Miss Maud Hahn, A Prominent Participant in the Society Circus

MRS WALTER GATES A Handsomely Gowned Matron at the Assembly

FOR a period of three nights the society circus has reigned supreme, and for the nonce the scene took on the combined atmosphere of a Mardi-Gras. Congratulations galore have been showered among the galaxy of participants who entered so heartily into the spirit and displayed such astonishing ability. Following the circus the grill at the Hotel Portland was completely metamorphosed into a circus menagerie. A more artistic or elaborate scale of decoration would be hard to imagine. The entire ceiling of the east dining-room was covered with a canvas to represent a typical show tent; at intervals were placed menagerie cages of flaming red, with all necessary paraphernalia, iron bars sawdust, etc., and occupied by toy elephants, sheep and lions, which emitted weird incantations. Hundreds of vari-colored incandescent lights, flags of all nations, paper mache figures suspended in mid-air, an orchestra in conventional circus attire of red and gold, and Teddy bears and Caruso monkeys merrily twinging on trapezes, were only a part of the elaborate decorations. Two small lads attired in jockey costumes and seated on life-sized steeds, and the appearance of the Hunt Club in their dashing habits, added the necessary realism to the ensemble.

The assemblage was a most representative one and presented a pleasing kaleidoscopic effect in their various sartorial costumes. An unfortunate contrivance in connection with the circus occurred to Miss Maud Hahn, who proved herself a splendid equestrienne, the first night. In making the last hurdle her ankle was dislocated, which will confine her to her residence for some weeks to come.

Misses Hazel and Isabel Welder entertained last week with bridge Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. David Honeyman, Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Miss Ines Barrett, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Rhoda Felling, Mrs. George Wentworth, Mrs. Clarence Stevens, Miss Fanny Brown, Miss Amy Helshu and Miss Rachael Joseph.

Mrs. David C. Lewis entertained at luncheon on Tuesday in compliment to her sister-in-law, Mrs. David Honeyman, and the latter's bridesmaids.

Miss Henrietta Felling and Miss Mae Felling leave this week for New York City, where they will in all probability sail for Europe. Major H. C. Cabell, U. S. A.; Mrs. Cabell and their son Henry will accompany the Misses Felling across the continent, going thence to the Jamestown Fair.

Few hostesses have attracted more attention, no matter how distinguished the list of guests, than the dinner on Tuesday, in compliment to Mr. W. D. Wheelwright, in celebration of his birthday, and having asked eight friends to dine with him, they went to the Portland Hotel grill. Upon the suggestion of Mr. Wheelwright, they were invited into the white and gold drawing-room, presumably to view the decorations for a banquet, which, to the complete surprise of Mr. Wheelwright, proved to be in his honor with covers for 40. The drawing-room was extremely handsome, decorated with quantities of spring blossoms, with curtains, palms, bay and potted laurel trees, interspersed with lights capped in rose-shaped shades emanating in blossoms. A long table with a centerpiece of pink tulips banked in moss with myriads of rose-tinted incandescent lights, was met at either end with oval tables. One was arranged with an enormous mirror with porcelain vases filled with beautiful flowers, the other being transformed into a grotto with a playing fountain and a picturesque lake filled with gold fish and pond lilies. A most elaborate floral piece marked the chair of the honor guest and was sent from Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett who was unable to attend. Throughout the brilliant dinner toasts were given by Mr. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mr. W. J. Burns, Mrs. Zora Snow and Dr. Holt C. Wilson, to which Mr. Wheelwright responded in a clever and gracious manner.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mather, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. David Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wood, Mrs. Hazel Dolph, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. Ernest Tucker, Mrs. Arthur Minott, Mr. and Mrs. Zora Snow, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Miss Henrietta Felling, Miss Martha Hoyt, Mr. Rodney Gleason, Mr. Rodney Macleay, Mr. Rodney Gleason, Mr. Walter Beebe, Mr. Andrew Kerr and Mr. Carl Spohn.

The subscription dance on Wednesday, which included the majority of the Assembly Club members, was a pronounced success. The patronesses were: Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. George Good, Mrs. Zora Snow, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William Warrens.

Among the handsome gowns were the following: Miss Fanny Brown, in a strikingly effective gown of black satin, with cut steel buttons and Irish Maltese lace. Mrs. David Honeyman, in white chiffon, with a corsage bouquet. Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, in delicate green satin, with a corsage bouquet of Jacqueminot roses. Miss Hazel Houghton, in a becoming frock of white tulle, with a girde of blue satin.

Miss Frances Lewis, in rose-colored satin, with bertha of rose point lace. Miss Lullie Hall, in pastel blue net with motifs of lace and a wreath of forget-me-nots in her coiffure.

Mrs. Hazel Dolph, satin Empire gown of a jonquil shade.

Mrs. Walter Gates, formerly of Pittsburgh, in a stunning princess gown of coral bengaline worn with a coral necklace. A picture of Mrs. Gates appears on today's society page.

Miss Beatrice Hill, in a white frock embroidered in pastel tones.

Miss Margaret Montgomery in a smart Empire gown of mauve crepe, with a bertha of lilac lace, and a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. M. L. Holbrook entertained on Tuesday at her Willamette Heights home with 600. The playing of the Hawaiian orchestra proved a pleasing innovation.

Mrs. Katherine A. Daly, who is to leave this coming week for Europe, was tendered a luncheon on Wednesday, given by Mrs. H. B. Adams. Present were: Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. W. Y. Masters, Mrs. B. S. Pague, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. B. F. Weaver. During the early portion of the week Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. B. S. Pague will entertain for Mrs. Daly. Her trip will include a visit to the Jamestown Fair, the Great Fair, all European cities and in all probability Egypt.

Bishop and Mrs. Charles Scadding have as their guest Mrs. Baker, of Detroit, Mich. On Tuesday Mrs. Scadding invited several friends in informally to tea to meet Mrs. Baker. On Monday Mrs. C. H. Lewis will give a luncheon in compliment to the visitor.

The dance given on Friday night at the Golf Club by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer was acknowledged by all to be one of the most successful in the history of the club. The weather was ideal and permitted of placing table-tete tables on the gallery, which served as a rendezvous during the dance. Two special cars conveyed the guests to and from the pretty clubhouse, though a number took the trip out in their motors. The decorations were effective massings of cherry blossoms, pink being the dominant color tone. Excellent music was furnished by Parsons' augmented orchestra, but a number of devotees of bridge played throughout the evening. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. John C.

ette Heights. Miss Dorothy is said to have remarkable technique and tone.

On Wednesday afternoon, at Ellers hall, Mrs. Walter Reed will present, in addition, Miss Helen Lytle, soprano, and Mrs. J. Ernest Laddlaw, contralto. Both Mrs. Laddlaw and Miss Lytle are extremely popular, so the musicale will bring out a large audience.

Miss Beatrice Hill, for whom a round of dinners, luncheons and teas have been given, leaves for her home in Springfield, on Tuesday. Miss Frances Lewis will accompany Miss Hill as far as Omaha, Nebraska, thence to Kansas City, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Sherman Hall.

The many friends of Mrs. J. F. Batchelder are delighted to see her out again after her very serious illness.

Mrs. Joseph Hill will be hostess, on Thursday, at a luncheon in honor of Miss Helene White, an attractive bride-elect.

The concert of the Cathedral Ladies' Aid Society, at Murlark hall, on April 12 for the benefit of the new orphanage, at Oswego, which is in course of construction, proved both an artistic and financial success. Mrs. Walter Reed, Miss Kathleen Lawler, Mr. J. Belcher, Miss Petronella Connolly, Don J. Zane, the Treble Triad, under the direction of J. Adrian Epping, and the St. Mary's stringed quartet, participated in the musicals. A. C. Pantou, chairman of the committee, introduced Senator Gearin, who took as his subject for his address, "Charity." Pleading remarks were also made by Archbishop Christie.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooke, who have been occupying apartments at the Portland Hotel, are again domiciled in their Irvington home, until the completion of their new residence. Mr. Cooke has recently purchased a new touring car which Mrs. Cooke will drive.

Mrs. Arthur A. Greene returns tomorrow from an extended Eastern trip. Mr. and Mrs. Greene have engaged apartments at Elton Court.

The Daughters of the American Revolution were entertained last week by Mrs. S. Chapman, on Lovejoy street. An interesting paper was read by Mrs. Warren E. Thomas on "Lives of Women of the Revolution."

The first of a series of bridge parties was given on Tuesday by Mrs. Everett Ames, at her Twenty-fourth-street residence. Prizes were flowers and an artistic tray of framed Japanese embroidery. Among those accepted: Mr. Ames' hospitality were: Mrs. George F. Russell, Mrs. Charles F. Adams, Mrs. Alma Katz, Mrs. David Loring, Mrs. Frank Branch Riley, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. E. C. Robinson, Mrs. Walter Dolie, Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Mrs. Wells Gilbert, Mrs. L. H. Tarpley, Mrs. Louis Gerlinger, Jr., Mrs. Otto Wright, Mrs. Frederick Eyerle, Mrs. Alice Sanborn, Mrs. Lullie Hall and Miss Margaret Morrison.

Dr. and Mrs. George H. Nottage leave within a fortnight for the East. Dr. Nottage goes for post-graduate work in New York and Philadelphia, while Mrs. Nottage will visit friends in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Meier have as their guests Mrs. Westheimer, of New York City, for whom much entertaining has been done since her arrival. On Thursday, Mrs. S. M. Mayer was hostess at bridge in compliment to the visitor. Mrs. Ludwig Hirsch also entertained at bridge on Friday, as did Mrs. Julius L. Meier, who, however, presided over a party with a luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Meier have sent out cards for a large bridge party in honor of Mrs. Westheimer, which will be given Wednesday evening at the Hotel Portland.

A pleasant form of diversion has been planned during the month of April by Mrs. Charles E. Ladd, who has a charming country home at Rivera, on Tuesdays and Fridays during this month. Mrs. Ladd has invited her friends to informally to tea and to view her beautiful spring flowers, which have now reached the quintessence of loveliness. Twelve acres are under cultivation, and among the specimens are daffodils, English primroses and brilliantly tinted tulips. The Japanese trees and shrubs have elicited much praise, notably the Japanese plum, with its white, crimson, orange and shell pink blossoms, and the weeping variety of Cherry of Yedo.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Fielescher are spending the week-end at Seaside.

A charming matron who has been a guest for a fortnight at the Hotel Portland is Mrs. Louise Flanders, of San Francisco. Mrs. Greenbaum has traveled extensively, is accomplished and presents a stunning appearance in her extremely smart gowns. Miss Fanny Brown entertained last week with a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Greenbaum, who was a school friend at Miss Hamilton's, in San Francisco.

Mrs. John Eben Young entertained 50 matrons on Wednesday with bridge. Dogwood and jonquils were the effective decorations. Other guests were: Mrs. Howard Mather and Mrs. S. R. Johnston.

Mrs. Howard Mather was hostess at a luncheon on Friday.

Mrs. H. Fuhrman and niece, Miss Cassie Brill, of Seattle, are guests of Mrs. Frederick Seiler.

Mrs. John Latta, one of the brides of this year, entertained with bridge on Friday for her guests. Her guests were Mrs. William Warrens, Miss Carolyn Burns, Mrs. David Honeyman, Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Minott, Mrs. Hazel Dolph, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Margaret Walter, Miss Louise Flanders and Miss Rhoda Felling.

Mrs. A. C. Pantou entertained informally on Tuesday a few friends in tea and bridge and to meet Mrs. Clarke Potts and Miss Potts, of Victoria, B. C., and Mrs. Potts Clarke, of Nova Scotia. Mrs. Pantou will have as her guest next week Miss Loraine Salls.

This is a personal appeal to you to buy your meats of Smith, and to keep away from the Beef Trust markets. By Beef Trust markets we mean all the other markets in the city, and in particular those markets that were put up by the Beef Trust to trap the public and knock Smith. Smith meats are cheapest because Smith is satisfied with little or no profit. Smith meats are best because they are ALL OREGON meats. Smith meats are purest because they have stood the strictest test of our Food Commissioners. Pin your faith to an Oregon man who sells nothing but Oregon meats. Don't eat the Beef Trust's Chicago meats.
