

CALLS JAPANESE PUPILS IMMORAL

Rev. D. L. Rader Says His Own Children Must Not Go to School With Them.

TEACHERS ALL DISAGREE

Say Japanese Pupils Are Quiet, Well-Behaved and Obedient—Prominent Japanese Merchant Says Preacher Will Regret Words.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Rev. D. L. Rader, of Portland, is in hot water today over utterances in a lecture last night, when he said he would not allow his children to go to school with Japanese children, because they have no conception of what is morally right or wrong. He declared that it is not really their fault, for the custom has come down to them from generations past.

Dr. Rader's statements are based on prejudice. He does not know the Japanese people or he would not have talked that way. His remarks grew out of hatred for us, and he will regret them.
