EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

The Oregon Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held a meeting Friday, January 24, at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Duff, Twenty-second and Hoyt streets. Mrs. Duff has recently returned from the hospitalities of her home to the Oregon chapter. An interesting lecture of "The Life of General Stonewall Jackson" was given by Captain Luther D. Mahone, of Virginia. Miss Conner favored the audience with a violin solo. A course of historical study of the Confederate Generals was outlined by the president, Mrs. George H. Stovall. "The Life of Jefferson Davis" is the first number of the series. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Sylvia W. McGuire for the substantial sum she presented to the Oregon chapter, realized by the proceeds from her charming lecture, "Echoes from Dixie Land," recently given in Women's Woodcraft Hall. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. T. Joplin, Twenty-fourth and Clackamas streets, the evening of February 14.

On Thursday, January 23, 2:30 P. M., Sunnyside W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. L. N. Walker, 1100 East Morrison street. This was the regular monthly mother's meeting special invitations were given to a number of the young mothers in the neighborhood. About 45 ladies were present, including babies and small children were in the nursery. Vice-President Mrs. Ribbohoff presided. Mrs. Wright sang beautifully "Is That Somebody Yell?" Mrs. H. H. Hill, of Central W. C. T. U., gave a very interesting and instructive address on the subject of "Purity in Art and Literature." After a solo by Miss Van Alstine, refreshments were served. The members of the union regret very much the loss of their faithful and devoted co-workers, Mrs. Daisy Berthel, who has recently departed the city in a few days. A little token of remembrance was given her by Mrs. Walker on behalf of Sunnyside W. C. T. U. The union will meet Thursday, February 5, with Mrs. Benedict, 21 East Morrison street. A cordial invitation is extended to those who are not members.

The Aid Society of the Sunnyside Methodist Church was entertained Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors, which had been artistically arranged for the occasion. Mrs. Van Alstine was hostess, assisted by Mesdames Burt, Edlison and Henderson, 70 ladies being present. An interesting business meeting was held, including very interesting remarks by the president, Mrs. Bodwell, responded to by Dr. Ford. A program was enjoyed, including two recitations given by Mrs. Bosserman. A ladies' quartet, composed of Miss Shaver, Mrs. Woolley, Mrs. Newell and Mrs. Bauerley, gave a number of selections. An interesting reading by Mrs. H. T. Brown was followed by two solos rendered by Mrs. Jones.

After the social hour, light refreshments were daintily served. This society is entertained by some of its members on fourth Tuesday of every month. All the ladies of the church and strangers are urged to attend.

A delightful farewell surprise party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. George Hill by the Irvington Five Hundred Club on Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. and Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell, East Twenty-third and Waco streets. Mr. and Mrs. Hill on Monday next leave to take up their new residence in Irvington. Five hundred was played and an old-fashioned Dutch lunch was served. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Daly, Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Woodward and Mr. Macklin, and a handsome testimonial was presented by the club members to Mrs. Hill, the retiring president.

The Women's Relief Corps, of the Ben Butler Post, gave a dinner in Hunter's Hall, at Sunnyside, Wednesday evening, January 23. After dinner the following programme was carried out: Piano solo by Paul Harvey; Vocal solo by Mrs. Woodward; Tenting Tonight by Mrs. Alstine; The Dandy Fifth by Miss Hazel Johnson; Piano solo by Mrs. Sadie Ford; Recitation by Mrs. Ruggles; Piano solo by Mrs. Phillips.

Miss Grace Story and Mrs. Frank C. Kelsey gave the second in the series of studio-recitals at the home of Miss Story, 22 Thirteenth street, last Friday afternoon before a number of musical people. It was a suggestion programme, Mrs. Kelsey giving certain readings from Shakespeare and Browning, and Miss Story responding in musical numbers which embodied the same theme.

president. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Daly, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hurlburt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Povey, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Macklin, Mr. and Mrs. William Mankin, Mr. and Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Woodward.

An interesting event at Vancouver, Wash., occurred on the eve of January 18, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Huston, in the form of a reception for Frank G. Eichenlaub, violinist, given by the Vancouver Music Club. Mr. Eichenlaub is fresh from his studies in Germany, having been a pupil of Sevcik, the famous teacher of Kubelik. There were about 20 guests present. Besides readings, choruses, etc., by the club, there were vocal solos by Mrs. Fred L. Olson and Miss Annie Ditchburn, of Portland. Both were in their usual good voices. The crowning number was the violin selection of Mr. Eichenlaub. He responded to numerous encores which were heartily given. His playing was characterized by a depth of tone worthy of an artist of whom any city might well be proud. After the programme, delicious refreshments were served.

The past officers of Camelia Chapter, O. E. S., were delightfully entertained by Past Mistress Nellie McKinley on Friday, January 24, at her home on Rodney avenue. The evening was spent at cards, which being the game of the evening. Refreshments were served by Mrs. and Mr. J. H. Duff. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hudson, "Life in the East," Mrs. J. D. Hayes; "Study of Hyperion," Mrs. A. J. Stiles; "Outline of Eve of St. Agnes," Mrs. A. B. Manley; "Lyrical Poems," Mrs. E. G. Macklin; "Keats' Literary Style," Mrs. C. Crockett; "Illustration Influence of Elgin Marbles," Mrs. A. W. Whilmer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. G. Macklin, assisted by Mrs. C. W. Hudson, Miss Annie L. Fulton, of Waco, who is spending the winter at the Hill, was a guest of the club. The club will meet with Mrs. George Boynton, 585 East Ankeny street, February 4.

A very pleasant party was given by Miss Grissy MacPherson at her home on Friday evening. The rooms were tastefully decorated. Games were played and prizes awarded to Miss Hazel Voder, Walter Gerstel and Lewis Thomas. Those present were: Misses Gladys Crockett, Angela MacPherson, Lucile Shepherd, Hazel Raiston, Lillian Harper, Viola Mackenzie, Katherine Dugan, Dorothy Ruth Raiston, Dorothy Cleaveland, Margaret Clement, Hazel Cleaveland, Hazel Vedder, Floyd Campbell, George Freeman, Lester Kennerly, Mildred Kennerly, Miller, John Williams, Oscar Lapham, Bernard Alstreck, Roy MacPherson, Lewia Thomas, Walter Gerstel, Arthur Kelsey.

A pleasant affair was the recital given by Mrs. Dora Corbin at her residence, 60 East Morrison street, on last Friday evening, when her daughter, Miss Frances Corbin, was heard in a group of songs from Schubert, Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," with Professor J. J. Marion Wheeler as the accompanist, who also played the Gregorian chant for piano. Eichenlaub, "Hexon Tans" (in memoriam), and the piano numbers from the "Sketch Book." Miss Corbin has frequently sung for charity, but this is one of her first appearances under the patronage of her teacher. The guests were members of the Schuman Society and from surrounding towns.

Miss Jessie E. Morehead entertained a number of friends at her home, 333 Stanton street, Wednesday evening. Music and games were the features of the evening. Miss Christal Oakerman won the first prize and Miss Rose Du Boise the consolation prize in the gin-and-tongue contest. A dainty luncheon was served. Those present were: Miss Katherine O'Brien, Gertrude Kinsey, Thora Malm, Frances Streibig, Ida Howe, Emma Schwab, of St. Louis, Katherine Olander, May Fuchs, Minnie Pfenniger, Daisy Salmons, of Omaha, Grace Taylor, Martha Orth, Rose Du Boise, Grace Jones, Helen and Christal Oakerman, Nell Mattinson, Mesdames Small, Rager and M. F. Calkins and William Low.

By her playing of a programme of more than ordinary difficulty, Miss Ode Bartlett, at her recital Tuesday evening at Ellers Rectal Hall, demonstrated her undoubted talent as a pianist and won the unbounded admiration of her audience. She was particularly successful in the Variations Brillantes (Chopin) and the elaborate transcription of Wagner's "Parsifal Music" (Walkure). Her playing of the Schubert-Liszt "Du bist die Ruh" was extremely artistic, and her mental grasp of these three very contrasting pieces was most unusual for so young an artist.

Miss Mabel Downs sang with pleasing effect a group of songs, "The Rose in the Garden," "Gathering of the Lily," "Caldicot," "The Birth of Morn," "Leon" and "Waiting." Wright, at the last meeting of Mrs. Olga Hartsch-Lang's "B Sharp Club," the members of the club are: Bessie Douglas, Edith Gordon, B. L. Brown, May Wright, Lucila Curtis, G. Wilson, Florence Loller, Miss Dolan, Miss Strong and Mrs. Davis; Messrs. L. G. Lenon, S. McMullan, E. E. Wedemeyer, V. Bodley, O. Moran, L. Robinson, M. Jacobs, C. T. Wiese, F. E. KleinSmith.

The literature department of the Portland Study Club met with Mrs. Grismacher on Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Thoma's Green. The subject for the afternoon was "Washington Irving," and was ably handled by the leader, Mrs. Lawrence. An interesting general discussion followed, while quotations offered served to show Irving's versatility, faith, logic, satire, all were characteristics of the author of the Knickerbockers. An enjoyable social hour followed the close of the programme.

The Women's Relief Corps, of the Ben Butler Post, gave a dinner in Hunter's Hall, at Sunnyside, Wednesday evening, January 23. After dinner the following programme was carried out: Piano solo by Paul Harvey; Vocal solo by Mrs. Woodward; Tenting Tonight by Mrs. Alstine; The Dandy Fifth by Miss Hazel Johnson; Piano solo by Mrs. Sadie Ford; Recitation by Mrs. Ruggles; Piano solo by Mrs. Phillips.

Miss Grace Story and Mrs. Frank C. Kelsey gave the second in the series of studio-recitals at the home of Miss Story, 22 Thirteenth street, last Friday afternoon before a number of musical people. It was a suggestion programme, Mrs. Kelsey giving certain readings from Shakespeare and Browning, and Miss Story responding in musical numbers which embodied the same theme.

A very enjoyable time was spent Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Thoma's Healy, 429 Eugene street, to whom a pleasant surprise was tendered by Miss Cella Delaney and other friends. During the evening Irish and Scotch dances were merrily indulged in to the accompaniment of Peter Moore's violin. Miss Margaret Sharkey's "Echoes From Erin" on the piano were enjoyed. Songs from Mrs. Healy, Miss Rosner and Ernie Delaney were received with much appreciation. At a late hour a dainty lunch was served.

The "Faithful Few," 17 members of Fram Assembly, No. 12, United Artists, were tendered a banquet at the Vienna Cafe Tuesday evening, January 28. Will Pritchard acted as toastmaster.
