DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 12.—The Chicago National baseball team this afternoon at Bennett Park won the world's championship, defeating the Detroit American League team by the score of 2 to 0.

It was the fourth successive victory for the Chicago team in as many days. Taking advantage of every slip made by the local players and running home bases cleverly the Chicago scores two runs in the first two innings, while the Detroit team did not succeed in getting one man over the home plate.

The weather was raw and cold, entirely unfit for baseball. The official count of the attendance was 7370.

Mullin and Brown both pitched well, but the Chicago men received stronger support from his team-mates. Brown was also steadier than Mullin, giving but one base on balls to Mullin's three, one of which developed into a run in the first inning.

DETROIT TEAM LACKS VIM.

There was missing from the play of the Detroit team this afternoon the dash and vim which carried it to the top of the American League and won the pennant for it. The loss was due to a man on third base but twice during the game, and each time Brown held the batters steady. In an effort to check the base-stealing of Chicago, Manager John Fox placed Catcher Archer to relieve Mullin, but the Chicago men succeeded in stealing four bases from him, stolen bases hurting materially in the scoring of both their runs. The Chicago team left tonight for home on the Michigan Central.

The gross receipts today were $12,000, of which the Detroit team received $624.32, the commission $1283.80 and the two clubs each $274.54. Following are the details of the play:

GOES DOWN RIVER

Weyerhaeuser Family Plans a Reunion.

SIMPLE IN HIS TASTES

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, Although Possessing Vast Wealth, Still Lives Simply and Economically—Word Taken as Bond.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 12.—(Special)—The host of a party of 15 on a snug little steamer heading for Portland, is Frederick Weyerhaeuser, of St. Paul, the enormously wealthy lumber king, who, it has been stated recently, has greater riches than forty D. Rockefeller. He has been in broad Mississippi with his helpmate of 50 years to celebrate in Rock Island a half century of happy wedded life. Although for many years the enormous operations of the lumber baron have been directed from St. Paul, where he has made his home and his business headquarters along with other powerful and influential men in the lumber business, Rock Island was for many years Mr. Weyerhaeuser's home town, and it was there that the old firm of Weyerhaeuser & Denkman began operations in 1850.

The Late Rev. C. Alderson, Who Was Killed by an Engine at Albany Yesterday.

The steamer Weyerhaeuser has been lying at the St. Paul levee, at the head of river navigation, for several days, and has been scrubbed and painted and put in the best of order. Just before the party left it was decorated from end to end, and with autumn branches and leaves, and as it swung into the current with a jolly crew and the music of the band, the relatives, it made a very pretty sight. Mr. and Mrs. Weyerhaeuser and their friends are holding a family reunion at the home of Mrs. S. S. Davis, at the old Rock Island homestead. The other children, John P. and F. E. Weyerhaeuser, who are interested in the lumber business with their father, are at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hewitt, of Chicago, and Mrs. W. H. Hill, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., are also present.

Simple in His Tastes.

Plain and simple in his habits and tastes, the anniversary has meant much to Mr. Weyerhaeuser, and it was his wish that the journey to the old home of his early married life be made on the broad river which has played such an important part in his life. It is said that the lumber baron, who has gained his enormous wealth and business influence, no one will gain greater pleasure from the reunion and celebration than the lumber king himself. It is said that a few can look back over a happier married life. Wealthy past even the dreams of most ambitious men, controlling the great lumber trade, Mr. Weyerhaeuser, with prestige and power in the world of business and affairs that the most successful man might envy, Frederick Weyerhaeuser finds his greatest pleasure in a delightful home life with his wife and children on the old homestead, comfortable home on Summit avenue, one of the most beautiful residences in the United States, in the intimate employments which make up the daily household routine and pleasures of almost any cultured German family, and in the success of the children who have gone from the St. Paul home to make successfully their way in life for themselves.

Strictly a Man of His Word.

"Weyerhaeuser was the most wonderful man I ever knew," said one old business associate recently. "In all the years I have known him no one has ever snatched his reputation for absolute honesty. It was his rugged integrity and the faith he commanded from other men that gave him his first substantial start toward wealth in the old days of warring interests on the Chippewa River. Everyone trusted Weyerhaeuser and he never broke his word. He became rich and carried dozens of men along with him to affluence. And later, in the tremendous enterprises he has directed from St. Paul, he has been the same honest, rugged Weyerhaeuser of the old river days. He hated sham; his word was always good and men have always trusted him because he commanded trust. In the old days the river men would trust their money to Weyerhaeuser's word when all the contracts in the world would hardly have made them feel safe with other men."

His Great Holdings.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser was born in Nieder Sulzheim, Germany, November 21, 1834. He emigrated to the United States in 1852 and in 1856 moved to Coal Valley, Ill., and engaged in the lumber and grain business. In 1862 he began sawmill operations at Rock Island under the firm name of Weyerhaeuser & Denkman. In 1881 he removed to St. Paul better to direct his great lumber interests and has lived here since. He has been married five times and has ten children. His interests are centered principally in the firm of Weyerhaeuser & Co., of which he is president, but he is heavily interested in other concerns as well engaged in various phases of the lumber and logging business. He owns vast timber tracts in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Washington and Idaho, and through ownership or control is the greatest single factor today in the timber and logging business of the American West. He still keeps closely in touch with all of his diverse interests and from his offices in St. Paul, which he has helped to make one of the great centers of the new world in the ownership and control of timber resources, he daily exercises an energetic influence in the business and policies of the concerns in which he is interested.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special)—Aberdeen High School football team won a decisive victory from Hoquiam High School today by the score of 25 to 0. Beach, Aberdeen's right end, was the star, his long runs enabling Aberdeen to win the game. Johnson also played great ball both end of the line, while Wilson, at tackle, did star work. Hoquiam showed lack of coaching and, although they played better straight football than did their opponents, the team could not score. This is the first of three games to be played.

IDAHO COMPANY BUYS TIMBER.

Secures 8,500,000 Feet on Clear Creek for $34,000.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special)—A special from Wallace, Idaho, says: A. L. Flewelling has purchased on behalf of the Monarch Lumber Company 8,500,000 feet of timber from the local Forestry Department for $34,000. The price paid represents a flat rate of $4 a thousand feet for all kinds of timber, and the section to which it will be taken is situated on Clear Creek, about 12 miles from Taft, Mont. A portable sawmill will be installed immediately for the Monarch Lumber Company, which has a contract to supply all the lumber and timber for construction of bridges, culverts, etc., on the Chicago, Milwaukee and Pacific coast, and it is probable, in connection with this, that the sale has been made.

SIZE WASHINGTON HOP CROP.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special)—The hop yield in Washington are being gathered by H. B. Scudder, of this city, who desires to make as accurate an estimate of the production of this state as is possible. Figures to which he indicates that the yield of Lewis, Chellis, Cowlitz and Yakima Counties is in excess of 33 per cent less than the yield of last year. For this county this gives a yield this year of about 1,700 bales. The hops this year, picked in the vicinity of North Yakima, grade much higher than those of last year. Local growers do not hold with Eastern writers who think there will be a sharp advance in hop prices. They say that there is no sufficient information on which to base a prognostication.
