

SOCIETY

MISS AGNES HILL whose engagement is announced to MR. HORACE CHAPMAN of New York.

THE consensus of opinion is that the assembly on Friday night at the Portland Hotel eclipsed all previous attempts in that direction in elaborateness and perfection, even to the minutest detail, while the gowns and jewels worn were unusually smart and attractive. To a complete account and lengthy list, which appeared in yesterday morning's Oregonian, the following names of officers of Vancouver Barracks and a few additional out-of-town guests are added: Lieutenant-Colonel S. R. Jones, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. W. H. Corbuser, Captain and Mrs. C. H. Martin, Captain and Mrs. L. S. Lyon, Lieutenant W. S. Wood, Lieutenant and Mrs. H. D. R. Zimmerman, Lieutenant G. W. Harris, Lieutenant E. J. Nowlen, Lieutenant G. V. Packer, Captain and Mrs. H. G. Shaw, Major A. N. Staff, Major and Mrs. A. P. Blockson, Miss Glass, Captain C. C. Laneing, Mr. Shearman, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Gue, New York City, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Parker, Dr. A. S. Nichols, Mr. Carroll Hurlbert, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Eyre, San Francisco.

LITTLE MARY ELIZABETH CORBETT DAUGHTER OF MR. & MRS. W. H. CORBETT

One of the largest card parties of the year is to be given at the Masonic Temple, West Park and Yamhill streets on Friday afternoon for the women's scholarship fund of the University of Oregon. The Oregon State Federation of Women's Clubs has inaugurated an educational loan fund for the women of the State, their aim being to help any worthy young woman to advancement along educational lines by a loan without interest for an indefinite time. Already $500 has been expended in this direction, and it is owing to the fact that funds are low that all the women's clubs are to unite in giving this benefit card party. Tables can be reserved by applying to Mrs. S. M. Blumauer. The patronesses are the presidents of the various clubs of the city, and are Miss Helen F. Spalding, Mrs. Frederick Eggert, Mrs. Stiles, Mrs. Ben Selling, Miss Elizabeth Matthews, and Mrs. Sarah A. Evans. Those conducting the affair and preparing and taking care of the tables will be Mrs. P. J. Mann, Mrs. Henry W. Coe, Mrs. H. M. Calk, Mrs. A. A. Courteney, Mrs. J. C. Hare, Mrs. W. J. Hoffmann, Mrs. Rose Hoyt, Mrs. Flora S. Hubert, Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. George W. McMullan, Mrs. McKinley Mitchell, Mrs. W. G. Moore, Mrs. James Muecke, Mrs. W. G. Perkins, Mrs. J. A. Pettit, Mrs. A. Steiner, Mrs. D. C. Stratton, Mrs. A. Thibet, Mrs. J. F. Toft, Mrs. B. F. Weaver, Mrs. Neustadter, Mrs. Meyers, Mrs. S. M. Blumauer is in charge of the floor. Several society girls will assist in serving.

Grand Canyon, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox who is now in California will also include Catalina in her itinerary. Colonel and Mrs. Thomas Handbury, who for six years were stationed in Portland, have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Ethelwynne C. Lewis to Mr. F. W. Ritter, of Tain, China. The wedding to take place on the 26th of March at No. 40 Bluff Road Yokohama, Japan, where Miss Lewis and her sister have resided the past year. Colonel and Mrs. Handbury having joined them there in November last. Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman are now domiciled in their attractive new residence on Portland Heights, plans for which were drawn by Mr. David C. Lewis and presented to them as a wedding gift. Dr. and Mrs. E. A. J. Mackenzie were hosts at a theater party on Monday, to see De Wolf Hopper in "Happyland," ing at the Oaks Rink as a benefit for the Oregon Yacht Club. The affair will be marked by many original features, and it is to be decidedly the largest party of this kind ever attempted here before. A number of informal dinners are to precede.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns and Miss Caroline Burns are to give a small dinner party at their residence on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Piper and family went to their Seattle cottage on Thursday, where they remained over the week-end.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker, en route to Fort Bliss, Texas, spent a day in Portland as guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gaudin. Their brief stay was made the occasion for a number of calls from Mrs. Parker's girlhood friends. Mrs. Parker was formerly Miss Kate Woolsey.

Mrs. Alma D. Katz entertained with bridge on Monday evening at her apartments on Twenty-third street, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Harry Gue, of New York City. Those accepting Mr. and Mrs. Katz's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. B. London, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Tarpley, Dr. and Mrs. Otis Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Wells Gilbert, Miss Morris, of Duluth, Minn., and W. H. Shearman, of Salt Lake. Following bridge, an informal musical was given by Mrs. Gue, who has a charming contralto voice. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ames were dinner hosts on Monday in honor of Mrs. Gue.

To Mrs. C. F. Beebe belongs the distinction of giving the initial party in Portland of duplicate bridge to the score. The guests were all enthusiastic bridge players, who met at her attractive residence at Kings Court on Thursday afternoon, and, under the direction of Miss A. B. Shelby, spent several hours in this delightful variation of the ever-interesting game. Duplicate bridge to the score is a recent innovation, as it is a comparative test of skill and retains all the essential features of bridge, of which the declaration and play to the score are among the most important. It is not surprising therefore that it is a veritable boon to scientific bridge players, and that it vies only with shot in general interest and popularity. Mrs. Beebe's guests included Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. Solomon, Hirsch, Miss Ella Hirsch, Mrs. Howard Mather, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mrs. George Good, Mrs. Morton Inesley, Mrs. William T. Muir, Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. R. E. Burns, Mrs. John Eben Young, Mrs. Arthur Minott, Miss Gilsan, Mrs. Samuel M. Meares, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. W. C. Alford, Mrs. Frederick Egbert, Miss Carlisle, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. J. Frank Watson, Mrs. John K. Kollock. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. J. Burns and Mrs. Wesley Ladd. Mrs. Gilsan cast and west.

Mrs. Frank Warren, Jr., will entertain with a few tables of bridge on Monday, in honor of Miss Ethel Corbett, of Princeton. Miss Grace Warren will also entertain with bridge on Friday for Miss Carothers, both affairs being very informal.

Mrs. Frederick Eggert has sent out cards for a large reception to be given Saturday, February 29, at the Hotel Portland, when the bride and groom, guests to meet Mrs. William Harold Staiger, a recent bride, who will be remembered as Miss Florence Blagen, who was formerly of Portland, but who has resided in latter years at Hoquiam, Wash. Mr. Staiger is a nephew of Mrs. Eggert.

Mr. George Gould and Mr. Benjamin Treat, both of Bangor, Maine, who are touring the West, have been guests while in Portland of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Buffum. Both Mr. Gould and Mr. Treat are cousins of Mr. H. W. Treat, of Bangor. From here they will go to Washington, where they will be entertained by the Treats. On Wednesday Mrs. Sarah Forbes asked several of her friends to meet Mr. Gould and Mr. Treat and to go horseback riding, and later followed it with a luncheon.

Mrs. E. D. Kingsley, a comparatively new arrival, was the hostess at a pretty reception on Friday afternoon at their residence on Cornell road, to which were bidden about 150 matrons to meet her mother and sister, Mrs. A. D. Wright and Miss Wright, of Chicago. Serving were Mrs. David Loring, Mrs. William McKendle, Mrs. Fred D. Chamberlain and Mrs. J. C. Robinson. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Frederic Strong, assisted by Miss Rosalind Kingsley and Miss Leslie Knapp.

A pleasant surprise last week was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Agnes Hill, the handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hill, to Mr. Horace E. Chapman, of New York, which was made known on Monday last at the residence of Miss Hill's sister, Mrs. Walter Gadsby, a bride of the year who was formerly Miss Beatrice Hill. Two other recent brides assisted in receiving, Mrs. Benjamin Gadsby, who was Miss Daisy Freeman, and Mrs. Ambrose Scott (Miss Frances Honeyman).

Mr. and Mrs. George Willard Brown have gone to California for a stay of short duration.

On Thursday Mrs. Marcus Fleischer entertained 30 matrons at bridge.

Walter J. Rosenfeld is now on a trip East, having left about a week ago. During his stay there he will combine business and pleasure and will visit Mrs. Helen, who is attending the Benjamin Deane School in New York City, and his brothers, James and Arthur, both of whom are attending the medical department of Johns Hopkins University. He will be gone about two months.

Mrs. William T. Muir is to give a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Frank Vincent on Monday, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ehrman were hosts at a theater and supper party on Thursday evening, asking Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Miss Flora Fleischer, Mrs. Flora Stern, Miss Mildred Rhinstrom, William Heller Ehrman, of San Francisco, Henry Metzger and Dr. Jonah B. Wise.

A change has been made in the date for the series of bridge-entertainment parties to be given by Miss Van Schuyler. Instead of entertaining on this coming Wednesday, as previously stated, she will entertain jointly with her mother, Mrs. W. J. Van Schuyler, of Thursday. The latter will again be a bridge hostess on Saturday.

Miss Gertrude White entertained at dinner Wednesday in honor of Mr. William Lipman, who leaves shortly for Europe, in company with Dr. Gustav Baar. The additional guests were Miss May Hirsch, Miss Florence Wolfe, Mr. Samuel Blinger and Mr. Herman Metzger.

Mrs. E. P. Marsh gave an informal tea on Thursday at her home on Portland Heights. The matrons in the

For several years it has been the pleasant custom of Multnomah Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to entertain February 22. This year Mrs. A. E. Rockey will again open her hospitable home for the event, and the chapter will present Miss Edith Coburn Noyes, a member of the faculty of the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, in Charles Rogers' brilliant comedy, "Peg Woffington." Miss Noyes comes with the enthusiastic recommendation of scholar, critic and public, and Multnomah Chapter feels its members are fortunate in being able to give this opportunity to their friends. She is said to possess in wonderful degree the art of self-effacement and the power of placing before the eyes of her audience characters as full of life and vitality as if they were present in material form. A reception and tea will follow the reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Cannon and little daughter Marjorie left Friday to spend a few days at Collins Hot Springs.

The most successful costume and character party of the season was that given by the Irvington Club Wednesday evening. About 50 guests were present, who appeared in picturesque costumes representing the different nations.

Mr. H. M. Carlock has been confined to his Willamette Heights residence, too ill to receive his friends.

John M. Scott, who is on a tour of California, has taken apartments for a February visit at Coronado Beach.

One of the largest and most successful teas of the season was that given on Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. B. Ayer for the benefit of the Visiting Nurses' Association. The cards had announced a Valentine tea and were accompanied by tiny bags, in which were to be placed coins for each year of the donor's life, which resulted in an increase of several hundred dollars to the treasury. The very handsome residence of Mrs. Ayer, with its objects d'art, is ideally situated for entertaining, and throughout the receiving hours there was a steady stream of callers. Presiding in the diningroom were Miss Virginia Wilson, Miss Valentine Prichard, Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. N. E. Ayer, and at the candy table were Miss Frances Lewis and Miss Dorothy Morrison. The following officers of the Association received with Mrs. Ayer, the president, Mrs. Millie H. Trumbull, vice-president, Mrs. Adolph Wolfe; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Biles; corresponding secretary, Miss E. A. Baldwin. The directors are: Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. George W. McBride, Mrs. R. J. Marsh, Miss Virginia Wilson, Mrs. P. J. Cronin, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. John Cran, Mrs. H. S. Galey, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. S. M. Blumauer, Mrs. James S. Reed, Miss Valentine Prichard and Mrs. R. B. Lamson.

Mrs. Walter Cooke and daughter Margaret have returned from a trip to California. While in the South, Mrs. Cooke was made the honor guest at a number of dinners and luncheons given by her former girl friends who attended the same private school in San Francisco.

Mrs. J. C. Robinson entertained with a few tables of bridge Thursday afternoon at her Kings Heights residence, in honor of Miss Davis, of New Jersey, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wallace McCamant.

Earle E. Grant, of the University of California, left yesterday as a delegate to the 57th Chi Psi convention, convening at St. Paul.
