Affair Will Give Chance to Compare Eastern and Western Talent—27 Prizes Are Offered for 24 Events.

The Spokane Country Club has invited the members of the Waverly Golf Club, of this city, to participate in the open championship tournament of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association on the links at Spokane, Wash., May 23 to 25. The events are open to amateur golfers, members of recognized clubs. Assurances have been received by the committee of the attendance of some of the best amateur golfers of the United States.

There will be 24 events, for which 27 prizes are provided, a dozen of these being sterling-silver cups of new design. The main events are the open championship for men and women, and carry with them the association cups, which must be won by members of a club three times for permanent ownership; a championship gold medal for the winner and a silver medal for the runner-up. In addition to these prizes in the championship matches, a special silver cup is to be presented for the best medal score made in the qualifying round.

The bringing together of golf players of the East and West will give the followers of the game a line upon the comparative strength of golfers from the two sections of the country. The card for the meeting follows:

TALENTED GIRLS' DEBUT

Mrs. E. B. Carroll Presents Miss Dorothy and Katherine Holbrook.

One of the most delightful events of the week was the piano recital given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Holbrook by their daughters, Dorothy and Katherine, piano pupils of Mrs. E. B. Carroll. Although the occasion of their debut in recital work, their playing availed of expert pianists, and Mrs. Carroll again demonstrated her own great ability as a pedagogue, as well as her claim to a method, that will ever so little work on the part of the pupil, produces a result that is undeniably wonderful.

The following programme by Miss Katherine, 14 years old, was played with absolute accuracy, grace, certainty, charm and splendid musicianship:

- "Song Without Words".....Mendelssohn
- "Four Foreign Letters".....Schubert
- "Perfect Happiness".....Schumann-Kinder-scenen
- "Traveller".....Schubert
- "Entr' Acte".....Mozzkowski
- "Poupee Sansonnet".....Poldini
- Impromptu No. 3 op. 90.....Schubert

The programme below, given by Miss Dorothy, although likewise a mere beginner in the sense of material time, demonstrated what may be justifiably termed a big technique, which includes a rare, round, singing tone, great power, finish, swing, style, an infallible memory, and wonderful knowledge of pedaling:

- "Minuet".....Beethoven
- "Prelude No. 15 op. 28".....Chopin
- "Scherzo".....Mendelssohn
- "Grand Gigue".....Haessler
- "Humoresque".....Schubert
- "Legend".....Paderewski
- "Etude Japonaise".....Poldini
- "Polonaise E. Major".....Schubert

The police and self-control of the young ladies in playing gained at the outset the keenest interest of the audience, which represented the best connoisseurs of piano playing in Portland, and was a flattering tribute to Mrs. Carroll and her pupils.

The Tyrant

By Himself.

HERE'S where I and my chief assistant, Old Dr. Goose—ghost, consists entirely of our victims.

These carry around with them from the time they get up in the Morning until they retire at night—the heavy Burden of a Misfit Suit—

Look at those Gapping Collars.

—See those Bulging Lapels—those Shapeless Shoulders—Twisted Sleeves and Uncouth, Clumsy Looking Fronts and Backs—

They're all our Work—Mine and Dr. Goose's—and in a way I'm proud of them—

For although the work in each Suit was so badly Skimmed—from reasons of—Economy—that they looked Terrible; yet instead of having each Suit all gone over again and sewed properly, as I should have, I handed them over to my old pal, Dr. Goose here, and he so Pressed and Stretched and Shrunk that in a Mighty Short Time, he had each Suit looking as though it were well made.

And I made each of my Victims there believe they were getting the finest Suit in the West—

Now, of Course, when Dr. Goose's Dope has faded away, it's different story. I'll bet those fellows are now a pretty Sick Lot.

You've been a Victim of the great Misfit evil, haven't you, Reader?

You've joined the procession of Incompetence, Indifference, Ignorance and Love of Gain, haven't you?

—Pretty nearly. Everybody has—Maybe you belong now?

Well, if you do, we're going to tell you how to break away.

There's only one way, you know. That's to buy a Suit that has been properly and carefully made.

Such as "Sincerity" Suits.

There's no slight work about "Sincerity" Suits from the first snip of the Cutting Scissors until the Last Stitch has been put in.

Every operation of tailoring "Sincerity" Suits is in the hands of high-grade Specialists, who excel in their Particular Work.

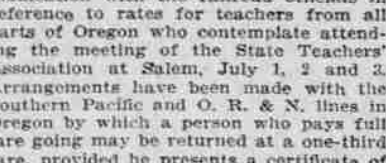

Expert needleworkers put each part together—the shape is actually sewn into the Cloth.

Of course, that's an Expensive Process.

While "Sincerity Clothes" Cost a great deal more to make than the ordinary kind they do not Cost the Wearer a Single Penny More to Buy.

And "Sincerity Clothes" retain their Shape Permanently—their Wearer never have to Join the Procession of Victims before King Tailor, the Tyrant—

Just ask your high-grade ready-for-use Clothing dealer to show you "Sincerity" Clothes—But be sure the label below is in each Coat—That's the guarantee for Style, Service and Satisfaction—Here's the label:

her own tremendous energy and enthusiasm in her work, and determination that her pupils shall not study and be unable to play, and play well, according to the highest standards of modern piano playing.

LOW RATES FOR TEACHERS

Railroads Offer One-Third Free for State Convention.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Ackerman has been in communication with the railroad officials in reference to rates for teachers from all parts of Oregon who contemplate attending the meeting of the State Teachers' Association at Salem, July 1, 2 and 3. Arrangements have been made with the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. lines in Oregon by which a person who pays full fare going may be returned at a one-third fare, provided he presents a certificate of attendance properly countersigned by the secretary of the state association, Mr. George W. Jones. The date of issuance of these tickets will be announced later.

Superintendent Ackerman has also issued a notice to County School Superintendents to hold their annual convention in connection with the department of superintendence at Salem during the meeting of the state association.

Professor L. R. Alderman, County School Superintendent of Yamhill County, is the president of this department, and J. T. Neff, of Wasco County, is the secretary.

Following is the programme for department of superintendence and County Superintendent convention:

Monday—12 P. M., "What the County Superintendent Can Do to Make the Annual School Meeting Better Attended and More Interesting"; "Teachers' Monthly Reports to County School Superintendents."

Tuesday—8 A. M., "County Annual In-

SEARCH FOR SILICA SAND

Samples Coming in to Board of Trade Indicate Local Deposits.

Additional samples of silica sand and cement rock are coming in daily to the Board of Trade, two boxes of these materials being received yesterday. They were brought from land near Portland and will be sent to Greenley & Crawford, official assayers for the board, to be tested.

"I am satisfied these deposits abound near Portland plentifully," said Secretary Luber yesterday. "The samples we have examined so far were not of the requisite quality for the uses to which we wish to put them. When we find silica sand and cement rock of the proper quality and can demonstrate the fact, Eastern capitalists stand ready to establish in Portland a glass factory and a cement works. These two plants will give employment to about 500 men. In the meantime we are continuing our search for the raw materials, confident that we will yet find what we are looking for."

In Russia there are agricultural organizations of serfdom, through which large quantities of farming supplies and machinery are purchased.
