

THREATS OF WAR BRING DEFENSES

Legislators Are Willing to Give Departments More Appropriations.

MANY WORKS PLANNED

Fortifications Both at Home and Abroad Are to Be Strengthened. The More War Talk, the More Preparations for Peace.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—If the Japanese war scares had nothing else for the country, it apparently has put Congress into the mood to protect the Pacific.

President Roosevelt has talked peace consistently and constantly, and yet has urged armament, and Congress apparently is beginning to pay heed.

Naval Station for Hawaii.

Congress, no doubt, will sanction the project for building an adequate naval station on the Hawaiian Islands before adjournment.

Congress Willing This Year.

Neither House has kept pace in willingness to approve projects with the desire of the War and Navy Departments to have them carried out, but, except perhaps in the matter of building four great battleships, the legislators this year seem willing to go further in preparation for the time of war than they have ever gone.

Japanese Was Used as Club.

It would seem almost as if the shadow of trouble with the Japanese had been used by the Chief Executive and by the War and Navy Departments as a club with which to beat the legislators.

INVADES INDIVIDUAL RIGHT

Converted Prohibitionist Pleads Restrictive Liquor Laws.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The subcommittee of the Senate committee on judiciary, appointed to hold hearings on bills and resolutions providing for the withdrawal of Federal liquor licenses from prohibition states, today listened to arguments by members of the German-American Alliance and representatives of winegrowers' associations, directed against the passage of any measures of the kind proposed.

prohibition idea, but that she had found it to be a "fraud and a failure." She said that it was decreed in the Constitution that men should not be deprived of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and, therefore, it was outside the province of the Government to interfere with the liquor traffic by admitting that state's rights are supreme over the powers of the Federal Government.

MANY FLYING MACHINE BIDS

Forty-one Persons Willing to Build for Army.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Bids were received today in the Signal Office for supplying a flying machine of the heavier-than-air type, as set out in the specifications issued by General Allen, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, two months ago.

New Coinage in January.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The monthly coinage statement issued by the Director of the Mint today shows the amount of coinage executed at the United States mint during January, 1906, to have been $5,431,129, as follows: Gold, $3,064,950; silver, $2,366,179; minor coins, $360,000.

Debt Increases in January.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shown at the close of business January 31, 1906, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,462,225, an increase for the month of $8,078,896.

SURPLUS OVER RESERVE

Bank Statement Shows New York Is Becoming Glutted.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The statement of Clearing-House banks for the week shows that the banks hold $40,529,725 more than the requirements of the 25 per cent reserve rule. This is an increase of $1,462,225 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week. The statement follows:

Table with 4 columns: Item, Amount, Increase, Decrease.

The most notable feature of last week's official statement of the New York associated banks was the comparatively small increase in the reserve; this gain was $3,462,225, following a considerable augmentation in the immediately preceding weeks—14 2/3 millions in the week of January 25, 14 1/2 millions in that of January 18, and 17 2/3 millions in the week of January 11, which latter gain was the maximum record since the improvement in bank conditions began.

The increase in cash shown by last week's statement was $2,295,609; this agrees with the increase in the surplus which were based upon the traceable movements of money during the week. General deposits were increased $11,323,569, and the cash reserve was therefore augmented $2,833,275, reducing from the gain in cash leaves $3,462,225 as the increase in surplus reserve to $4,629,725, an excess of $4,715,400 deposits over loans for the first time since July, 1906.

bound for the suburbs. A special car was attached to the regular 4:39 express over the New York Central, and there was a 15-minute delay in the departure of the train.

From the moment that word came from the jury room at 12:40 P. M. that a report was about to be made, the closing events of the famous case moved almost with startling rapidity.

The report of last night that the jury stood 8 to 4 for acquittal on the ground of insanity persisted up to the very time it announced its intention of coming into court, and all concerned with the case had abandoned hope of a definite conclusion of the second trial.

Applause Quickly Stopped.

Few spectators were allowed in the room and an inchoate demonstration was stopped by the officers, when they arrested Theodore Roosevelt. He was a burst of applause. Bell was fined $25 by Justice Dowling for contempt of court.

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw and Joseph Thaw were the only members of the prisoner's family in court when the verdict was announced. The young woman thanked individually each member of the jury and followed Mr. Littleton's example in shaking hands with them.

Congratulations All Around.

Mr. Jerome congratulated Mr. Littleton and both counsel and jury joined in congratulations to Justice Victor J. Dowling, who presided at the trial with so much satisfaction to both sides.

The proceedings in the courtroom were brief and businesslike and at no time was there the semblance of a trial. Mrs. William Thaw, it was said tonight, had confidently expected that her son would be committed to some private institution and it was with surprise that she insisted upon habeas corpus proceedings being immediately begun.

THAW'S LIFE AT MATTEAWAN

Surrounded by Every Comfort, but Under Constant Surveillance.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—Harry K. Thaw will find conditions in the Matteawan asylum considerably different from those obtaining in the Tombs. His money will do much, of course, but the greatest comfort at Matteawan are not as complacent as those at the Tombs.

The verdict of the jury, it is said, takes all the odium of the charge of murdering Stanford White from Thaw's shoulders and he becomes at the asylum simply an inmate whose condition, while requiring attention from the attending physician, will not be so regarded as to place him in the class regarded of necessity as "dangerous."

WHY TAFT ENDED FIGHT

Every report that reached Washington was along these lines. It was agreed that some drastic action had to be taken, and it was Mr. Taft's letter to Mr. Parsons which was the remedy.
