SAW BURILSON IN OREGON

Suspected Man Said to Be Hiding in Woods Near Florence.
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Still pinning their faith in the report that Frank Covington and Charles Burilson, charged with the murder of Covington's young wife, whose body was found in a trunk at Alki Point last Sunday, are passengers aboard the Steamship Santa Clara bound for Katala, the police of this city are anxiously waiting news from the Alaska city. It was confidently expected that word would have been received before this, but it may be that the Santa Clara has been delayed.
Charles Martin, a logger, told the police today that he is positive that he saw Burilson on a stage between Florence and Eugene, Or., four days ago. Florence is about 60 miles from Eugene and is an ideal place for a man to hide himself.
Martin, however, is of the opinion that Burilson was seeking a lumber schooner, as he had a short conversation with him at an eating house along the road. During the meal Burilson, if it were he, was sullen and morose and constantly switched the door. Covington was not with him. The suspect asked Martin several questions about the country and the chance of getting aboard a schooner at the coast.
The chief of police has wired the peace officers of both Eugene and Florence, but there is little hope of apprehending Burilson, as the country is a wilderness and there are no officers in the immediate vicinity.

BUYS OWN CLOTHES FIRST TIME
Linn County Farmer Breaks Habit of Letting Wife Select Them.
ALBANY, Or., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Since he was married, 18 years ago, George E. Philippi, a well-known farmer residing near Waterloo, had never selected a suit of clothes for himself until yesterday. He had always worn what his wife selected without complaint. The habit grew on him until he hated the thought of selecting his own clothes.
Mr. Philippi and his family were in this city yesterday on their way home from the hayrads, and Mrs. Philippi was so anxious for her husband to break the rule of years and select a suit for himself that she offered to pay for it from money she earned in the hayrads if he would pick it out. So while his wife purchased goods for herself in one department of a local store, Philippi went into the clothing department and selected a suit. But his wife didn't pay for it after all, for he found the unusual experience so satisfactory that he insisted on paying for it himself.

HIRS MAN TO BEAT WIFE
Seattle Husband Forbidden to Touch Her by Court Order.
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Fearing to act himself because of a Superior Court order which enjoined him from in any way interfering with his wife, Stephen Gugelberger sought the services of a friend, and, going to the woman's apartments, urged the friend on while the latter administered a severe beating to Bertha Gugelberger.
The Gugelbergers have been conducting a rooming-house at 1422 Second avenue, and about a month ago the woman applied for a divorce and a distribution of the property. She told the court that she was in fear of injury at the hands of her husband, and an order was issued forbidding him to go near his wife's apartments.
On the night of September 20, however, according to allegations made by Mrs. Gugelberger in court this morning, Gugelberger, accompanied by William Colish, entered her apartments, and Colish attacked her fiercely, trying to throw her downstairs. He also struck her about the face and head repeatedly, and all the time Gugelberger stood by, laughing and urging Colish on.
ALBANY, Or., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Albany's latest industry is a cider mill, which began running this week. J. D. Stedman, who recently came to this city from Ohio, has established the mill and is operating it. The plant is located at the mouth of Pennywinkle Creek, in the eastern part of the city.
Turns Ankle on Gridiron.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Louis Pinkham, the big guard on Oregon's team of last year, turned his ankle during football practice last night so that he will be out of the game for a few days.
