FUNERAL OF MRS. MARY HURLBURT WILL BE HELD TODAY

Mrs. Mary Hurlburt.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Hurlburt, a well-known pioneer woman who died at her home, 1143 East Yamhill street, Friday afternoon, will be conducted from the Gresham Methodist Church this afternoon, after the arrival of a special electric car from Portland. There will be no services at the home, and friends desiring to attend from the city may take the 1 o'clock car for Gresham. Services will be under the auspices of the Order of Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Hurlburt had been a member at Troutdale. Mrs. Hurlburt was 89 years of age, and yet was always full of sunshine and cheerfulness, a blessing to her family of grown children and the wide circle of friends who hold her in high esteem. Through all the years of her life she had been an example of true womanhood. She is survived by her husband, John A. Hurlburt, a well-known civil engineer, formerly connected with Oregon railroads. Her children surviving are as follows: Thomas M. Hurlburt, United States Inspector of Government Surveys, now in Portland; D. D. Hurlburt, Portland; John Hurlburt, of Washington; George Hurlburt, of the Harriman lines, in Oregon; Mrs. Waldemar Seton, of Portland; Mrs. Lillie Hill, of Spokane, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Hurlburt formerly lived on their farm in Hurlburt, east of the Sandy River, but for several years past have been making their home in Portland. Last July, in the presence of their children and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hurlburt celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of Judge Waldemar Seton, in Portland.

Spring all six of the defendants were indicted on a charge of conspiracy.

Last week when the trial of Coon, Williams and Johannsen began, John M. Gearin appeared in behalf of the Turner brothers and Mills, and entered a plea of guilty to the first charge and not guilty as to the other three counts in the indictment. It has taken a week to try the case of the three men and owing to the illness of one of the jurors, it looked for a time as if the trial would have to be postponed, but it was agreed among the attorneys that 11 men should return the verdict.

It was brought out at the trial that all three of the defendants met during the time they were serving a term of years at McNeil's Island. The Government contended that the conspiracy was hatched during the time Coon, Williams and Johannsen were serving their time. Williams, one of the defendants freed by the jury, is over 75 years old and he has served over 20 years in various penitentiaries. After discharging the jury, Judge Wolverton announced that he would pass sentence upon Coon Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL

John T. McDonnell, Well-Known Business Man, Dangerously Ill.

John T. McDonnell, a partner in the well-known Portland firm of McAllen & McDonnell, is seriously ill at St. Vincent's Hospital, and it is feared he cannot long survive.

Mr. McDonnell was removed four weeks ago from his home to the hospital, where an operation was performed. He did not rally, and since then has been in a precarious condition. The past few days have seen a steady decline, and his wife and others, who have watched the case, have practically abandoned all hope of his recovery. Complications have developed to such an extent as to make his death almost certain within a very brief time, it was said at the hospital last night. Mrs. McDonnell is almost constantly at the bedside of her husband.

Saloons Close Voluntarily.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—For the first time in a number of years the saloons of Lewis County will probably be closed tomorrow. Several saloon men have announced their intention to keep closed. This action will be agreeable to the suggestion made in a letter which was mailed yesterday personally to every liquor dealer in the county by U. B. Harmon, the new Prosecuting Attorney. In this letter Mr. Harmon suggested to the liquor men their co-operation in the matter of enforcing the law. It is announced that the Sunday law will be enforced in all cases.
