

OREGON EDITORS COMPLETE WORK

Officers Elected and Committee Named to Frame Rate Schedule.

ROSE FESTIVAL INDORSED

Name of Body Changed to State Editorial Association of Oregon.

- NEW OFFICERS STATE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION. President—J. S. Dellinger, Daily Astorian, Astoria. Vice-president—George Putnam, Tribune, Medford.

The Oregon Press Association is now the State Editorial Association of Oregon. The changing of the name of the old association was done when a new set of by-laws were adopted at the annual meeting of the association, which concluded its sessions in Woodman of the World Hall yesterday afternoon.

A great deal of important work was done by the association on the last day of its meeting and the members of the association believe that from now on the association will accomplish a great good for the working press of the state of Oregon.

President Names Committees. In addition to the officers elected, J. S. Dellinger, the new president, named the committees to frame resolutions, J. F. Woods, D. M. C. Gault, and E. Barry, on finance, J. C. Hayter, William J. Clarke and R. M. Watson, on legislation, Elmer Kennedy, C. B. Fisher and Dr. Henry Waldö, on the rate schedule.

upon a thoroughly business basis, be it resolved that every editor and publisher so recognized that fact, and from this time forth pledge to himself and those dependent upon him, that his respective newspaper shall be recognized in business circles as a business institution run on strictly business lines in addition to dissemination of the news.

Resolved, That this association express its regret at the death in Mechanicsburg, Pa., on January 4, 1908, of Hon. H. H. Thomas, past president of the National Editorial Association.

Resolved, That we, as a body of fellow workers with our deceased brother, hereby declare our appreciation of his character as a man, and our sympathy for his family in their untimely loss, and be it further resolved, That it is hereby ordered that copies of the resolutions, suitably engrossed and signed by the officers of our association, be sent to each member of our deceased brother's family, and also spread upon the minutes of this meeting.

Resolved, That we congratulate the press of Oregon upon the fact that this is the most successful gathering of newspaper workers ever held in the state.

Resolved, That the members of the association who were elected officers and a number of important committees were appointed. The most important of these is the rate committee, which will formulate a schedule for a uniform scale of prices for all kinds of advertising and job work.

OWLS END SESSION

Portland Man Elected Head of New Fraternal Order.

GUS C. MOSER IS HONORED

Delegates Refuse to Consider His Withdrawal—C. B. Wood Chosen Grand Secretary—Meet in Vancouver, B. C., in June, 1909.

The first annual convolve of the grand nest of the Brotherhood of Owls, came to a close yesterday after a session of four days, and the 200 visiting brothers are now "hooting and tooting" on their flight homeward.

Despite the expressed wish of Gus C. Moser, past executive of the Portland nest, not to become a candidate for the position of grand executive, the committee chose him as big chief of the order for the coming year by acclamation.

After the election of grand executive other officers were filled as follows: W. E. Maymouh, Seattle, vice-grand executive; Charles B. Wood, Seattle, grand secretary; John F. Jerred, Everett, grand treasurer; W. W. Bixby, Wallace, Idaho, grand vicar.

Frank Zimmerman, Idaho Falls, Idaho, grand sentinel; M. H. Saunders, Winnipeg, Canada, master of the grand nest.

As soon as the election of officers was disposed of the convolve again took up in the regular order of business the revision of the constitution and bylaws. Each section and rule was taken up separately and amended after more or less debate.

As soon as the constitution and bylaws had been disposed of the question of the next meeting place was brought before the convolve. Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Boise, Wallace, Butte, Winnipeg and Salt Lake City were candidates for the honor but when the final vote was taken Vancouver, B. C., won and the owls will meet there in June, 1909.

Both appointments are regarded as deserved by railroad men, and their selection affords the most auspicious beginning of the transportation business.

Portland, was named to endeavor to have the new Supreme Court of the state also non-partisan in its makeup.

The following members of the state committee were in attendance at yesterday's session: Baker County, J. B. Rodgers, Baker City; Benton, Robert Johnson, Corvallis; Clackamas, H. L. Vanhook, Molalla; Clatsop, J. T. Wallace, Astoria; Columbia, Uther Clark, Houlton; Curry, M. Doyle, Wedderburn; Douglas, Dexter Hox, Roseburg; Gilliam, J. W. Snobor, Condon; Harney, Carlton Biggs, Burns; Jackson, E. B. Duffer, Gold Hill; Josephine, J. O. Booth, Grants Pass; Lake, S. P. Moss, Lakeview; Lane, Lark Blyden, Eugene; Linn, S. M. Garland, Lebanon; Malheur, E. H. Teat, Ontario; Marion, W. H. Holmes, Salem; Morrow, Sam E. Vanhook, Heppner; Multnomah, H. A. Peery, Chamber of Commerce, Portland; Polk, George W. Myers, Dallas; Sherman, C. F. Fulton, Moro; Umatilla, J. H. Halsey, Pendleton; Wasco, L. E. Morse, Hood River; Washington, J. M. Wall, Hillsboro; Wheeler, W. W. Hoover, Fossil; Yamhill, J. B. Baker, McMinnville.

Attorneys for Mary C. Francis will appeal from Judge Gantenbets' decision in her suit against the Mutual Life Insurance Company in which the court held that the woman would be getting something for nothing if her suit were granted, and that no consideration would be given the company for the money paid.

Francis was killed on July 25, while working with his threshing machine. The insurance company's agent at Seattle, it is alleged, telegraphed news of his death to the head office, asking for instructions. On August 1 the agent went to Prosser and sought to get Mrs. Francis to take back the note her husband had given for the first payment on the policy, telling her that if she would go to the postoffice she would find a letter from the company to her husband.

This letter, written it is asserted, after the death of Francis was known to the New York officials of the company, announced that the company could not deliver Francis a policy in the company for it considered him a bad risk and that there appeared to be evidence that Francis was a drinker and man, whereas his application for a policy set out that he was temperate.

heavy building operations in that particular addition during the coming summer. The company is preparing its report on the "community building" plan which it will submit to the next regular session of the club, to be held at the Alameda Schoolhouse tomorrow evening. The "community building" plan is original with the Rose City Park Club, and its purpose is simply to induce present non-resident property owners to become home-builders. It is almost a certainty that the club will be able to furnish lumber and other building material to home-builders at about 20 per cent under the prevailing market price.

When You Have a Bad Cold

You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectoration easy. You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia. You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these requirements, and for the speedy and permanent cure of bad colds stands without a peer. A Severe Cold Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used."
