

SOCIETY

BY NANCY LEE

IT HAS been a source of great satisfaction to Portlanders that those who represented the Hunt Club at the Seattle Horse Show were accorded so much favorable comment. This augurs well for our coming horse show, which will be on a much more elaborate scale. The four tandem teams received an ovation, and were driven by Mrs. A. M. Cronin, Miss Anne Shogren, James Nichol and Mr. Ambrose Cronin. Miss Carolyn Flanders and Miss Maude Hahn were also ribbon winners. Being in receipt of a number of letters asking the correct costume to wear for the coming event, I can simply state that at the various horse shows in this country the men have appeared at night in full dress and the women in the most elaborate reception and dinner gowns of delicate fabrics or velvets, worn with jewels, hats, and in many instances furs. As to wearing décolleté gowns in the boxes, this is rarely done unless preceded by a dinner. One correspondent begs me to advise against men wearing dinner coats and black ties, which he declares is not full dress, and a custom which is much abused in America and rarely seen abroad. However, we are not as conservative in this country, and, while not strictly the proper attire, men consider it infinitely more comfortable and it is not unbecoming in appearance.

Lou Woodward was a host on Tuesday at a dancing party which he gave at the Yacht Club, and which was followed by a supper on his houseboat. During the summer months, Mr. Woodward and his parents purchased one of the small river boats, which is now completely metamorphosed into the most attractive houseboat. The former saloon is now a large drawing-room, the decks are arranged with palms and electric lights and brilliantly colored flowers in the window boxes make a charming home. Those accepting Mr. Woodward's hospitality were Miss Inez Barrett, Miss Amy Heltsu, Mrs. Noble, of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. David Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Laidlaw, Dr. Herbert Nichols, Miss Isabella Bryan, Miss Hazel Croker, Miss Bertha Tongue, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sewall, Miss Miriam Strong, Miss Marguerite Beuhner, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Maida Beuhner, Miss Greenwall, Rodney Gilsan, Walter Beebe, Gerald Beebe, Kenneth Beebe, Mr. Hall, Henry Staden, Jordan Zan, and Wickersham, Robert Strong, George Warren and Tom Robertson.

It will be welcome news to learn that Morris Whitehouse, who has been absent for over two years, will arrive this coming week from Boston to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Whitehouse, and will in all probability take up his residence here. In his two years' absence Mr. Whitehouse has been attending the Boston School of Technology, and he has but recently returned from a 12 months' trip abroad taken as the result of a scholarship won for architecture.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard were hosts on Wednesday evening at one of the largest brides parties given thus far this season. Quantities of long-stemmed chrysanthemums and cosmos were effectively arranged in the drawing-room and in the reception-hall. Punch was served in the latter room by Mrs. John Ainsworth. The guests were Mrs. Zenon by Mrs. Charles Swinburne, John Eben Young, Mrs. Arthur Minott and Richard Koehler. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, Mr. and Mrs. William Alvord, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heltsu, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Linticum, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mather, Mr. and Mrs. James McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. William Muir, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheney, Mrs. Warren F. Houghton, Mrs. Arthur Minott, Miss Martha Hoyt, Miss Amy Heltsu, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kollock, Mrs. A. L. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunkley, Mr. and Mrs. John Eben Young, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Page, Mr. and Mrs. Morton one time stationed in Portland. She was also entertained by Colonel and Mrs. Hanbury, who were also former residents of Portland. Colonel Hanbury is now retired, and with Mrs. Hanbury is shortly to leave for a trip to the Orient.

Cards have been received for the wedding of Miss Susan Hurd Elmore, of Astoria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elmore, to Mr. Fette Howard Haradon, the wedding to take place October 28, at the First Methodist Church. Astoria, Miss Elmore, who visits here frequently, is a most attractive and accomplished girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raley have left for New York City, where they will remain until after the holidays leaving then for San Francisco, at which point they will have their motor car shipped, and they will then tour Southern California, leaving later for Honolulu. The entire trip is to consume eight months. In the interim, Dr. Ralph Matson and his bride have taken Mr. and Mrs. Raley's Irvington residence.

Mrs. J. Ernest Laidlaw and Miss Grace Campbell are to sing at the coming Halloween celebration to be given by Clara Mason.

Miss Mazie O. Bryan has been a popular guest from San Francisco, who has been visiting in the Bixingham, where she will remain till after the Horse Show.

Dr. W. D. Carlisle, formerly of Portland, now of St. Petersburg, has been traveling for some months on the Continent with a number of Russian friends. Dr. Carlisle is planning a trip this coming summer to the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Dan J. Moore and daughter have taken apartments at the Nortonia for the winter.

Madame Von Bolton, Miss Nicholson and Miss Von Bolton are contemplating a number of entertainments in the near future.

A tallyho and theater party was given Thursday in honor of Miss Dittenhoffer, of New York, who is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Leon Hirsch. The guests were conveyed in the tallyho to and from the "The Time, the Place and the Girl," and to supper which followed in the Hotel Sargent grill. Present were Miss Flora Fleischner, Miss Florence Wolfe, Miss Florence Cohen, Miss Mae Hirsch, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Miss Frances Jacoby, Miss Henrietta Lauer, Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Hirsch, John Plagemann, Dr. Gustav Baer, Adolphe Jacobs, William Lipman, Walter Rosenfelt, and John Biesinger. Miss Frances and Hilda Jacobs were hostesses at a large bridge party yesterday in compliment to Miss Dittenhoffer.

Mrs. E. C. Jorgensen entertained with a luncheon on Tuesday, having 12 matrons as guests.

A number of dinner parties are to precede the Charlotte Maconda concert this coming Thursday.

The Hawaiian girls have fully appreciated the many entertainments and receptions given them in Portland and they in turn have entertained. Friday they gave a pretty dinner at the hotel for their friends, among whom were Miss Ruth Whitney, of New York, who has spent considerable time on the islands. Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Templeton were heartily greeted by the girls, and a delightful dinner party was also given in their honor. Dr. and Mrs. Templeton spent one winter visiting the different islands and at that time visited the volcano near Hilo. There they met the parents of one of the girls now in the city. Mrs. Templeton made quite a study of the island life and music, having a very beautiful ukulele made of the native wood, koa, and took lessons on the instrument while there and studied the native music.

The Neighborhood Bridge Club, which has hitherto met one afternoon every fortnight, were entertained one evening last week by Mrs. Laidlaw, who also included the husbands of the members. Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Inley, Mr. Whitney Bolse, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ball, Mrs. Warren F. Houghton and Mr. James Laidlaw.

On the occasion of her 18th birthday, which occurred on Friday, Miss Marguerite Egbert entertained a party of 25 at her home, 54 1/2 East Burnside street. The evening was devoted to playing original games, music and recitations. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Sallie Beck is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ernest Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Adams, with whom she came out from Massachusetts, are not coming to Portland, as they had originally planned, but are to remain in Seattle.

An interesting romance dating back into school days culminated at Trinity Church last Wednesday morning in the marriage
