

SOCIETY

BY NANCY LEE

MRS. GEORGE GERLINGER OF DALLAS, WHO IS BEING ENTERTAINED IN CALIFORNIA.

ABSENCE of social doings is usually manifested the week prior to Christmas, owing to preparations relative to that all-important event, but many gay and interesting affairs are planned for the immediate future, and after the period which is devoted to home festivity there will be a revival of dinners, luncheons and bridge. The Schumann-Henk concert early in January promises to be a brilliant society affair that will take the place of a grand opera night in Portland.

Miss Alberta Gallatin attracted much attention socially during her visit here last week when she appeared at the Hellig Theater as the leading woman in the "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" company. The Daughters of the Confederacy, Multnomah Chapter, were to have entertained for her, but the car strike interfering, the reception was postponed. Miss Gallatin, however, reciprocated by graciously extending the courtesy of the theater to the officers of that organization on Monday night. The boxes which they occupied were draped with the Union and Confederate colors intertwined. The floral emblem presented to the talented actress was tied with red and white streamers, the colors which her gallant father followed throughout the Civil War.

Miss Gallatin's mother, who is now Mrs. Hilliard, lives in San Francisco, where she is a great favorite with members of the old Southern regime. She had the misfortune to lose her sight as a result of nursing her distinguished husband, General Albert Gallatin Jenkins, on the battle field, but her unusual bright mentality and charming Southern mannerisms make her an ideal hostess. Despite her blindness Mrs. Hilliard has won considerable reputation as a writer. She is a member of the Press Club of San Francisco and historian for the Jefferson Davis Chapter of the U. D. C.'s of that city. Miss Gallatin's grandfather, General Albert Gallatin, won distinction in the Revolution. At the reception tendered Miss Gallatin, the guests were received by Mrs. Jonnie George, president of the local chapter.

One of the interesting features of the Yuletide gaieties is the invariable return of the college students for the stellar event of the year. Within the past week a large contingent from the Oregon, Washington and California colleges have arrived and been met at the depot by fond parents. Those attending Eastern colleges, however, find that a vacation of such short duration does not permit of the long journey home. It will doubtless be interesting to learn where several Portlanders are spending the holidays.

Miss Ilsa Koehler, who has been attending Briar Cliff, is to join a house party in South Carolina, and later will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Villard in New York City. Miss Koehler is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Koehler.

Miss Anita, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns, who is in her first year at Briar Cliff, will be entertained in Boston, going thence to New York, where she will visit her sisters, Miss Georgina and Kathleen Burns. Miss Koehler and Miss Burns are both returning in being in New York during the opera season.

Miss Cornelia Cook, who is to be a guest of Senator and Mrs. Ankeny in Washington, D. C., is visiting the capital at a time when gaiety apparently reaches its zenith. Miss Cook, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gook, has been attending Rogers Hall Seminary, a finishing school in Lowell, Mass.

Miss Ada Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burke, is being entertained by one of her Smith College friends at a country home in Orange, N. J.

Elliot Corbett, of Harvard, a son of Mr. Helen Ladd Corbett, is visiting Mrs. S. B. Pratt in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Raymond Wilcox, son of Mr. Theodore Wilcox, a senior at Harvard, is visiting relatives in Westfield, Mass.

Miss Alta Smith, junior president of her class at Smith, is the guest of Professor and Mrs. Emerson, of Amherst College, at their charming home in Amherst, Mass. Upon the completion of her visit Miss Smith will also be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Grellie, parents of Mr. Edward Grellie, of this city.

Max Wood, of Harvard, is one of a house party given by his friend, "Puck" Carey, in Louisville, Ky. Max Wood is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood.

A reunion of Portland Academy students in New York City on Christmas day was suggested by Mr. Jack Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reed, which met with instantaneous approval. The reunion will take the form of a dinner, which will be given at the Manhattan Hotel. The former P. A. students to be present are Stuart Strong, of Yale; John Couch Felling, Yale; Henry Wessinger, William Ladd, Amherst; Roy Whidden, Harvard; Harold Estes, Amherst; and Philip Hart, of the Boston Technology.

MISS MANN OF LOS ANGELES, CAL., WHO IS A GUEST OF MRS. O. C. LEITER.

The presence of Mr. John Barrett, United States Minister to Colombia, has occasioned several dinner parties, notably that at which Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox were hosts on Wednesday, at their residence on King's Heights. Decorations were appropriate to the season. Those accepting Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. Zora Snow, Dr. and Mrs. Holt Wilson, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Miss Nan Wood and Mr. Archibald, the well-known war correspondent.

Mrs. Mathew P. Deady has returned from a visit in New York City with her son, Dr. Deady.

Miss Louise Carey, the charming daughter of Judge and Mrs. Charles H. Carey, of Riverside Drive, entertained with a Christmas luncheon yesterday in compliment to Miss Genevieve Thompson and her guest, Miss Markham, of Texas. White Christmas roses made an effective centerpiece, while a profusion of English holly and tiny Christmas bells were suspended from the chandeliers. Favors were corsage bouquets of Christmas buds. Besides the honor guests were: Mrs. C. E. Curry, Mrs. Carey, Miss Alta Rush, Miss Maida Hart and Miss Josephine Smith. An attractive miniature of Miss Carey appeared on last Sunday's society page.

New Year's eve is the date set for the large bridge party to be given by Miss Flanders and Miss Lou Flanders. A previous date which had been planned was cancelled owing to the illness of Mrs. C. H. Lewis.

A subscription dinner dance at the Waverly Golf Club, given by 12 of our prominent bachelors for the same number of popular girls, proved one of the merry events of the Yuletide. The guests arrived in a special car for the dinner served at 7 o'clock. Later Parsons' Orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd were the chaperons for the affair, which was semi-formal, the girls appearing in high-necked frocks. Present were: Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Nan Wood, Miss Carolyn Burns, Miss Susie Stott, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Margaret Montgomery, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. George Marshall, is at present a guest of her eldest sister, Mrs. G. Dunne, of Seattle, who will be remembered as Miss Jeanette Williams.

Cards have been received for a dinner dance, which is to be given on Wednesday night by Mrs. Lee Hoffman and Hawley Hoffman at their residence on Twenty-third street.

Mrs. William Honeyman and Mr. and Mrs. James Honeyman are contemplating a six weeks' visit to Southern California, leaving this coming Wednesday.

Many prominent Portland people are going to Seaside and other beach resorts for the Yuletide, the coming being particularly attractive at this season.

Mrs. H. D. Green is contemplating an Eastern trip early in January, going first to Boston, where she will visit Major and Mrs. Burr.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cotner Mason, of Tacoma, and son Henry are guests during the holidays of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCracken, on King's Heights.

Mrs. S. H. Friendly and Miss Rosalie Friendly, of Eugene, are at the Hill Hotel for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. John Latta (Miss Emma Felling) are occupying their attractive new residence adjoining that of Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie.

Harry Corbett, who has been visiting in New York City, is expected to arrive home for Christmas.

Miss Louise Messick, who has been delightfully entertained in the Eastern cities the past few months, is at present a guest of Captain and Mrs. William Jordan, Jr. (Miss Mae Beall), who now are stationed in New York. Miss Messick will return home in January with Miss Latta Wasserman, who has also been visiting in New York since her arrival from Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Russell and little daughter left recently for California in their motor. They will be absent two months, motoring from place to place as fancy dictates.

Keen interest was centered at Eugene last week over the presentation of "Pygmalion and Galatea" by the senior class of the University of Oregon. The performance was most creditable, and elicited more favorable comment than has any professional talent that has appeared in this city. Particularly flattering were the comments upon Miss Lela Goddard, of Portland, who in the role of Galatea was said to be the embodiment of an artistic ideal and interpreted her role with ease and grace. Music was furnished by the U. of O. Mandolin Club. Boxes were occupied by the Kappa Sigmas, Sigma Nus and the Beta Epsilon Sorority, the latter bevy of girls being chaperoned by Mrs. H. W. Goddard, this city.

Friends of Mrs. W. A. Macrae, who was called to San Francisco on account of the serious illness of her father, have recently learned the sad intelligence of her father's death.

Mrs. Frank Lawrence Nau, who is planning a number of bridge parties, has issued cards for the first of her series, which will be given this coming Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin I. Cohen announce the engagement of their cousin, Miss Belle E. Reed, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hornline, of San Francisco, the marriage to take place on New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Leslie Warren, of Astoria, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn are guests during the holidays of Mr. Linn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Linn, of Jacksonville, Or. They will remain a fortnight.

Mrs. Herbert Holman was hostess last week at a bridge party in honor of her sister, Mrs. A. B. Castleman. Forty guests were entertained. Dresden cup and saucer and a Venetian bon-bon dish were the prizes, which were awarded to Mrs. Rupert Weeks and Mrs. A. E. McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, of Dallas, are visiting in California, where they went to attend the Johnson-Litchenberg wedding at San Rafael. Mrs. Gerlinger and Miss Lichtenburg were college friends at the University of California, and both were members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity of that college. Mr. Johnson is a nephew of the Studebakers, of Chicago. The wedding is to be a prominent society event. A picture of Mrs. Gerlinger appears on today's society page.

Within the past ten days Mrs. E. L. Thompson has entertained with two card parties, one whist and the other bridge.

Ralph Pennington, the leading man with "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" company, is a personal friend of Frank Dekum, a former Portlander. Upon Mr. Dekum's last appearance in this city, when he portrayed the role of Landry Court in "The Pit," Mr. Pennington appeared in that same production as the artist. Following the performance on Monday evening at the Hellig, Mr. Pennington entertained at supper at the Portland Grill Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Strain and Franklin Jones, of New York City.

Mrs. C. J. Reed has returned home after several months' visit in the Eastern cities, where she was extensively entertained. Mrs. Reed was a guest for some weeks of her sister and brother-in-law, Major and Mrs. Burr, who are stationed in Boston, and was fortunate in being in New York City during both the horse show and grand opera.

Miss Shearman, of Salt Lake City, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alma D. Katz, at the Hill Hotel, returned home on Saturday.

One of the largest receptions of December is to be given on Thursday by Mrs. P. J. Mann, Mrs. Rupert Weeks and Mrs. Tyler Woodard, at the Third-street residence of Mrs. Mann.

Miss Fannie Brown entertained informally last week at the Golf Links in honor of Miss Elsie Smith, whose wedding to Dr. James Zan, takes place on New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Keating, of North Bend, are making a several weeks' visit in this city.

The Arlington Club was the scene of a party on Friday when Dr.

Henry Waldo Coe entertained in honor of George C. Coe, of Stanford. Present were members of the Stanford eleven, who visited here en route to Vancouver. Decorations for the long table consisted of Oregon grape and La France buds. John Barrett was also a guest, and gave several interesting stories relative to various football and Rugby teams to which
