FIGHT WIDE STREET.—Property-owners resident on East Gilliam street, east of the Ladd farm in Center Addition, met at the home of J. F. Waite, 148 East Gilliam street, Friday night and formed a protective club for the purpose of look- ing after their rights and resisting the widening of East Gilliam street from Grand avenue to the city limits. The Montavilla Improvement Board is work- ing to secure an 80-foot street. It was the opinion of the property-owners who assembled at the home of Mr. Waite that the widening of the street is not nec- essary, and that their "property should be appropriated for this wide street, de- stroying homes and imposing a hard- ship" on them. On the other hand, it was the opinion of those present that the street should be opened 60 feet wide and improved, which they considered better than making the street 80 feet wide. Besides, it was considered that a 60-foot street will meet requirements in the dis- trict for all time. About 25 property- owners were present at the meeting. Fifteen others have agreed to join in the movement. It was decided to carry the fight to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Hot Bludge at Powells.—While play- ing with powder that he found in cans that were dumped in a vacant lot near Jefferson and Natilla streets, Edwin Walker, aged 15 years, was painfully burned about the face and head at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The powder exploded when a match was thrown into it. The injured lad was taken to his home, 312 1/2 Jefferson street, where he was attended by a physician. Station Officer Circle was assigned by Captain Moore to investigate the case for the police department.

PROFESSOR HORSER LECTURES.—Pro- fessor J. B. Horner, of the Oregon Agri- cultural College, lectured last night in Woodstock Hall under the auspices of the Woodstock Club on "A Vacan- tion in the Mediterranean." He made the trip last year and gave the result of his observations, together with stereo- vision views. Professor Horner has am- bled his experiences in six lectures which have just been published by the students of the Agricultural College in the form of an illustrated booklet.

FUNERAL OF CLEVELAND ROCKWELL.—The funeral services for the late Captain Cleveland Rockwell at Trinity Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon were largely attended. The Loyal Legion, of which he was a member, was represented by Lieutenant Edwin Martin, Colonel James Jackson and G. E. Calkin, and the G. A. R. was represented by Commander H. Sutcliffe, T. B. McDevitt and Judge H. H. Northrup as honorary pallbearers. The active pallbearers were R. G. Mor- row, R. E. Beckman, W. C. Morris, Judge Seneca Smith, L. A. Greenley and Cap- tain James Shaw.

NO INQUEST FOR DROWNED MAN.—No inquest will be held in the case of Ira Wahlquist, who was drowned by slipping into the river from a pier at St. Johns early Friday morning. The body was re- covered at noon yesterday and Coroner Finley was notified. Wahlquist is sur- vived by his widow, who lives at St. Johns. Wahlquist was a lockfender. He came here recently from Bellingham, Wash.

FIRE CAUSED BY CROSSED WIRES.—Crossed electric wires in the first saloon caused the fire that did considerable damage to the saloon and to the Jones market, located next door on Fourth, near Morrison street, early yesterday morning. It was at first thought the flames originated in the market smoke- house. The market did business almost as usual all day.

WORKMAN IS INJURED.—W. P. Hap- perett, a workman employed on the Lewiston branch of the O. R. & N. Com- pany, suffered an injury to his ankle by being struck by the main shaft of a donkey engine. He is now at St. Vin- cent's Hospital in imminent danger of losing his foot.

ORIENTAL CLAPTRAP. Watch and Jewelry Repairing. Rug Stories That Don't Go in Port- land. A nobleman of the Orient—a consular representative—an attaché of the Royal Palace of the Sultan—the originator of the Oriental rug commerce—collectors of rare weaves—travelers in the remote East—possessors of rich fabrics secured by some secret method of persuasion from unwilling Turkish Governments—owners of rugs that once adorned some Persian palace and were used by Pasha or valorous nobleman; all these come to Portland and go. They make startling asseverations, expect to hoodwink the town into believing their fabulous tales, and are surprised and chagrined to find that the intelligent appropria- tion and understanding of Oriental rugs causes such bluff and bluster to fall on deaf ears. The fly-by-night visitors, finding that Portlanders "don't inhale hot air," fold their tents like the Arab and silently steal away.

JAEGER BROS. Jewelers and Opticians. 133 FIFTH STREET. We can make anything in the jew- elry line, from a ring, stick-pin, etc., to the most expensive diamond brooch. Jewelry repaired in an ex- pert manner at a small cost. Re- pairing watches is one of our special- ties. We know how to fix them so as to get absolute time.

EXPOSITION RINK SKATERS. The inclement weather of last week was responsible for much extra patron- age at the Exposition Rink, and all ses- sions throughout the week were scenes of jolly crowds of skaters. The floor, which has recently been in the hands of carpenters, is now in fine form and is declared by many to be in the best condition since the rink's opening. The big building is pleasantly and comfort- ably heated by steam, making the rink an ideal place to spend the dull rainy afternoons and evenings. Impromptu events, which add much to the sking attractions of the rink, are often intro- duced at the evening sessions. Racing this week.
