1907-Dies in delirium

CHICAGO, March 3.—John Alexander Dowle died at 7:40 this morning in hilloh House, Zion City, after an attack of delirium, during which he talked as though at one of his religious meetings. The delirium seized him shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, and he talked as in his prime. He denounced people with the old-time vigor, ordered the guards to throw out disturbers, and acted just as he had on so many previous occasions. He gradbecame weaker, and the attendant telephoned for Judge D. N. Barnes, who reached Shiloh House at 7 A. M. Forty minutes later Dowie was dead. There were present only Judge Barnes and two personal attendants.

Religious Services Had Ceased.

It had been Dowle's custom all Sum-mer and Winter to hold religious serv-ices every Sunday afternoon in the parlor of Shiloh House. About 356 of his original followers remained faithful and attended these services. Dowie always were his apostolic robes and made a characteristic address. Five weeks ago these meetings ceased, and Dowie appeared no longer in public. The Sunday meetings, however, were still held by his adherents.

Since that time Dowle had been gradually failing. Friday afternoon there were no indications of approach-ing death. He received a few followers and prayed for some people. His condition seemed to be about the same as for the last two or three weeks. One of the attendants remained with him until midnight and was relieved by the other attendant

Wilhur Glenn Voliva, head of the faction opposed to Dowle, at first refused to make any comment on Dowle's death but later in the day reconsidered his determination and declared that the death of the former leader will not affect the future of the church in any adverse manner. He said:

Because of Dr. Dowle's sad mental and Because of Dr. Dowie's and mental and physical condition, he has been a hindrance in many ways. Now that he is gone all bitter feeling, just or unjust, will disappear. Dr. Dowie has done a work for humanity witch in some respects is second to none that has been done by anybody, past or present. Although the became a naturalized American citizen, he always was proud of the land zen, he always was proud of the land of his birth, and his $50,000 Summer home near Montague, Mich., where his retinue of servants awed the natives, bore the Scotch name of Ren MacDhut. 1860 Dowle's parents removed to Adelaide, Australia, where for seven years the youth was a clerk in a busi-ness house. He saved enough money during this period to return to Edin-burgh at the age of 20 and pursue a five years course in theology and the arts. He became master of Greek and Hebrew, and cultivated a literary taste that in after years resulted in a library

Wille studying for the ministry h While studying for the ministry he developed his faith-healing theory. He made up his mind from reading the Bible that Christ meant to cure the body as well as the soul, and that prayer and the laying on of hands would do what was required. He was his own first patient. He fell il of a stomach trouble and the doctors gave him up. Then, he said, he read his Bible all one night and prayed to be cured, and he was cured.

After 10 years in Melbourne Dowle lecided to remove to England, but changed his mind and came to America. His enemies declared his real reason for leaving Australia was that he was driven out by the authorities, who objected to his new doctrifies.

His Invasion of Chicago

For a time the Dowie family resided it Evanston, while the evangelist tried to get a foothold in Chicago through cottage meetings, the results of which were most discouraging. Then a church was established in Englewood.

When the World's Fair opened Dowle had a wooden tabermacie in Woodlawn, near one of the entrances to the grounds, and here daily meetings were held. At first the attendance was meager, this fame as a heater began to spread, and the lame, the halt and the blind swarmed to the tabernacle for ministration, Crowds that could not find room within stood outside, trying to see and hear through "The year of persecution" came in 1895. Dowle was arrested a hundred times for Dowie was arrested a hundred times for violation of city ordinances relating to the care of the sick, but he never falled to obtain ball. He won in the end, but his expenses for counsel and court charges were $20,000. The more trouble was made for him the more he prospered. Branch courches were established in other cities; a large hospital was built in Chicago, a ollege for the training of missionarie was organized, a printing plant put in operation, a bank started.

In the memorial address on the fifth anniversary of the institution of his work In Chicago, Dowle told his congregation that he had made $5,000,000 out of Zion. The money had come from the men and women before him. Many of them were poor circumstances, yet when he told his wealth they cheered, and said God ntended he should have the money.

The plans were made public January 1 1900, and in July, 1901, the lots were se lected. A month later the first building was erected, and in March, 1962, Dr. Dowie took up his residence in Zion City, which, a year later, had a population of 5000.

In the city as well as the church, Dowl was supreme. The title of the 6500 acres bought with the money of the sect, rested in him. Lots were leased, not sold, and probably no leases ever issued in any com munity compared with those given to the residents of Zion. Running for 999 years they were filled, with restrictions like the following:

"The premises shall never be used for a slaughter-house, distillery, saloon or beer garden, tobacco store, oplum joint, gambling establishment, dance hall, cir-cus, pharmacy or drug store, office or residence of a practicing physician or surgeon place for selling pork or secret society meeting place."

Ruler Over All Industries.

Lace factories were established as the leading industry. Expert workers were brought from England, and the plant be-gan operations under the personal direction of Samuel Stevenson, an English manufacturer, who had been converted to Zionism and married Dowie's stater. In 1872 Dowle went back to Australia and for six years was pastor of the Congregational Church of Newtown, a suburb of Sydney. He served one term of five days and another of 30 days for holding temperance meetings on the street without the permission of the Mayor.

He forsook his church and in 1878

Michigan Copper Men Appeal to Governor to Allow Combine.

DETEROIT, March 9.-Governor Fred Warner today gave a public hearing on the bill passed by the Legislature this week to prohibit Michigan mining com-panies from voting any stock they may hold or acquire in any other such cor-poration which at the time of such a purchase is operating a producing mine. The bill which awaits the Governor's sig-nature was avowedly aimed to prevent the Calumet & Hecla Copper Mining Com-pany from voting its shares in the Osci-ola, Allouez and Centennial Companies at the annual meeting of the latter companies must week, when it has been understood the Calumet & Heola is to take control of the three small companies.

A large delegation of mining men and c. izons from the upper peninsula copper country came here to oppose the signing of the bill, and a further hearing will be held by the Governor Monday afternoon at Lansing for the benefit of representa-tives of the iron mining companies, For-mer Circuit Judge Norman H. Haire, for mer Circuit Judge Norman H. Haire, for the past two years manager of the Os-ceola mine, and Herbert Bowen, an attor-ney of Detroit, spoke in favor of the bill, and Vice-President T. F. Livermore, of the Calumet & Hecia, who came from Boston to plead with the Governor not to sign, declared that should the act under discussion become a law it would end investments on the part of himself and his associates under the corporation laws of Michigan.

laws of Michigan.

The opponents of the bill begged the Governor to send it back to the Legislature for reconsideration, on the ground that it was snap legislation enacted withut due discussion. They criticised the management of Or ceola by the Bigelow syndicate and Su-perintendent McNaughton of the Calumet & Heela. One of the criticisms repeatedly urged by different copper country men against the Bigelow syndicate was that it allowed its sales to be mangaed by the Inited Metal-Selling Company on a com mission.

Colonel Livermore, vice-president of the Calumet & Hecla. In replying to the imputation that the Calumet & Hecla intends to shut down the Osceola, Allouez and Centennial mines as soon as they have been acquired, in order to curtail production, declared the aim was to expand these mines and make them produce more copper. He said that in the La Saile mine the Calumet & Heala Company had what was known as the Kearpany had what was known as the Kear sarge lode, which produced a great in-crease. Three mines which it was pro-posed to acquire, he said, lay in a direct continuation of the La Saile, and the four mines could be developed more econically with a community of interest.
