OREGON EASILY DEFEATS PACIFIC

Light Eleven From Forest Grove Is Fairly Swept Off the Field.

One-Sided Score, 52 to 0

University Team Out 24 Men in Two 2-Minute Halves—Spectacular Roll of 52 Touchdowns by Gordon Muesse.

Ours are one of the strangest and most amazing games in football history. In it, the University of Oregon against Pacific played a football game which will long be remembered as a masterpiece of skill and strategy.

Both teams were evenly matched in strength, but the Oregonians, through the use of clever tactics and superior knowledge of the game, were able to outwit their opponents. The game was played in front of a large crowd, and the cheers and crowds of the spectators were deafening.

The first quarter of the game saw both teams play defensively, with neither team able to penetrate the other's line. However, in the second quarter, the Oregonians began to gain the upper hand, using their superior talent and strategy to outmaneuver their opponents.

The Oregonians scored their first touchdown in the second quarter, and the game continued with both teams playing aggressively. The Oregonians scored another touchdown in the third quarter, and by the end of the game, they had taken a commanding lead.

The final score was 52 to 0 in favor of the Oregonians. The game was a testament to the skill and determination of the Oregonians, who were able to emerge as the clear winners of the match.

PENN SAW IN ANAPOLIS

Harvard Scores Only Goal, Though Navy Shows Skill

In a game of strategy and skill, the University of Annapolis football team played against the Navy, and although Harvard scored only one goal, the game was a testament to the talent of both teams.

Both teams played aggressively, with each team attempting to outdo the other in both skill and strategy. The game was played in front of a large crowd, and the cheers and crowds of the spectators were deafening.

The Harvard team was able to score one goal in the second quarter, and the game continued with both teams playing aggressively. The Harvard team was able to maintain their lead throughout the game, and by the end of the match, they had taken the victory.

The game was a testament to the skill and determination of both teams, and it was a pleasure to watch as both teams displayed their abilities in a game of strategy and skill.