Bortland, Gregon,

Feb. 21, 1908.

Morning Oregonian, City. Gentlemen:

As a result of last Sunday's advertising in The Oregonian we had numerous inquiries, as we always do. One particular ad, a two line classified, on a Portland Heights cottage brought a purchaser the first thing Monday morning. Another a small new today ad, on a couple of houses in South Portland brought a purchaser before noon. A week or so ago we kept count of the calls as a result of a small classified ad on Vancouver acreage and we had 37 inquiries before the printer's ink had been dry twenty-four hours. We find good immediate results from advertising in The Oregonian. It is sometimes surprising the number of inquiries that we receive from all parts of the Northwest and sometimes from Eastern cities and often long after the property advertised has been sold.

Yours very truly,

FOR RENT.
