

WRITTEN CHARGES AGAINST SLEUTHS

Mayor Takes Action to Make Binding Dismissal of Old Detective Force.

FIGHT IN COURT EXPECTED

Former Charges Reiterated and Made More Explicit, Specific Instances of Violations of Rules Being Set Forth in Full.

Written charges reciting the grounds of their dismissal from the Police Department were served yesterday upon the six detectives who were dropped from service by Mayor Lane August 25, 1906. The charges were prepared by Mayor Lane through the police committee of the executive board and were for the purpose of making final the dismissal of the old squad which several months ago won a decision in the State Circuit Court on the grounds that the charges previously filed against them were not sufficiently definite to make legal the action of the Mayor and executive board.

The members of the old detective force who were discharged are Frank Snow, Joe Day, A. G. Vaughn, L. C. Carpenter, Joseph Rosing and L. Hartman. Charges were not served on Vaughn and Hartman, however, as Vaughn took his case before the Civil Service Commission and Hartman dropped the matter entirely.

The charges that have now been filed against them are very similar to those originally submitted, but are more explicit, comprising 29 re-written pages. The ex-detectives were notified by the chairman, Thomas G. Greene, to appear before the police committee of the executive board Wednesday, June 26, for trial on the charges.

When the detectives were originally discharged by the Mayor and his action confirmed by the board, they were charged with incompetency, inefficiency, failure to comply with the rules and regulations of the department and failure to give satisfactory service. It was also held that they were in connection with the Police Department would be incompatible with good service and against the best interests of the city.

Mr. Vaughn appealed his case to the Civil Service Commission, which after a trial held the charges sufficient and sustained by the evidence, and affirmed the action of the executive board and Mayor. Frank Snow filed a petition for a writ of review in the circuit court. On motion to quash, Judge Sears held, in effect, that the charges were insufficient; that they must be more certain and definite, and that the detectives were entitled to a hearing thereon. He held that a formal trial was necessary before the appointing authority could dismiss.

The charges that have now been served on the detectives are more specific, citing individual cases of alleged violations of the rules of the department. They are signed by Mayor Lane who, after referring to the charges of last August, says: "I now repeat the said charges, and in addition thereto have set out specific instances of such incompetency and violation of rules."

It is believed that the detectives will make a determined fight to improve the charges or to carry the matter into the court and again contend that the charges are not sufficient for dismissal. It has been declared by some that if the detectives should win their case in court, the city would be liable to them for an amount equal to their salary for all of the time they have been out of the service.

RUSH NORTH BANK ROAD

Elliott Says Construction Gang Will Have 12,000 Men.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 15.—(Special.)—"Soon we shall have 12,000 men on construction work on the Portland & Seattle and we will then move as much dirt as the Panama Canal Commission is now moving," said Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, who arrived here tonight in a special train with a number of the road's officials.

"By no means have we abandoned the idea of the Portland & Seattle viaduct across the Fort Wright reservation," he continued. "We have a dozen surveys from which to choose this outlet, some across the reservation, but it may be that not one will be found feasible which will not take us across the reservation. We positively will build the Portland & Seattle through Spokane. Spokane is one of the reasons for the road. We want a railroad track from the coast to our eastern terminals. We shall elect our present Northern Pacific tracks

WELL-KNOWN EAST SIDE YOUNG MAN PASSES AWAY. Roy Jennings.

Roy Jennings, a well-known young man, died Friday night at the home of his parents, corner East Eleventh and East Hoyt streets, after a lingering illness. The immediate cause of death was bleeding from the nose, superinduced by a tumor on the breast. He was 24 years old and a native of Portland. His father, Fred O. Jennings, president of the Portland Mattress & Upholstering Company, and formerly of Jennings Bros. Furniture Company, Roy attended the public schools of the city, and afterwards attended the Bishop Scott Academy for several years. He evinced an inclination toward electrical study and pursued that branch until ill health compelled him to desist. He was an exemplary young man of excellent talents, and gave promise of a life of usefulness. He had many friends in the city who will regret his death in the springtime of his life. Funeral services will be conducted Monday at the Portland Crematorium.

RUNS FOR BOTTLE; FALLS ON EVE OF Closing-Up Day, Overland Route Proves Disastrous.

John Overland, a blacksmith, aged 62 years, is suffering from a broken leg, as the result of his anxiety to get a supply of invigorating beverages requiring the edict of John Manning requiring Sunday closing goes into effect.

Overland had been eating a late supper in a Japanese restaurant on North Third street about 12:30 o'clock this morning, when he suddenly remembered that in half an hour he would be unable to secure any liquor for the ensuing 24 hours and hastily departed from the restaurant to get to the nearest saloon before it had closed for the night. In his haste he stumbled and fell to the pavement and when he attempted to rise he was unable to do so. Patrolmen Tennant and Abbott appeared and the old man endeavored to explain that he was hurt and the officers called the patrol wagon and had him taken to the station. Dr. Fred Zeigler responded to a call and examined the man's injury, which was found to be a broken leg just above the ankle. Dr. Zeigler dressed the injured member and ordered the man sent to the Good Samaritan Hospital. He resides at Union avenue and Russell street.

Jones was waited for a south-bound car to pass and, not thinking of another approaching in the opposite direction stepped on the track. He was struck by the car and hurled to the pavement.

At the hospital the physicians were unable to state whether he had sustained a fracture of the skull, but such is believed to be the case. His condition is critical.
