WEDDINGS.

Stearns-Owings.

A beautiful home wedding occurred Monday evening, November 19, at 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Gosselin, 112 East Pine street, Willamette Heights, when Miss Olive Owings and Mr. George Walter Stearns were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Horace Ramsey, pastor of St. Stephen's Church. The bride party entered the spacious living-room to the strains of "Lohengrin," played by Miss Adeline Greuter. The bride was becomingly attired in a princess gown of white crepe de chine, with which she wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. Ferd Smith of Cord, nee Dick, matron of honor, was beautiful in her wedding gown of white crepe de chine. She carried an arm bouquet of old rose chrysanthemums. Miss Jessie Thompson, bridesmaid, looked charming in a gown of yellow crepe de chine. She carried a bouquet of anemones. The groom was attended by William Russell Case, of Seattle, as best man. During the ceremony, in which the bride was given away by Mr. Gosselin, Miss Elizabeth Harwas sang "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." After congratulations dainty refreshments were served in the dining-room. The house decorations consisted of roses and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Stearns will make their home in Seattle, where the groom has long resided, and where he is well and favorably known.

Gell-Taylor.

On Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Cornwall at Piedmont, Chauncey Lewis Gell was married to Miss Stella Elmina Taylor. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. M. Bowzer, pastor of the Piedmont Presbyterian Church, in the presence of the bride's mother and other intimate friends. The bride was attired in a traveling costume of brown broadcloth, with tulle of the valley decorations to her hair. The front parlor, in the bay window of which the bride took their stand, was tastefully ornamented with large clusters of white and lavender chrysanthemums, while the dining-room, where a choice wedding repast was served, was enlivened with a display of pink and white carnations. The groom is the possessor of a remunerative dairy farm in the fertile Ellickson Valley, near Cathlamet, Wash., where he has a comfortable home ready for his bride. Mrs. Gell is a native daughter of Oregon, bright, intelligent, but extremely domestic, and quite capable, from her thorough home training, to take her place by the side of an active young farmer as a helper and an encouragement. A short honeymoon was pleasantly spent taking in the attractions of Portland before Mr. and Mrs. Gell went down the Columbia to their own home.

Anderson-Jacobus.

A delightful little home wedding was celebrated Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobus, No. 1884 Peninsula avenue, in celebration of the marriage of their only daughter, Hazel, to Mr. Oils Reese Anderson, of Vancouver, Wash. The home was beautifully decorated throughout with evergreen, Oregon grape, the ceilings being festooned with crepe paper and Japanese lanterns. The parlor, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Campbell of Portland, was festooned in white and gold, the focal point being a large bell of white floral effect. The sitting-room was festooned in pink and green, the dining-room and living room were in Oriental effect. About 50 guests were present. Miss Nellie Bogie acted as bridesmaid and Mr. George Young was best man. The bride party, preceded by Ring-bearer Cora May Black, a vision of white and baby loveliness, entered the parlor at 8:30 p. m., to the accompaniment of the organ. Miss Faith Van Anker, a 12-year-old cousin of the bride, presiding at the piano. After the ceremony all partook of a bounteous feast, enlivened by toasts and repartee. The bride was gowned in Landsdown, with an overdress of tulle lace and wore bride's roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of blue silk mull.

Wanner-Rudell.

The wedding of Miss Geneva W. Rudell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rudell, and William H. Wanner, both of this city, was solemnized at the Second Baptist Church last Wednesday evening, Rev. S. C. Lapham officiating. Immediately before the ceremony Miss Ella Hoberg-Tripp sang "Because," by D'Hardelt. The bride party entered to the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," beautifully played by Miss Grace Wilton. She also rendered the "Spring Song" and "Wedding March," by Mendelssohn. The attendants were Mrs.

Frank R. Jesse, Clyde Rudell, Harry Tackeberry, Lawrence Wolf, of Beverton and two flower girls, Markaerita Porcher and Edmoungie Seton.

The bride was prettily gowned in cream nun's veiling and baby Irish lace made en crepe. She wore tulle veil and carried bride's roses.

The matron of honor wore her wedding gown of silk pearete and valenciennes lace with pink hat, giraffe and gloves to match. The bridesmaid wore a blue gown. A reception and supper were given at the home of the groom's parents, 134 North Fourteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Wanner will be at home after December 1 at 233 Mason street.

Reeves-Rovett.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe B. Rankin on Portland Heights last Monday afternoon, when Miss Edith Reeves and James M. Reeves, both of Illinois, were married by Rev. C. E. Clime of the Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of one of Illinois' most celebrated Civil War commanders, General Richard Reeves, and the minister who officiated was formerly a soldier in his regiment. Mr. Reeves is the son of Judge Reeves, of Bloomington, Ill., well known throughout that state.

The wedding was a quiet but extremely pretty affair and was attended by the personal friends of the bride and groom and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Rankin. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves went immediately to their new home at 47 East Pine street, which was in readiness for them, and where they are now at home to their friends.

CONTRALTO OF SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.

Miss Emma Harlow.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Sunday, November 18, at St. Stephen's Church by the Rev. H. Ramsey, when Miss Mona Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Baker, became the wife of Gather-Baker.

On Wednesday evening, November 21, 1906, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ford, 315 Wedder street, occurred the marriage of Walter G. Gather and Emma Harlow, the Rev. Mr. Marcott officiating. The bride wore a handsome gown of white organdie trimmed in princess lace and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss La Myra Ford, who wore a gown of pink silk organdie and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Walter G. Gather was very attractive, the two parlors being festooned with ivy, interspersed with white roses. In the library and dining-room innumerable pink streamers were attached to the chandeliers and carried to the sides and corners of the rooms.

Portland Girl Who is Talented Musician.

William Mark Gather, of Astoria. The attendants were Lee Cannon, of Astoria, and Miss Nell Baker, only sister of the bride. After the ceremony they repaired to the home of the bride, where a bountiful supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Gather left for Astoria on the evening train.

Haines-Mohroe.

John W. Haines and Miss Nettie V. Mohroe, both of this city, were married November 19 at the home of John E. Heard, cousin of the bride, near Hillsboro, Or. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Mr. and Mrs. Haines will reside in Portland.

Parker-Happley.

A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Happeley, 255 Benton street, Wednesday evening, November 21, when their daughter Ada was married to Henry J. Parker by Rev. Mr. Du Boise. Only relatives and near friends were present.

Hughes-Peters.

Mr. M. D. Hughes and Miss Orph E. Peters were quietly married at the home of Rev. W. L. Uphaw, Thursday, November 22. They will be at home to their friends after December 1, at 1397 Greeley street, Arbor Lodge.

McFarlane-Minns.

Saturday evening, November 17, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. Dunsmuir, 444 North Twenty-second street. Mr. Roy McFarlane and Miss Estella Minns were married. For a short time they will reside at the home of the bride's mother, at 443 North Twenty-second street.

Dennis-Habersham.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized the evening of November 17, at the residence of the bride's parents, in Portland, when Marjulina Habersham was married to Layman M. Dennis, only the immediate family being present.

Kent-Abrams.

At Rabbi R. Abrahamson's residence, November 22, at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Ray Abrams of San Francisco, and G. Kent of Elgin, Or., were married. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Cohen, and the groom by A. Sommers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The first of a series of "Parents Meetings," to discuss perplexing problems of child culture will be held on Tuesday evening, November 27, in the committee room on the third floor of the City Hall. The question selected for discussion at this meeting is: "Resolved, That punishment is unnecessary in the proper training of children." The leaders in the debate are Mrs. W. J. Hawkins and Dr. George B. Van Waters. A general discussion will follow. All fathers and mothers, teachers and superintendents of schools for children, as well as the general public, are cordially invited to be present.

Announcements of the marriage in Chicago, on November 7, of Miss Mary E. Luger and Mr. John Hines Kelly, were recently received in Portland. Mrs. Kelly made many friends during the two years in which she was engaged here in teaching.

for the present quarter, and certainly the lives and times of the Old Testament prophets are made to stand out with a clearness, and to show the connection with each other and their writings, in a manner little short of a revelation to his hearers. The class is by no means confined to the members of Calvary Church; adherents of other denominations and those who belong to no sect whatever are cordially welcomed. Dr. Wilson is not a "book-worm" who lives in the past. His ideas are modern and progressive, "bread" enough to make some old-time Presbyterians fairly open their eyes. The class numbers from 75 to 100 members, and new faces appear every week.

The committee was instructed to protest to the owner and demand that the water be left on at all hours. If he refuses, suit will be brought to revoke his franchise. The club took action to secure the appointment of L. J. Kelly as deputy sheriff to assist in the enforcement of the stock law. It is reported that most of the houses had been numbered and that preparations were being made to mark the street intersections with painted signs. This is preparatory to a movement to secure a free mail delivery. A considerable number of new members signed the roll.

Horse Hurdles Footlights.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Nov. 24.-While a performance was in progress at the Broadway Opera-House, a horse utilized in the last act, to draw the heroine in a buggy, became frightened and sprang over the footlights into the orchestra. The horse fell unconscious to the stage and three women in the audience fainted, while the horse floundered around in the orchestra pit, demolishing chairs with its hoofs and creating excitement in the theater. Presence of mind of a number of men in seizing the horse and sitting on it, at the same time admonishing the people to sit down, prevented a panic.
