OLD SORES FED AND BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

Whenever a sore refuses to heal it is because the blood is not pure and healthy, as it should be, but is infected with poisonous germs or some old blood taint which has corrupted and polluted the circulation. Those most usually afflicted with old sores are persons who have reached or passed mid-dle life. The vitality of the blood and strength of the system have naturally begun to deckne, and the poisonous germs which have accumulated because of a sluggish and inactive condition of the system, or some hereditary taint which has hitherto been held in check, now force an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body. The place grows red and angry, festers and eats into the surrounding tissue until it becomes a chronic and stubborn uleer, fed and kept open by the impurities with which the blood is saturated. Nothing is more trying and disagreeable than a stubborn, non-healing sore. The very fact that it resists ordinary remedies and treatments is good reason

The very fact that it resists ordinary remedies and treatments is good reason for suspicion; the same germ-producing cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore, and especially is this true if the trouble is an inherited one. Washes, salves, nor indeed anything else, applied directly to the sore, can do any permanent good; neither will remov-ing the sore with caustic plasters or the surgeon's knile make a lasting cure. If every particle of the diseased flesh were taken away another sore would come, be-cause the trouble is in the blood, and the BLOOD CANNOT BE CUT AWAY. The cure must come by a thorough cleans-ing of the blood. In S. S. S. will be found a remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It is an unequalled blood purifier—one that goes directly into the circulation and goes directly into the circulation and promptly cleanses it of all poisons and taints. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and forces out every trace of impurity and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the blood so that instead of feeding the diseased

Then the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, all pain and inflammation leaves, the place scabs over, and when S. S. S. has purified the blood the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Write for our special book on sores and ulcers and any other medical advice

ANNUAL SESSION

Made President Pacific Coast

Historical Society Branch.

ENDS

The Pacific Coast branch of the American Historical Society concluded its third annual session yesterday with interesting historical discourses and the transaction of routine business, including the election of officers. William D. Fenton was the unanimous choice of those present for the presi-dency, with James D. Phelan, of San Francisco, as vice-president, and Clyde A. Duniway, of Stanford University, as secretary and treasurer. Professor H. Morse Stephens, of Stanford; Professor Max Farrand, of Stanford, and Pro-fessor Joseph Schafer, of Oregon, were named as the executive committee. The association decided upon two things of importance, viz., to take steps toward compiling an authentic and accurate account of the Oregon constitutional convention, and to assist to an endeavor to sain entrance to the in an endeavor to gain entrance to the Hudson Bay records in England and Canada, where much valuable data concerning the Coast country is to be had. The suggestion was made and adopted that the present tentative commit-tees on historical manuscript, public archives and history teaching be continued as permanent. Three interesting historical dis-courses were presented during the day. two at the forenoon and one at the afternon session. Both sessions were

Friday evening at the White Temple took place the annual banquet of the V. I. A., an organized class of young women with an enrollment of about 125. The letters V. I. A. are the nitials of a Latin phrase which is the secret slogan of the class. This is one of the largest Sunday school classes on the Coast and has for its teacher Mrs. O, P. M. Jamison; for its leader, Mrs. J. W. Brougher, and for its president, Miss Grace Bartlett. By the united efforts of these three a remarkable work s being done in this class and it is one of the most interesting features of the work at the White Temple. At their banquet, to which each young woman was allowed to bring one favored guest, a very delightful time was enjoyed. The a very delightful time was enjoyed. The lower temple was very beautifully deco-rated with the class colorn, cardinal and white; the tables were uniquely arranged to form the letters V. I. A., and the "Alerts," a class of young men of cor-responding age, dressed in white coats and aprons, served as waiters. During the serving of the dinner musical num-bers were rendered by different mem-bers of the class and at the close the following very interesting programme was Ders of the class and at the close the following very interesting programme was rendered. Relations of the States." Professor Duniway was followed on the platform by Don E. Smith, who spoke on "Some Considerations on the History of Spain and Spanish-America in the Eighteenth Century. The afternoon address by Professor Farrand was on the subject, "Criticism of American Historical Documents." Professor Farrand spoke in an in-formal way. He told of having found conclusively that Madison was fre-quently mistaken in his records affecting the early days and birth of the Constitution. These errors had crept into dates, votes by states and reports of debates. Fred V. Holman, in response, was not inclined to attach any great im-portance to these errors, if they really existed. He took the stand that the meaning of the people of that day was made clear in the Constitution. Professor Farrand replied that the matter, when viewed from the standpoint of the historical student rather than from in legal standpoint, was of the utmost importance, in his belief, and that ac-curacy should be aimed at and preserved in historical documents. Professor Schafer volunteered to tell of another instance of historical inaccuracy, saying that Wilkes' History of Oregon is the product of a writer whose aim was to promote a transcontinental railway rather than to add to historical literature. Professor Schafer said that Wilkes used his imagination reciy, and deliberately falsified, in freely, and deliberately falsified, in several instances, a series of letters to the New York Herald written by Burnett, and which served as the foundation for the Wilkes manuscript. Professor Stephens was named as representative of the Coast branch to the National Higherited profiles.

Farewell Gifts to Gordon Craig.

Gordon Craig, cashler in the city ticket office of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific, and who leaves tonight to accept a position in the passenger department of the Great Northern at St. Paul, was last night the recipient of a handsome alligator-skin suitcase and a pair of gold cuff buttons from his many friends along railroad row. Gordon Craig is the son of A. L. Craig, formerly general passenger agent of the Harriman lines in the Northwest, and who, two months ago, became passenger traffic director of the Great Northern. The presentation was made by W. Stinger, city ticket agent of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific, and J. H. O'Neill, traveling passenger agent of the O. R. & N. At 6 o'clock, when Craig was about to leave his office, several dozen of his railroad friends rushed in, and, before he had time to realize what was happening, he was the proud possessor of the sultcase and the cuff buttons. Several days ago his friends started the subscrip tion list for the suitcase. Before all of his friends were through the fund was over-subscribed, so the cuff buttons were

SWAMI RAM, HINDOO MONK AND PATRIOT, DROWNED IN GANGES

ORTLAND, Dec. 1.-About three | years ago there came to this city a

P young Hindoo monk, whose name and fame was known all over the Land of the Vedas. Swami Ram Tirath, on his arrival here, had not as yet completed his 27th year, and, in order to go abroad to plead the cause of ancient India, he gave up the position of professor of mathematics in the government university at Punjab, which he had held for a number of years. As a Sannyasi patriot of unsurpassable renunciation, the young high priest of India became convinced that there can be no change in the deplorable condition in the land of the Aryas unless the Brahmanical contrivance, known as the caste system, is forever swept away. To this end he devoted his life. Earnest, as he was brilliant, zealous as he was clo-quent, Rama's work in the United States found many sincere sympathizers. In-deed, he endeared himself to all who knew him, and among his many warm friends from the Pacific to the Atlantic may be found some of the best known may be found some of the best known educators, jurists, scientists, as well as men well known in the business world. After his tour through the United States Rama returned to India, where he sattled for a few months in Darjeeling district, and soon retired altogether into the in-accessible fastnesses of the Himalayas. It was on October 18 that Rama acci-dentally met his death by drowning in the Ganges, State of Gurhwal, or Tehri.
