When the Boys Leave Home

You mothers know what it means when the boy leaves home—only too well.

He's just at the impressionable age—associates, surroundings, everything—will leave a mark for good or ill.

He had to try his wings, of course. He'd never be quite a man till he did, but you would like to know what sort of position he has and the kind of home he's living in while he's away from you.

Well, you can know, and you can know before he leaves home by reading THE OREGONIAN WANT ADS—they'll settle it for you.

You know, there's a 59-year-old reputation behind those classified want columns. For 50 years they have stood for respectability and reliability, for the things worth while for boys like yours. Business men of the highest class are advertising in THE OREGONIAN WANT COLUMNS every day for young fellows brought up like your boy. He can't make a mistake in working for an Oregonian advertiser. Write to one of them and get the boy located before he leaves home.

And good families—your kind of folks—are advertising an extra room or two for rent in THE OREGONIAN WANT COLUMNS every day, trying to get somebody like your boy in them.

Write to them and find a home for him that will rank next to mother's.

So you see, you can follow him to the city, even though you don't leave the old home. You can have the comfort of knowing a good deal of what his new life is, though you're miles away, just by means of THE OREGONIAN CLASSIFIED WANT ADS.
