

Store Windows Blossom With Spring and Summer Footwear

Fancy Ties and Smart Pumps in Black, Tan and Brown Shades Will Soon Be Seen on City Sidewalks

THE time for relegating the heavy-soled, high-topped boot of winter, along with the protecting storm-rubbers, to the darkness of the shoe closet has come, and the glory of spring and summer footwear is in full blossom in the display windows.

Already the appeal of the April sunshine has been demonstrated in the occasional glimpse of low shoes, and with the general and official donning of spring attire on Easter, the fancy tie and the smart little pump will be in full swing.

The shoe merchants this year are offering particularly enticing styles in feminine footwear, and they are all of one voice as to the prevailing note: everything in shoes, slippers, pumps and ties will run to the tan and brown shades.

To be sure, a very smart line of black patent leathers are being shown, but even the smartest of these have uppers of brown novelty cloth or suede, and the ultra-fashionable thing in footwear will be the brown and tan.

Foot, it is also becoming when worn by the less fortunate.

vamp and large eyelets, and to be worn with particularly wide silk faces. The common sense, out-of-door, heavy-soled shoe of the season will be the style shown in No. 2, which has double-stitchings and is of an exceedingly durable cut. On the golf links, in camp and at the seashore this tie will be much in evidence. In the tan and brown shades this style will be the smart out-of-door staple for the Spring and Summer.

A natty, two-button low shoe, which comes in all the shades of brown and tan, and also in black, is shown in the central picture, No. 4. The button shoe, particularly the two-button style, is always smart and gives pretty lines to the foot.

One of the novelty low shoes is shown in No. 5, which is of black patent leather, with uppers of fancy brown novelty cloth and in the two-button style. Many smart combinations of cloth and leather will be worn in contrasting colors and of the same tone.

A pretty, soft slipper of brown suede is shown in No. 6. The smart little bow is also of the suede, held in place by a tiny gold buckle. The suede slipper will be in evidence in the important "leaders" and comes in various shades.

What is known as the "Colonial" shoe is shown in No. 7. With its large flap, set in the instep and large gold buckle, this bit of footwear is distinctly worthy of its name, and very quaint to look upon. Worn with a costume in harmony, it will be one of the fetching novelties of the season. It is of soft brown calf.

DAMPER PUT ON HIS JOY

YOUNG DUKE OF PORTLAND CANNOT CELEBRATE.

"Jacko" Gently Informed That Proposed Feast for Tenantry Might Bolster Up Druce Claim.

LONDON, April 4.—(Special.)—The Duke of Portland was so delighted at the collapse in court of the Druce claim for his large estates that he proposed, with grateful enthusiasm, to give a feast to his tenantry in celebration.

His grace is known to his intimates as "Jacko," which is admirably descriptive of his mind's construction and its workings.

He was intent on feasting his tenants until his agent suggested to him, gently, that if he did not take the Druce defeat as a matter of course, he openly rejoiced over it, the whole world would suppose that the claim had some basis at least.

Slowly, like the sun breaking through a London fog, this idea broke on the Duke.

"Jolly good thought of yours, old chap, those Druce fellows would have been pleased, wouldn't they?" he said.

So there is to be no burning of tar barrels, no bracing of beer canks to celebrate the bursting of the Druce bubble. But ever since the decision in his favor the Duke's countenance has shown a continuous and most joyous celebration of it, and as one after another Druce witness has been charged with perjury, his smile has grown until it can be described only as a jubilation.

While the claim seemed to have proofs behind it, the Duke was rather bluer than indigo, and was wont to say doubtfully:

"The last Duke was such a doped queer old chap and he carried on such tricks from time to time, how can I tell what he may have been up to? All this tale, or a good deal of it, may be true. How do I know?"

The Duchess of Portland, who is truly a grande dame, always trying to develop "Jacko's" intelligence, felt bitterly throughout the trial and never even mentioned the subject to her friends.

When the King of Spain, during his visit to Welbeck Abbey, rallied her about the claim, it is said that she chilled his warm Spanish blood to zero by her rigid bearing.

Defraud Working Girls.

PARIS, April 4.—(Special.)—Some milliners in the Rue de la Paix are, it appears, not over scrupulous at times in allowing young modistes to do unpaid work for them for a few days on the pretext of giving them a trial, after which they tell them to come no more, because they no longer need them. A girl of 15, who had just finished two

TRIBUTE TO JUDGE HAILEY

OREGON BAR ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Friends Eulogize Deceased Jurist as a Citizen, Lawyer, Judge, Husband and Father.

Scores of lawyers and friends of the late Judge Thomas G. Hailey attended a special meeting of the State Bar Association held at the Courthouse yesterday forenoon for the purpose of adopting a suitable memorial of the distinguished Oregon jurist. The committee lately appointed to draft a memorial was ready with that document and it was adopted without change after being read by Governor Chamberlain, chairman of the committee.

Eulogies of Judge Hailey were presented by W. D. Fenion, Judge E. C. Bronaugh and Judge Thomas O'Day, following the reading of the memorial. That document, after recording a brief history of Judge Hailey's life, took up his career as a public servant and summarized his many good qualities as a man and as a jurist. The memorial concludes as follows:

He came from sturdy pioneer parents, his father, Hon. John Hailey, having operated one of the earliest stage lines in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Utah, and later having served as an honored member of Congress from Idaho. Both parents survive, loved and honored by all who know them. From them the subject of this memorial inherited a strong mind, a splendid character, and an integrity of purpose which won him success in whatever he undertook to do.

As a student, he was loved by teacher and pupil alike, and his college life soon won a first place for his diligence and conscientious work. As a lawyer, he was studious and ambitious to occupy an exalted position in the profession, and by a strict observance of its ethics, won the respect of the bench and bar. As a judge he was disposed at all times to do justice, and to reach a conclusion which the law and the facts fully justified and warranted. As a public official, in whatever capacity he served the people, he was upright, fearless and honest. In his domestic life, he was a model husband and father, and as a friend, faithful in all things and willing to sacrifice his own interests to promote the welfare of those whom he loved.

In his death the state has lost a splendid citizen, the bench and bar one of its brightest ornaments, his family an indulgent husband and father, and his friends a loyal and lovable companion.

Your committee therefore beg leave to suggest that the foregoing memorial be spread upon the records of this court in token of the appreciation of the bench and bar of the services of Thomas Griffin Hailey to his state, and that a copy thereof, under the seal of the court, be forwarded to his family.

The committee was made up of Governor Chamberlain, Judge R. King, Judge S. A. Lowell, Judge Will R. King, and Will Minor.

Turkish Officer's Rank.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 4.—(Special.)—An Austrian subject, a schoolmaster attached to Constantinople Austrian Academy, was waylaid and robbed the other night in the neighborhood of his house by four men, one of whom was an aide-de-camp of the Sultan. This officer held the Austrian's arms behind his back while the other assailant rifled his pockets of all their contents.

It is, of course, no new thing to have officers in high position indulging in sport and crime of this nature, but since Fehim Pasha's disgrace no such flagrant case in connection with a European subject has occurred.

It is feared that unless the Austrian Embassy insists on exemplary punishment of the malefactors, and especially their chief, the latter may be encouraged to persevere in the paths of Fehim and other licensed highwaymen.

Lord Aberdeen's sons, the Hon. Dudley and the Hon. Archie Gordon, have strongly developed mechanical aptitudes and worked for a time as ordinary apprentices in one of the big shipbuilding yards in Aberdeen.

A NEW YORK SINGER WHO APPEARED BEFORE A LARGE AUDIENCE TUESDAY EVENING

MISS ESTHER M. PLUMB.

A musical was given on Tuesday evening, March 31, by Mrs. Frank Rubin, of 341 East Ninth Street, North, in honor of Miss Esther M. Plumb, of New York City. This occasion was a brilliant one, the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Rubin lending itself most effectively to the giving of an affair of this nature. Miss Plumb is a singer of National reputation, but is touring this Western country only in a semi-professional manner. Portland had not been one of the cities in which she will appear publicly. In view of this, the opportunity given to Portland musicians to hear her was much appreciated one. The New York Musical Courier has the following to say of Miss Plumb:

"The vocal soloist, Miss Plumb, of New York, has one of the finest dramatic contralto voices heard this season; a voice better adapted to grand opera than chamber concert singing. Prolonged applause followed the rendition of Miss Plumb's first number, 'Ah! Sentite Anco' Mi Vueli,' to which she responded with a choice bit by Brahms. Her other number was 'The Nun,' by Schubert, which she sang in a manner equally brilliant, and with fine understanding of the dramatic values of the composition."

A number of Portland's best musicians were present and contributed their share to the evening's entertainment. Among them were Mrs. Walter Reed, J. Claire Monfeth, Miss Kathleen Lawler, Miss Frances Hatcher, pianist; Miss Ethel Lytle, Miss Estelle, Miss Louise Gregory, violinists; Mrs. Mac Desbora, Schwab, Mr. Hodgson and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas as accompanist.

A Nemo SELF-REDUCING CORSET

FOR EVERY STOUT WOMAN

MORE than a million stout women know that the Nemo Self-Reducing is the only corset that positively reduces the abdomen with perfect comfort and hygienic safety.

EVERY woman who has worn it knows that the Nemo Self-Reducing Corset is superior to all others in comfort, style and durability—that it is an extraordinary value simply as a corset, saving nothing about its invaluable and exclusive special features.

FOR 1908 are nine handsome models, all pictured here; a model for every stout woman—tall and stout, short and stout, or just "fat and dumpy." And there's a price to suit every purse.

At $3.50 The old favorites, Nos. 312 and 314, of which nearly a million pairs were sold in 1907; and for women who want the new "slender-hip" effect are the two new "Flating-Back" models, Nos. 318 and 320, at the same price—$3.50.

At $5.00 Somewhat finer are the Mercier Broadened Corsets, Nos. 516 and 518; the French Contil Corsets with bust supporters, No. 515; and the beautiful new "Flating-Back" model, No. 517—all these at $5.00.

At $10 For women of luxurious tastes, who have paid $15 to $25 for imported corsets, is the superb No. 1000 with "Flating-Back" and the new "Duplex Straps," at $10.00. This is the finest corset that can be made—superior in every respect to the best that come from France. It will do wonders for any stout figure, giving it the graceful lines of youth.

Economy Our enormous output of Self-Reducing Corsets insures stout women a saving of at least one-half what they are accustomed to pay. One Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, at $3.50, will outwear three average $1.00 corsets.

The Nemo Corset is the only corset that is more than a corset. The only one that has exclusive features of great hygienic merit. The only one that does something for you that no other corset can do.

You will find NEMO CORSETS in all good stores throughout the world.
