OBSERVE LEE'S BIRTHDAY
SOUTHERNERS HONOR MEMORY OF THEIR HERO.
United Daughters of Confederacy Confer Medals on Eight Veterans of Civil War.
The centennial of General Robert E. Lee's birth was fittingly observed last night under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. A well selected programme was rendered. Dr. G. M. Wells, a Confederate veteran, presided. Justice T. G. Halley of Salem, Judge D. J. Haynes and Dr. J. W. Brougher of this city were the speakers. The conferring of bronze crosses of honor on eight Confederate veterans by the U. D. C., through the local president, Mrs. Jennie George, was the most important event of the evening and the ceremony was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience which filled the W. O. W. Hall at Tenth and Taylor streets. Professor Wilder's string orchestra gave many selections, playing through the reception which was held at the close of the programme, and there were vocal solos by John Claire Monteth and Miss Ethel Shea. Miss Shea gave "Dixie Land" as an encore in a style that brought the loyal Southern audience to its feet. At the close of the exercises a flag tableau, presenting the Union and Confederate colors entwined, was presented as the National anthem was sung. Henry Smith and Helen McGuire were the flag-bearers. Dr. Wells, as presiding officer, gave interesting personal reminiscences of the Civil War. Judge Haynes, a member of the Lincoln-Garfield Post, O. A. R., also spoke from his experience as a soldier-

MANY ACCEPT INVITATION
POULTRY SHOW THROUGHED BY SCHOOL CHILDREN.
Pigeon and Game Rooster Cages Center of Attraction for Boys. List of Awards is Complete.
The school children of Portland were not backward in showing their appreciation of the Oregon State Poultry Association's invitation to visit the poultry show at Front and Salmon yesterday and turned out in almost alarming numbers to have a look at the pigeons, ducks, chickens, geese and turkeys. Fully 90 per cent of the boys made for the pigeon cages first and many of them got no further, for a pigeon is dear to the heart of the average boy. The racing homers were much admired and learnedly discussed, some marvelous stories being told, which if heard by the birds themselves may put such notions in their heads that they will wear themselves out on their next trip in trying to equal the records told of by the Portland lack. There were a good many girls and boys present yesterday who do not have the opportunity to go into the country and see poultry in its native element. These gazed with more than ordinary admiration at the feathered beauties which proudly strutted about in each cage. The game chickens held a private reception for boys only, which was well attended. There was a coop of brown Leghorns which seemed to take the fancy of all the youthful visitors. And then there were the bantams—just the cutest things—the children declared—and the vain and cheery fantails (pigeons). That they would all have made fine pets there were no doubt in the visitors' minds, but the fanciers who owned them did not offer to give any of the prize-winners away for such purposes, so the boys and girls went home empty-handed but happy over the entertainment they had enjoyed. The show will be open today, and also this evening and a good Sunday attendance is expected from those who cannot attend during the week. The exhibition does not close until next Wednesday night. The Gibson cup, for best working homer pigeon in the show, was awarded to C. C. Stoenall.

WILLAMETTE WINS GAME
BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATS PORTLAND'S ALL STARS.
Contest Is Fast and Furious From Beginning to End—Score Ends at 23 to 19.
SALEM, Or., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—Willamette University defeated the Portland All-Stars tonight in one of the most fiercely contested basketball struggles that has ever taken place in the varsity gymnasium, by a score of 23 to 19. It was anybody's game up to the last five minutes of play. The Y. M. C. A. team was in the lead at two different stages of the game, and this contest does not settle which team is the stronger. The game was clean throughout, and there was but little roughness. At the end of the first half the score stood 12 to 10 in favor of Willamette. Shortly after the opening of the second half, the Portland boys were in the lead, and both sides played like demons during the rest of the game. All of the Y. M. C. A. men played good ball, although Hartman was the star player. For Willamette Pollard was the star. Following is the line-up:
All-Stars: Forwards, Russel and Hartman; center, Forbes; guards, O'wens and Gordon. Willamette: Forwards, Pollard and Simpson; center, Whipple; guards, Parcel and Nelson.
H. M. Stine, of Monmouth, acted as referee and gave satisfaction to both teams. There was a large crowd present. Willamette's next game will be with the Salem Y. M. C. A., on the varsity floor, next Tuesday night.
Team Hits Passenger Train.
