Upper River Salmon Men Begin Fight on Master Fish Warden.

SERIOUS CHARGES

Assert That Law to Prevent Pishing Below Celilo Falls Is Urged by Official to Vent Per-

That he is venting personal spite rather than serving the real interests of the saimon fishing industry of the state, is openly charged against Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen by milmon packers of the Upper Columbia, as a result of the passage.

of the Upper Columbia, as a result of the warden's resommendation of the passage of laws that will put out of business the fisheries below Ceillo Falls.

The bill that would accomplish this result was introduced by Representative McCue, of Charsop County, in the House Friday, just before the Legislature adjourned for the week. This bill is in accordance with the recommendation of Master Fish Warden Van Dusen in his annual report, which was only last week filed with the Governor, after two months of delay. The bill prohibits salmon fishof delay. The bill prohibits salmon fish-ing for 10 miles below Celilo Falls.

Will Stop Twelve Wheels.

If the bill becomes a law it will put out of business about 12 fish wheels, owned and operated by fishermen who have always been opposed to Mr. Van Dusen as Master Fish Warden, and who are now actively opposing his candidacy for reappointment.

"The appearance of this bill in the Legislature was by no means unexpected by the fishermen on the Upper Columbia." said F. A. Seufert, of The Dalles, one of the principal cannerymen on the uppe river. "It merely confirms and establishes the fact that Mr. Van Dusen has formed an alliance with the Astoria fishermen's union for the enactment of legislation that is opposed to the interests of the fishermen of the upper river, at the same time protecting the members of the Astoria union, and all this furthers the Astoria union, and all this furthers his candidacy for re-appointment to the office he now holds. The fishermen and the cannerymen of the Upper Columbia River were from the first opposed to the appointment of Mr. Van Dusen to this position for good reasons. We are op-

Reasons for Opposition.

'Our reasons for having opposed Mr. Van Dusen in the past and for objecting seriously to his continuance in this office are that we do not believe any man should hold this office who is in any way interested in the fishing business in any other section of the state over which this office has charge.

ce the administration of this office by the late H. G. McGuire, the fish laws of the state have not been made impartially to serve the true interests of this important industry. Neither have the laws been fairly and impartially enforced. We are in no sense violators of the law, neither do we condone violation of the law, but we insist that legislation, touching on this industry, shall be gen-eral in its application and strictly en-forced, regardless of location or personal interests."

The fishermen on the Upper Columbia are especially severe in censuring Master be given at 3 P. M. These afternoon meetings are free and for men only. ing his incumbency of the office have been impractical, they assert, has been demonstrated in the results that have followed the enactment and enforcement of various measures. They criticise the hatchery policy that has been followed by Mr. Van Dusen, and do not hesitate to say that in their opinion serious and costly mistakes have been made in the selection of sites for hatcheries, both at Ontario and on the McKenzie.

Used Poor Judgment.

In establishing the hatchery at Ontario, hey allege, the Master Warden used poor judgment, since demonstrated by the lambfilty of the hatchery to secure salmon for propagation, resulting practically in idleness. The operation of the hatchery on the McKonzie, it is represented, has proved a failure as to the successful dis-tribution of the fish that are propagated there. This station is doing more hatch-ery work than any other in Columbia waters, but, asks Mr. Scufert, how can they reach the sea to grow into adult fish when on their journey down-stream issi when on their journey down-stream they have to pass through the power wheels of the factories at Oregon City? "What would you give for a salmon," says he, "that is chewed up by those wheels, or for a million salmon."

"Now as to the closed season," continued Mr. Seufert, "The chinocks and the bluebacks run in the Columbia from March 1 until about August 15 to 20. The present closed season extends from March 15 to April 15. It should be changed to begin March I and con-tinue until May I, if any protection is to be afforded these salmon. The Summer closed season runs from Au-gust 25 to September 10, instead of from about August 10 to September 1, as it should. The only protection now afforded is to the allversides and other less valuable salmon.

Result Not Surprising.

"It is not surprising, then, that the report of the Master Fish Warden should disclose an increase of 300 per cent in the number of silversides and cent in the number of silversides and a corresponding decrease of 8 per cent in chinocks. Why continue this protection of silversides when the chinocks are becoming more scarce?

Fishermen in the vicinity of The Dalles are thoroughly awake to the situation. They propose to support and in every possible way encourage any and all legislation that will serve the true interests of the salmen in-dustry, but they are up in arms and will vigorously resist all efforts still further to discriminate against them and their interests.

Ole J. Settem and H. M. Lorntsen, numbers of the Asteria Fishermen's Union, have been at Salem since the opening of the Legislature, lobbying for the legislation proposed in the Mc-Cue bill and other laws suggested by Mr. Van Dusen. COUNCILMAN SHEPHERD WILL ADVOCATE ORDINANCE,

Would Allow One Saloon for Every Additional 500 of Population Above 200,000.

An effort to limit the number of sa loons in Portland to 400 will be made before the liquor license committee of the Council at its meeting tomorrow. The suggestion is made by Councilman Shepherd, who will ure his plan upon the other members of the committee. If the increase in the amount of the licenses should result reducing the number of saloons to 400 immediately, it would be held at that figure until the population has reached 200,000. "I believe that it would be advan-tageous to the city to limit the number of saloons," said Mr. Shepherd last night, "and I shall endeavor to have such an amendment to the ordinance adopted by the committee. With 400 saloons at $800, the income to the city would be materially increased over the present revenue, as there are now only $15 saloons licensed at $500.
