COLLEGE ATHLETES PLAN ASSOCIATION

Leading Educational Institutions of Pacific Northwest Included.

CONVENTION

Delegates Will Meet in This City Next November to Form Organization-Need for It Is Very Pronounced.

Representatives of the leading educational institutions of the Pacific Northwest will meet in this city early in November for the purpose of organizing a Northwest inter-collegiate attletic association. There has been a genuine demand for an organization of this kind for some time, especially since the application of the University of Oregon for membership in the Pacific Northwest Association of Athletic Clubs was tabled last June. The formation of an inter-collegiate association was urged, however, before that, in these columns.

Such an organization was suggested

Realizing that there is a general de-mand for a Northwest inter-collegiate association, certain alumni of the University of Oregon have taken steps toard its organization. Notices have sen sent to the leading colleges of the Northwest asking that representatives be sent to a meeting in this city during the second week in November. Favorable replies have been received from Oregon, Washington, Whitman, Pullman and Willamette, and it is thought that Idaho, Oregon Agricultural College and other Institutions will send delegates. C. N. McArthur, formerly manager of ahtletics at the University of Oregon. was instrumental in working up interest n the matter, and it was through his ef forts that letters were sent out to the different college presidents.

Organization Badly Needed.

"The Pacific Northwest is sadly in need of an inter-collegiate athletic league conference," said Mr. McArthur, last ening. "At the present time the colevening. "At the present time the col-leges of this section are not bound to-gether by any kind of an association or organization. Their methods are alto-gether too loose, and they are respongether too loose, and they are responsible to no parent organization. Some of the colleges have rigid athletic standards; others have not. An association with the leading colleges of the Northwest on its membership roll could prescribe a general system of eligibility rules, regulate schedules, decide disputes and determine championships. Such an association should affiliate with the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

'An association such as I have in mind was organized several years ago, but it failed to accomplish anything because it was too wide in its scope and undertook to do too much. The old association included the Montana colleges and spread out over a vast area of territory. It was cumbersome, and fell to pieces through its own weight. Unless the contemplated association is organized along the right lines, history will repeat itseif.

Plan Should Be Simple.

What we want is a well-regulated association with a few simple rules and with no frills or red tape. Rules once adopted should be rigidly enforced. The Batteries uestion of semi-professional and 'brush' eague baseball should receive careful

The Pacific Northwest Association did right in refusing to accept Oregon's application. College and club athletics should not be intermixed. There is plenof room for the two organizations, as each has its own sphere.

"The questions that naturally arise in olleges are quite different from those that arise in clubs, and vice versa. Personally I am interested in both branches of athletics, but believe that they should be managed independently."

The presidents of a number of the Northwest colleges are outspoken in favor of the plans for a new association, and it is quite certain that the November meeting will be a thoroughly representa-

The dissolution of the old Oregon Intercollegiate Association makes the demand for the contemplated organization more urgent than ever before.

Frakes Defeat Brewers in Game at St. John.

In a town-lot game of baseball yesterday afternoon on the St. John grounds, the Frakes, of the Tri-City League, de-feated the Brewers, of the same league, 10 to 2. Two pitchers were used against the heavy-hitting Milliners, but both slab artists fared badly and received their bumps in proper shape. Concannon, formerly one of the Woodburn Indians, was on the firing line for three innings, then suddenly took a trip heavenward. Jack Helser deemed it time to send the Infant prodigy back to cold storage, and Charley Ray was put on the hill. The "Old Hoss" fared still worse, and was touched up for seven hits in six innings. Pender, who did the slab work for the Milliners, pitched a steady game, and should have been credited with a shutout. The poor work of his teammates, nowever, marred the performance. St. John, which was scheduled to play

Kelso this afternoon.

As the pennant race now stands, the Frakes are one game ahead of the Tigers, but this one game is uncertain, because of a protest filed by the St. John club that has not been ruled on. Should the decision be made in favor of the Milliners, they will have the rag, provided they win both games from the Cubs today. However, should the decision be against the local team, then Kelso will stand on the same rung of the pennant ladder, provided the Bengals capture the doubleheader from the Brewers.

From past performances, it looks as if the Frakes and Tigers would take a game each today.

Portland Balltossers to Meet Tigers in Their Lair.

Weather permitting and Bre'r Beals' forecast is favorable, the Portland ball tossers will visit the hustling little town of Kelso, Wash., tomorrow and play that long talked of game with the Kelso Tigers. The Portland team, including the new players, will cavort on the diamond at Kelso and the fans of the Washington town will have an opportunity to see McCredie's men in action. Monday is FOUR an offday among the Coasters, and Judge W. W. McCredle, being a Washington jurist, decided to grant the Kelso people

SHERLOCK HOLMES RECORD

Wins Laurels From John S. at Salem Race Meet.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE.
SALEM, Or., Sept. 21.—Sir John S., the crack California pacer, did not hold the Northwest pacing honors long for this afternoon, the king of two days was dethroned, and now Sherlock Holmes is the Before a small Saturday crowd the king. Before a small Saturday crowd the sorrel son of Zolock, in the greater Salem consolation 2:09 pace, stepped the first heat of the race in 2:0954, lowering Sir John S.'s record by 1 second.

The track was lightning fast, faster perhaps than on Thursday when Sir John S. made the new mark of 3:07½. Another thing that helped make the sensational mark was the fact that no stiff breeze was blowing up the back stretch. Yet in spite of the favorable conditions which spite of the favorable conditions which helped Sherlock Holmes, the horsemen who saw the race were of the opinion that had Sir John S. been in the race this afternoon, Mr. Vance's horse would have been beaten.

Sherlock Holmes was not even considered a dangerous contender for the consolation. W. G. Durfee's Cope de Ore was the favorite and Bob Brady's Knick-Knack were looked upon as the conten-ders. Mr. Fred Shaft, of Spokane, who owns Sherlock Holmes, was satisfied that his horse had not raced to his form in the greater Salem stake. On that day he was driven by Frank Childs, a green driver, and the horse was not properly rigged. This afternoon Sherlock Holmes had Bob Walker up. He has rigged. This atternoon Sheriock Holmes had Bob Walker up. He has a splendid grand circuit reputation, and the change resulted in the horse lowering his previous record of 2:11½ by 4 3-4 seconds.

Even after Walker had driven this record-smashing mile, some were still skep-tical about him winning the race. Durfee tical about him winning the race. Durfee, who confidently thought he had the race won, knew better after the first heat, but in spite of this he sent Cope de Ore after Sherlock Holmes in the two remaining heats. Even the second heat was paced in faster time than the record of Sir John S.

The second race was an over-night affair for 2.00 traiters. Six was carried.

In the first heat Mike Duff made a new mark of 2:13½. In the four and one-half furlong scromble for horses that had not been in the money, the winner turned up in Eva N.. Has No Fear of Japan and Considers Islands Source of Strength. Not Weakness.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — Admiral Dewey is opposed to the sale of the Philippines. He does not believe that his famous battle of Manila Bay brought the United States a possession which for strategic or other reasons is to rise up

As chairman of the general board of the Navy, it is Admiral Dewey's duty to the Navy, it is Admiral Dewey's duty to plan to meet the eventualities of war. The progress of Japan and the exposed position of the Philippines have caused some experts to say that, in the event of war, those islands would be a source of weekness. Admiral Dewey, viewing the question from all points of view, does not favor the withdrawal of the United States from the archipelago at this time. He is not prepared to discuss the measures adopted for the defense of the Philippines nor will he express any opinion concerning the movement of the battleship fleet to the Pacific, but he does say: "Hold the Philippines." He is fearliess of any injurious consequences following American occupation and declines to give any serious consideration to predictions that Japan is so set upon obtaining the islands that, if necessary to get

In an interview today the Admiral sets out the reasons which impel him to insist upon the retention of the islands. The strong point of his argument is not based upon the military or naval importance of the islands, but upon the great value, present and prospective, of the Philippines to America in the extension of our trade with the Orient.
