Chautauqua Forum.

So many subjects of large importance to the people of the State of Oregon are demanding attention and are pressing for a special hearing upon our platform that the Chautauqua management has decided to establish an open parliament, and have various subjects discussed. Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, A. M., the author of "McLoughlin and Old Oregon," "McDonald of Oregon," and "The Conquest," a talented and brilliant writer, beloved by all Oregon, has consented to take entire charge of this work.

The hour will be from 11 A. M. to 12 M. daily, and the main auditorium will be the place. The following is a partial programme and is given subject to some changes.

Wednesday, July 10—"The Grange," Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, state lecturer, and others.

Thursday, July 11—"A Day's Work in a Newspaper Office," N. J. Levinson, Sunday editor of The Oregonian; lecture, Mrs. Walter W. Bruce, graduate of the Old School of Expression, Chicago.

Friday, July 12—"The Portland Women's Club," Mrs. Frederick Eggert, president; an entertaining programme by representative women.

Saturday, July 13—"State congress of mothers."

Monday, July 15—"The Conquest of the Desert," Miss Wilhelmine Jochanke, graduate of Chicago University; lecture to the public schools of New York City; "Forty Years Ago," reminiscences of Dr. Owens Adams, Oregon pioneer woman physician, graduate of the University of Michigan, medical department.

Tuesday, July 16—"Missions and philanthropies," "The Great Awakening," Mrs. E. W. Luckey, Portland.

Wednesday, July 17—"The Consumers' League."

Thursday, July 18—"The Ideal Play," Arthur A. Greene, dramatic editor of The Oregonian.

Friday, July 19—"Equal Suffrage," Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway and others; "Wimmin's Rights," a humorous sketch by Mrs. Walter W. Bruce.

Transportation.

This year the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company has constructed a branch line from the main line at Gladstone direct to the park, which will put our grounds on the main line of this road.

There will be rapid and constant service from Portland and Gladstone to the park during the day, and until 6:00 p. m. for the day is closed, and all people who desire removed from the grounds.

Special excursion rates have been granted on the Southern Pacific lines on the certificate plan, and we expect that trains will stop at Gladstone Park, as usual. Otherwise, parties can buy their tickets to either Oregon City or Portland and proceed thence to Gladstone Park by motor line.

The officers and directors of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association are: President, Congressman W. C. Hawley; vice-president, Hon. C. H. Dye; secretary, Hon. H. E. Cross; treasurer, Hon. E. G. Canfield; Hon. George A. Steel; George A. Harding, Esq.; Hon. C. B. Moore; Hon. J. E. Hedges; Hon. J. T. Apperson; William A. Huntley, Esq.; Samuel G. Reed, Esq.; Mr. A. F. Parker.

JEWISH FREE SCHOOL

Remarkable Progress Is Made Under Principal Seidel.

Remarkable progress has been made by the Portland Jewish Free School, which was organized a few months ago by Rev. J. Seidel as principal.

There is an average daily attendance of 150 pupils, who are divided into five classes. The teaching qualities of the institution can best be judged by the fact that little tots barely 5 years old have in this short time learned a sufficient vocabulary in the old Hebrew to carry on a simple conversation. The older pupils translate Hebrew into English and vice versa, and are taught grammar, Hebrew reading and writing, Biblical history, catechism, etc. The officers of the institution are very much pleased with the progress made by Dr. Seidel and the other instructors.

Mrs. S. M. Blumauer, a prominent worker in the local Council of Jewish Women, has made several visits to the school and expressed herself as amazed at the showing made by the pupils.

A public examination will shortly be held where this will undoubtedly be demonstrated. A prominent Presbyterian clergyman from Seattle who was here last week, visited the school and congratulated both instructors and principal.

A meeting of the executive board of the school will be held during the coming week to arrange for more complete quarters. It is believed that within a few weeks the total attendance will double.

The school now meets from 4 to 8 P. M. daily, but it has been decided that during the summer months the daily instruction shall be given in the morning from 9 to 12.

The officers of the institution are: President, Sigmund Seidel; first vice-president, J. Nuellman; treasurer, Ben Seiling; secretary, M. Moessel; Superintendent, Rev. J. Seidel; directors, D. Solis Cohen, Dr. J. Bloch, Dr. N. Brumbers, S. L. Goldschmidt, M. Levin, M. Wax, S. Hochfeld, D. Dorfman, M. Ostrow.

TO RAISE OPEN AIR FUND

Juvenile Improvement Association
Proposes to Arrange Outings.

PORTLAND, Or., June 21.—(To the Editor.)—The season is now at hand for vacation and recreation to those whom fortune has blessed with that which is the best of all things, youth. The young men of this city who are permitted to answer.

Since the advent of the Juvenile Court, an effort has been made each season to gather together the children of this city whom fortune has not blessed with outings, and take them to the beach or to the mountains. This has been done two consecutive seasons, and almost wholly upon public subscription.

This year the Juvenile Improvement Association, which has handled this kindred department of the Juvenile Court system, proposes to again offer an outing to Portland's youth and especially to "Cub" boys of the Juvenile Court, and an effort is now being made to raise the necessary funds to finance the trip.

An "Open-Air Fund" is being raised by a committee of the association and the public will be asked to contribute. Money, provisions, tents and bedding, and considerable camp paraphernalia will be needed. It is probable that railroad fare will be provided by the railroad company, as has been done in the past, and an effort will be made to thus secure transportation.

On June 23, 1907, being Friday of next week, the committee has arranged for "Juvenile day" at The Oaks. The Oaks Amusement Company, through the courtesy of its manager, Mr. D. C. Freeman, has tendered the grounds for the occasion. In addition, The Oaks Amusement Company has headed the subscription list with a substantial donation and has agreed to set aside a percentage of the gate receipts for that day of the "Open-Air Fund" for the juveniles.

It is especially desired that the citizens of Portland shall swell the attendance at The Oaks on that day, and by so doing swell the percentage that will go to the "Open-Air Fund" for the children. In addition, the committee will receive donations of cash and subscriptions therefor and for other necessities, and it is felt that this appeal will reach the good citizens of this city and a fund raised sufficient to defray the expenses of at least two or three trips for the children.

The undersigned committee will receive and receipt for cash donations and subscriptions for money and necessities, at the Juvenile Court Department of the Courthouse. Yours for the good of the cause,

RALPH B. FISHER,
MARION R. JOHNSON,
B. S. PAGUE, Committee.

LOSS IN LIVING ABROAD

In the Interval New Crowd Arises That Knows You Not.

Joshua Flynn in Success Magazine.

In 1898 our country went to war up my mind, once and for all, that it was high time for me to leave Europe and get back to my own country. If I ever intended to get to work with young men in my profession, or in any other activity in which I might be able to hold my own.

In 1898 our country went to war with Spain. In me the rumormongers of an uncontrollable desire to return to my native land. It is impossible for me now to analyze as I should like to do by determination in 1898 to get away from Europe, university studies and all that the life of a student had meant to me, just as quickly as possible. Something impelled me on my course, and in the Spring of 1898 I said good-by to the University of Berlin, to Germany and to all Europe, as places in which I desired to cast my lot.

In retrospect, it occurs to me, first of all, that the general experience in Europe, on account of its prolongation, lost for me that personal touch with young men of my own age who were making their way ahead in America, and which accounts for so much in getting into the swing of things, making time with one's own particular generation, making those friends that can count for so much in business or in the profession—in a word, in growing up in your own community with your own people. I stayed too long in Europe.

In 1898, in spite of the mysterious and uncontrollable desire to get back to America, I was for months after my arrival in New York the most European homesick person imaginable. Whom did I find that knew me? Only a few friends settled there, that had been at my mother's home in Berlin, or that I had learned to know during my travels. I did not know one of them in any business or professional capacity here at home, and not one of them had been acquainted with me in my youth or in any of my American homes. I had not acquainted with them in Europe, "on the march," so to speak.

I think it unfortunate that a boy or young man should linger so long in Europe, far removed from his own, where in the end he usually must try to amount to something. It is again that question of camping, which I referred to in an earlier part of my story, which is pre-eminently noticeable in all such American colony life abroad as I have observed. The colonies are for the most part nothing but camps, the colonists being only too obviously merely birds of passage. I do not believe that it is a good thing for a young man, whose life is afterwards to be taken up again in his native land, to spend as much time out of it as I did. I lost touch with my home generation; I spent the most formative years of my life in countries where, as it proved, I was not to live and make my way; I got into lackadaisical ways of looking at things; and I fell to thinking that living in bachelor quarters on $500 a year would be an enviable achievement.

Curbing a Human Flood.

Technical World.

When the powers that make our laws at Washington were confronted of late with the fact that they were admitting aliens through our gateways at the rate of a Philadelphia per year—or a Bostonian plus a Baltimore—full, if you would prefer it that way—the "bad old days" of the past, as the saying is, Frank P. Sargent, the Commissioner-General of Immigration, with diagrams and charts as long as your arm, and statistical tables, and sound logic, too, had begged and pleaded again for power not only to obtain for us a smaller quantity and better quality of immigrants, but to drain and distribute the stagnation of idle aliens which, this generation past, has been accumulating, deeper and blacker, in a few overpopulated areas of the land. He had given proof of how these areas of alien concentration—these foreign "colonies" in certain big cities—were breeding idleness, pauperism, disease and crime, while the great, broad, sunlit expanse of land to the south and west were standing undeveloped for the lack of men of brawn. As a result Congress gave us a new immigration law before it shut up shop in the Spring.

The new law goes into effect July first. It provides the immigration service with machinery for a more equal distribution of aliens among the states, and, for skimming deeper into the old world scum now floating Americanward upon the seas.

WOMAN'S NIGHTMARE

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.
