

JAMES MACKEY PASSES AWAY IN PORTLAND, 101 YEARS OLD

THE LATE JAMES MACKEY, OREGON CENTENARIAN.

JAMES MACKEY, one of the oldest men in Oregon, died last night at 6 o'clock at Mount St. Joseph's Home for the Aged at East Thirtieth and East Stark streets. He was 101 years old. Mr. Mackey came to Portland from Corvallis about a month ago. Monday his remains, which are now at the undertaking establishment of Dunning, McEntee and Gilbaugh, will be shipped to Corvallis for burial. He is survived by seven children. They are: Mrs. John McGee, Corvallis; John Mackey, Cape Horn, Wash.; William Mackey, Independence, Or.; Mrs. Annie Herbert, Ottawa, Can.; Mrs. Ellen O'Neill, Barnes Corner, Y. T.; Mrs. Edna Johnson, Algonac, Ont., and Michael Mackey, Toledo, Or. Mr. Mackey became a centenarian more than a year ago, and reached his 101st birthday August 27, last. He was a native of Ireland, where he spent his boyhood days. When he was 14 years of age, he emigrated with his family to America, settling near Quebec. He was never content to remain long in one place and drifted from place to place, encountering many exciting experiences. At times he worked as a stonecutter. In 1852 he came to Oregon, which has since been his home. Mr. Mackey was a tall, fine-looking old gentleman, and one talking to him would never suspect that he had reached and passed the century mark. Time had erased from his memory many of the experiences of his life, but he could talk by the hour of the days gone by. Mr. Mackey led an easy life and never paid much attention to the rules of hygiene and health. He was naturally healthy and only once in his life was sick, and that was with a fever. He used tobacco and drank whenever he had a mind to, but did not partake of either to excess. Death was due to old age.

Y. M. C. A. BEAT CLUBMEN

MULTNOMAH DEFEATED IN BASKETBALL CONTEST.

Two Halves End in Tie, and in Playing to First Score, Association Wins.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team defeated the Multnomah Club team in the latter's gymnasium last night by the score of 16 to 14. The outcome of the game was a surprise, as the Y. M. C. A. supporters thought that the Association boys had much chance against the clubmen. At the end of the first half nearly all the Y. M. C. A. supporters gave up hope, for the score then was 3 to 3. But at the first of the second half the Association team was strengthened by a new guard and showed improved form. Dr. Thornton, the new guard of the Association team was the man who tied the score. By two well-directed baskets near the end of the second half he made the score even. Russell was the man who won the day for the Y. M. C. A., for after the second half had ended and the game was declared a tie, it was decided to play for the first score. The first basket in the middle of a crowd of his opponents and was carried off the floor on the shoulders of the other Association boys. Fast playing marked the game and a number of fouls were made—15 by Multnomah and 9 by the Y. M. C. A. A spirit of jealousy prevailed throughout the game, and two of the players almost came to blows. After the game, however, the difficulty was arranged and the two belligerents went away with no ill will. Toward the end of the second half both teams played at their best, each realizing that the championship of the city rested on a few minutes' work. The Association team, however, had the advantage of endurance, and while some of the clubmen seemed ready to drop out, the Y. M. C. A. boys were as fresh as at the start. During the last three minutes of the game the ball was around the Y. M. C. A. goal, but the boys were unable to score till Thornton, by a fine throw from the center of the floor tossed the ball into the basket. The Y. M. C. A. did not show as much team work as Multnomah, and a great

GUIDES CHILDREN

Experience and a Mother's Love Advice Valuable. An ill mother writes about feeding children. "If mothers would use Grape-Nuts for their little ones there would be less need for medicines and fewer doctors' bills. "If those suffering from indigestion and stomach troubles would live on Grape-Nuts, toast and good milk for a short period they would experience more than they otherwise would believe. "Our children have all learned to know the benefit of Grape-Nuts as an appetizing, strengthening food. It is every evening, with few variations, like this: "Mama, let's have toast and Grape-Nuts for breakfast; or let's have eggs and Grape-Nuts—never forgetting the latter. "One of our boys in school and 15 years of age repeatedly tells me his mind is so much brighter and in every way he feels so much better after having Grape-Nuts as a part of his breakfast." O. R. & N. TRACKS CLEAR

All Trains Over Main Line Depart on Schedule Time.

Washouts on the main line of the O. R. & N. near Arlington, reported Friday evening, were repaired yesterday and all trains left on schedule with the exception of the Spokane Flyer, which did not get away last night on account of continued trouble on the Washington division. Washouts on the Washington branches are said to be very numerous and it is not known just when traffic in that territory will be resumed. Trains reached the city last night on time. Chief Engineer Roschke, of the O. R. & N., had a narrow escape from death while at work clearing the snow slides that have been frequent in the Columbia gorge during the past week. He missed his footing and was caught beneath a heavy snowplow which was in action. He escaped with a few bruises. General Superintendent Buckley also had a close call, falling almost under the wheels of a locomotive, which was stopped just in time to prevent an accident.

WILL GIVE BIGGER LOAF

Master Bakers of Portland Organize, but Will Not Raise Price.

The master bakers of Portland formed a protective association last night in the office of the Retail Grocers' Association. The organization will be known as the Portland Master Bakers' Association and its purpose will be to arrange better trade relations between the different owners of bakeries. No stand will be taken to raise the price of bread, but the members declare that they will all try to arrange a plan whereby a larger loaf will be given at the present price. The officers are: President, E. S. Miller; first vice-president, H. Brammer; second vice-president, John Matichner; secretary, C. E. Merrick; treasurer, H. F. Rittman. The association will meet the second and fourth Saturdays of every month.

EXCLUSIVE

OPTICIANS

If you want perfect-fitting glasses, go where the scientific fitting of glasses is made a specialty. It is but common sense that opticians who put ALL their time fitting glasses can serve you better than where they also conduct a mercantile business. We limit our practice to the eye—to defects of eyesight requiring correction by glasses.

GARAGE WILL BE MODERN

PLANS FOR MINOR & COHEN'S NEW STRUCTURE.

Every Convenience Provided For Sales and Repair Departments Under Separate Management.

Minor & Cohen's new garage, now under construction at the corner of Sixteenth and Alder streets, will be one of the best equipped establishments in the West. The place will be 36 by 100 feet, without posts, and the repair shop and sales room will be separate. Each will be under separate managements. H. M. Covey will have charge of the sales, while Cohen & Minor will do the repair work. This plan is followed by all the leading shops of other cities, as the dealers declare that a man cannot give his attention to one branch of the business without neglecting the other.

The building will be modern in every detail, and planned after the big shops of other cities. It will have ventilating skylights to allow the smoke and gas to escape. These, with the numerous small windows on the sides and the plate glass front, will make the building as light as could be desired. The offices and waiting-rooms will be in a gallery 11 feet above the level of the floor. The wash rack will be big enough to allow two machines at one time. Lockers for the men will be built back of each stall, while a room will be built for the use of drivers. The repair shop will be 44 by 50 feet, giving room to work on ten machines at one time. It will be some time until the shop will be ready for occupation, as piles must be driven for the foundation.

WATER CODE SATISFACTORY

EASTERN OREGON PEOPLE ARE WILLING TO ACCEPT IT.

Even With Amendments, It Is Preferable to No Legislation, Says C. W. Mallett, of Ontario.

C. W. Mallett, of Ontario, who has been at Salem working for the proposed water code, was in Portland yesterday. Mr. Mallett's visit to Salem was made on the earnest solicitation of people who live in Eastern Oregon and are desirous that the present Legislature take some action in regard to the use of the waters of the various streams for irrigation purposes. The water code bill is now in the hands of the joint committee on irrigation, and while there have been many amendments Mr. Mallett is of the opinion that the law has been benefited by the changes. The code met with considerable opposition, chiefly because of the great expense it contemplated, but the people living in the arid districts of the state feel that the time has come for radical legislation governing the control and distribution of the waters and they hope that the law may be passed, even though it may be faulty in some respects. "We of arid Oregon," said Mr. Mal-
