable and "cleaner" inside.

Send us your name and address, today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address: F. A. Stuart Co., 60 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

AGENTS HUSTLE FOR VOTES

Hirelings Sent Out to Canvass for Ballots—Public Warned Not to Give Proxies to Paid Employees.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Special)—The International Policy-Holders Committee today issued the following: "We requested the Superintendent of Insurance to furnish daily the number of ballots cast at the home office of the companies. This request was complied with. These figures have been furnished us covering nine days of the voting. The New York Life officials have now concocted a new scheme in their attempt to withhold information in connection with the pending election.

The agency directors have been notified that on and after Monday next they are not to secure ballots, but from that time on they are to confine their efforts to getting proxies. Orders to that effect have been issued by agency directors to the men who are working under them.

Many of the men who ordinarily work in the main office have been assigned to branch offices for the purpose of canvassing for ballots. Many of the clerks in the main office are working overtime until 10 P. M. at $1.50 each, verifying the ballots for the use of the administration and not for any official purpose. Many other clerks (women) are also working until 10 o'clock at night doing the work of salaried employees who are out canvassing.

The large number of ballots collected by the agents are unused when taken and are transferred to the branch offices, from which they are transmitted to the home office by mail.

Again, policy-holders are warned not to give proxies to paid employees soliciting for the administration ticket, but to vote direct by ballot.

A PRETTY MATRON OWES HEALTH TO PE-RU-NA.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER. Had Suffered Severely From Peptic Catarrh—Cannot Praise Peruna Too Highly—Read Her Letter.

Mrs. Anna N. Kaiser, Two Rivers, Wis., was a sufferer from peptic catarrh to such an extent that she could scarcely do her own work. In describing her symptoms, she wrote: "I have such terrible backaches and pains below my shoulder-blades, way down my back and across my hips, and at times pains in the pelvic organs, so that I am not able to lie down or sleep. I also have pains through my left side, and am afraid I may be getting heart trouble."

After taking Peruna and following Dr. Hartman's instructions for several weeks, Mrs. Kaiser reported as follows: "I feel much stronger and do not get nervous as I used to. The pain is entirely gone, except when I work a little too hard. The medicine has done me wonderful good. I am taking Peruna and Manalin. My bowels are also in good condition."
